PROTEST FROM CHINA.

Objects to General Otis' Chinese Exclusion Order.

DECLARED AN UNFRIENDLY ACT.

The Imperial Government Also Asserts That the Order Is Contrary to International Law—Declared a Violation of Existing Treaties.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19.—The imperial Chinese government, through its minister here, Mr. Wu Ting-Fang, has lodged with the state department an emphatic protest against the military order of General Otis, excluding Chinese from the Philippines, which he issued without first consulting the government.

Neither the state department nor the Chinese legation will give any information concerning the protest, but from entirely reliable quarters it is learned that it insists that General Otis' "action is contrary to international law, in violation of existing treaties, and in complete disregard of the friendly relations which have been so long maintained between the two countries."

CHASED BY GUNBOATS.

British Vessels, Suspected of Filibustering, Brought To and Identity Learned by U. S. Warships.

HONGKONG, Sept. 19.—The American gunboat Pampango chased the British steamer Yuen-Sang from Manila to Hongkong. The gunboat sighted the steamer during the night of Sept. 13, about 30 miles off the north coast of the island of Luzon, and suspected that she was a filibuster.

The Pampango fired three shots, which Yuen-Sang disregarded, until the third shell exploded near her. She then stopped and the commander of the gunboat boarded the Yuen-Sang, found he had made a mistake and apologized.

An American gunboat, name unknown, followed the British steamer Diamte, bound from Manila to Hongkong. The warship sighted the steamer near Subig bay during the night of Sept. 16 and whistled signals to stop. The signals were disregarded and the gunboat ran alongside the Diamte, getting so close that her guns tore away the Diamte's outrigging. Her passengers were thrown into a panic. The gunboat, on learning the identity of the steamer, sheered off.

Delivery of Prisoners Blocked.

LONDON, Sept. 19.—A dispatch to Reuter's Telegram company, from Hongkong, says advices from Manila announce that Aguinaldo is willing to release all sick and civilian Spanish prisoners, but, it is added, Major General Otis refuses to allow Spanish vessels to proceed to Filipino ports to receive them.

STATE DINNER FOR DEWEY.

President Has Partial Arrangements Made—Miles Selected Corbin at Chief-of-Staff.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19.—Partial arrangements have been made at the White House for the dinner which President McKinley will give Admiral Dewey. It will be held on the evening of Oct. 3 at 8 o'clock in the state dining room. The list of guests will be limited to 50 and will consist of prominent officers of the navy and army and high officials of the government.

Arrangements for the national reception to Admiral Dewey in this city Oct. 2 and 3 are being rapidly completed. General Nelson A. Miles, the marshal of the parade, has announced the selection of Adjutant General Corbin as his chief of staff and Major John A. Johnson, assistant adjutant general, chief aide-de-camp. The parade will consist of about 20,000 men, representing military and naval, civic, patriotic, labor and secret organizations.

The escort which will accompany Admiral Dewey to the Capitol at noon on Oct. 3, where he will be presented by Secretary Long the sword voted to him by congress, will be mounted and consist of the visiting governors of the states and their staffs, representatives of the army, the navy and the executive branches of the government and prominent citizens of the capital.

Dewey's Chinamen Can Land.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19. — Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Spalding has issued an order allowing the three unenlisted Chinamen aboard Admiral Dewey's flagship Olympia to land in New York.

ODD FELLOWS WELCOMED.

A Summary of the Condition of the Order by Secretary Grant.

DETROIT, Sept. 19.—Hard, persistent rain fell on opening day of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows' diamond jubilee. Public welcomes were extended at the Detroit Opera House by Mayor Maybury and Michigan Odd Fellow officials. Last night the visiting ladies were entertained in Light infantry armory by the Union Rebekah degree staff of this city.

Grand Secretary and Adjutant General Grant gave the following as the summary of the condition of the order December 31, 1898: Sovereign grand lodge, 1; independent grand lodges, (Australasia, Denmark, Germany, Sweden and Switzerland) 5; subordinate grand lodges, 65; subordinate grand encampments, 55; subordinate lodges, 11,796; subordinate encampments, 2,641; lodge members, 859,829; encampment members, 128,267; Rebekah lodges, 5,071; number of Rebekah members, 313,163.

The whole increase in all branches of order for the year was 30,225. The report showed the relief expenditures by lodges to be $3,126,050; relief by encampments, $249,786, by Rebekah lodges $47,149, making a total of $3,422,986. The total expenses of subordinate lodges figures $4,159,726. The revenue of subordinate lodges amounted to $7,752,283; subordinate encampments, $570,762; Rebekah lodges, $443,348; total, $8,766,393. The total invested funds aggregate $27,185,241.

JOHNSON AT THE HEAD.

To Have Charge of Preparations For Next Democratic National Campaign. Headquarters at Chicago.

CHICAGO, Sept. 19.—Chicago will be the working center of the Democratic national committee during the campaign in preparation for the next presidential election.

This was decided at a meeting of the executive committee held here, thus definitely settling rumors that the headquarters would be changed.

J. G. Johnson of Kansas, it was decided, will have charge of the work, remaining here in charge of the headquarters office. Those present at the conference were: Ex-Governor Stone, J. G. Johnson, J. M. Head of Tennessee, George Fred Williams of Massachusetts, J. M. Guffey of Pennsylvania and J. B. O'Brien of Minnesota.

"We discussed some plans for the organization of our forces for effective work," said ex-Governor Stone in speaking of the meeting. "But as yet they are so chaotic that an account of them would not enlighten the public. It was decided that the members of the executive committee meet in Chicago every 60 days to confer with Mr. Johnson and to aid him in carrying out our plans."

Mr. Johnson will take charge of the active work of the ways and means and press committees, and within two weeks will come to Chicago to open up headquarters. Senator Jones, chairman of the Democratic national committee, will arrive in New York Oct. 6, and two days later he will meet Mr. Johnson either in Chicago or St. Louis.

The national committee adopted a "harmony" call as follows:

The national committee of the Democratic party in session at Chicago to consider the work of party organization preparatory to the campaign of 1900, sends greeting to the Democracy of the nation, with the assurance that the prospect of Democratic success next year grows brighter every day, and we have every reason for confidence as to the outcome. The great need now is party unity and thorough organization. The committee appeals, therefore, to our party friends in all the states, and especially in the states where elections are to be held this year, to put aside all local differences wherever they exist and support the regular party tickets earnestly and enthusiastically, keeping always in view the great struggle of next year and remembering that in unity there is strength and in division weakness. Especially do we appeal to the Kentucky Democracy to give loyal support to the regular ticket in that state, headed by Mr. Goebel, and thereby make a sure Democratic victory in the state and the return of Senator Blackburn to the senate of the United States.

The executive committee, ways and means committee and press committee of the Democratic national committee were in session all day. Secretary Chas. A. Walsh was made a member ex-officio of all the committees and secretary of each. Nothing but organization work was discussed in the committees. It was determined to spread the ways and means system of collecting funds over more states. Samuel B. Cook, general manager of that committee, made his report and, although the details were not made public, it was learned that the committee has in the neighborhood of $100,000 pledged and about $20,000 on hand.

DISTURBED BY LABOR UNIONS.

Preparations For Chicago Cornerstone Laying Suspended.

CHICAGO, Sept. 19.—The difficulties between the labor unions and the committee of arrangements of the Chicago fall festival reached a climax when instructions were issued from festival headquarters suspending all preparations for the celebration until the difficulties with organized labor are definitely settled.

A letter was sent by Chairman Trunx to the various committee chairmen advising them to stop the further payment of funds until it is definitely known whether the labor unions will carry out their announced intention of declaring a strike on the federal building and on the festival arches unless the cornerstone to be used in the federal building is discarded and one cut out by union labor substituted.

At Christian Endeavorers' Behest.

SCRANTON, Pa., Sept. 19.—At the behest of Christian Endeavor City union the 20-round fight between Jimmy Judge and "Australian Paddy" Gorman did not take place, Sheriff Ryan serving notice on Gaiety theater people not to attempt to pull off the fight.

ON TRIAL FOR TREASON

French Senate Acts as a High Court.

DEROULEDE AND OTHERS ACCUSED.

The Plotting of the Royalists So Ridiculous That Points In the Bill of Indictment Caused Laughter—Trial Postponed For a Time.

PARIS, Sept. 19.—The senate met as a high court of justice for the purpose of trying 22 politicians, including Messrs. de Monicourt, Deroulede, Marcel Habert, Thiebaud, Baron de Vaux and Jules Guerin on the charge of conspiring against the government.

The procurator general, M. Bernard, read the long indictment, when the senate entered into secret session to discuss the indictment and determine the questions relating to the preliminary inquiry which is to be ordered.

The public and press galleries were crowded and the senators' places were filled. Not one of the accused were present or in the palace.

The indictment evoked frequent outbursts of derisive laughter and ironical comment at the expense of the royalists, and especially on the reading of the various telegrams exchanged and the failure of the plots.

At the conclusion of the reading of indictment M. Bernard and his colleagues left the senate and M. Fallieres ordered the senators to sit behind closed doors.

On the resumption of the public sitting, M. Fallieres announced that the senate had decided by a vote of 234 against 32 to allow prisoners to be represented by counsel during the preliminary inquiry, but that the question of the competence of the senate to sit as a high court to try the charges had been adjourned until after the conclusion of the preliminary inquiry.

This is tantamount to an adjournment of the high court for several weeks at least. Most of the senators were present when the announcement was made, but there were few persons in the public and press galleries.

The general comment in the senate lobbies was that the indictment displayed the ridiculous, but still criminal character of the royalists intrigues to overthrow the republic.

DIED IN PHILIPPINES.

A List of Victims of Various Diseases Reported by Cable by General Otis.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19.—In a cablegram General Otis announced the following deaths since last report: Nephretis, acute, Sept. 9, James M. Leach, Company A, Seventeenth infantry; 13th, James J. Higgins, C, Twenty-first infantry; pneumonia, 3d, William B. Goldthwaite, recruit, Twenty-third infantry; 8th, Henry Beck, A, Nineteenth infantry; homicide, shot by comrade at Pasay, 10th, Charles F. Wilson, C, Fourth cavalry; typhoid fever, 12th, Corporal Matthew Kellher, L, Seventeenth infantry; John W. Hayes, B, Ninth infantry; dysentery, chronic, Quartermaster Sergeant Jas. Harrington, A, Fourteenth infantry; 13th, Sergeant Martin Miller, E, First artillery; Conley A. Ingle, G, Sixteenth infantry; 14th, William T. Henry, D, Fourth infantry; 16th, Cook George Sleier, G, Twenty-second infantry; fever, remittant malarial, 12th, Otto Johnson, F, Fourteenth infantry; 13th, Henry L. McMallon, K, Twelfth infantry; meningitis, cerebral, 14th, Frank Seil, B, Fourteenth infantry; diarrhoea, sub-acute, 15th, Philip Morris, L, Fourth infantry.

A FLURRY IN STOCKS.

A Bear Raid Caused Great Fluctuations on the New York Market.

NEW YORK, Sept. 19.—There was a stock market of unusual volume, the dealings being in all over 1,000,000 shares. At the start it was swamped by selling orders, and the brokers whose customers ordered them to sell at the market offered them down to low points to tempt bidders, who were deterred by the condition of the money market, or, being in the confidence of the bear clique, knew at what point it was their opportunity to come into profitable dealings through shrinkage of values.

In the flurry some important declines occurred, but the market rallied. The transactions had to do with 155 stocks. Of these 135 declined net from 10½ points, in the case of Buffalo, Rochester and Pittsburg, preferred, to one-eighth of a point. The aggregate net decline of the 135 stocks was 170⅜ points, or more than 1¼ points each.

50,000 MEN FOR TEN YEARS.

Officer Said That Many Would Be Needed to Keep Peace In Luzon.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 19.—Major S. R. Jones, U. S. A., who has been quartermaster at Manila ever since that city was captured by the Americans, was a passenger on the Coptic, which arrived from Hongkong and Yokohama via Honolulu.

He will report to Washington. When Major Jones left Manila a forward movement in the rain and mud was being made against the insurgents. He is of the opinion that 50,000 men will have to be kept on the island of Luzon for ten years in order to keep the peace, but that the actual fighting will not last six weeks when that number of Americans have landed at Manila.

PROTEST FOR SCHLEY.

Friends Oppose Assignment—Schley Said He Would Go Where Ordered. Department's Explanation.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19. — Governor Lowndes, Senator Wellington, Mayor Malster of Baltimore and General Felix Agnus called upon the president and formally protested against the assignment of Rear Admiral Schley to command the South Atlantic station on the ground that it was not commensurate with his dignity and the service he had rendered during the Spanish-American war.

The protest was made voluntarily and without Admiral Schley's knowledge. The president listened attentively to what the Maryland Republican leaders had to say, but gave no indication of what he would do. The delegation were with him about half an hour.

Admiral Schley arrived in the city from New York, and today will call upon the president to pay his respects and to announce his readiness to accept the command of the South Atlantic squadron, or any other duty to which the president may assign him. "I am a sailor," said Admiral Schley, "and will obey orders."

At the navy department it was stated that no order had yet been issued to Admiral Schley, but he had been advised to hold himself in readiness to perform that duty. It was expected, it was said, that if the assignment was distasteful to him, or he regarded it as beneath his dignity, he would inform the department of that fact, and it was not at all likely that he would be forced to accept.

It was also stated that if Admiral Schley would not accept the assignment there was nothing left to give him, as there were no ships available to form a European squadron and no shore command fitting for his rank.

TRUSTS SHOULD BE DESTROYED.

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 19.—Governor Joseph D. Sayers of Texas, the originator of the anti-trust conference between governors and attorneys general, which is to open here tomorrow, Attorney General Smith of Texas, Governor Jones and Attorney General Davis of Arkansas and Governor Stephens and Attorney General Crow of Missouri arrived in the city.

He asserts that the conference will be distinctly inimical to trusts. The only question in his mind is whether trusts should be regulated or abolished. This, he thinks, is the question that will be dwelt upon chiefly in the discussion. He favors their destruction.

Budke Was Nominated.

WASHINGTON, Pa., Sept. 19.—John F. Budke, the Canonsburg iron manufacturer, was nominated for state senator in the Forty-sixth district (Washington and Greene counties), by the Republican committee of Washington county. At the last moment it was announced that Ralph C. McConnell, the ex-district attorney of Washington, would be Budke's opponent, but he received only one vote. Another single vote went to Hon. George V. Lawrence of Monongahela, who was not a candidate. Budke received 74 votes.

Winslow Married Miss Havemeyer.

NEWPORT, R. I., Sept. 19.—Lieutenant Commander Cameron McR. Winslow, U. S. N., who distinguished himself at Cienfuegos during the war with Spain, and Miss Dora Havemeyer, daughter of Mrs. Theodore A. Havemeyer of New York, were married here in the presence of a large and fashionable assembly. The officiating clergyman was Rev. Father Farrell of New York, assisted by Rev. Father Meenan of St. Mary's church, this city.

Officers Slated For Coal Combine.

CLEVELAND, Sept. 19.—A "slate" was prepared for the election of officers of the Pittsburg Coal company, the rail coal mine combination by, directors to meet today or tomorrow, as follows: President, F. M. Osborne, Cleveland; secretary, C. W. Bain, Cleveland; treasurer, Upson Andrews, Pittsburg; chairman executive board, F. E. Robbins, Pittsburg.

Elias Hatfield Was Convicted.

WILLIAMSON, W. Va., Sept. 19.—After being out about five hours the jury in the case against Elias Hatfield, Jr., for killing H. E. Ellis at Gray on July 3, returned a verdict of guilty of murder in the second degree. Under the laws of West Virginia the sentence will be from 5 to 18 years' imprisonment in the state penitentiary.

Dreyfus May Live In England.

LONDON, Sept. 19.—It was reported that Maitre Labori and Madame Dreyfus visited Folkestone, five miles from Dover, Saturday and engaged apartments, where Madame Dreyfus and her children will dwell in the event of her husband's pardon.

INTERVENTION ASKED.

Orange Free State Asks United States to Act.

BOERS PLANT GUNS ON BORDER.

Transvaal State Secretary Declared That the Country's Decision Was In Conjunction With the Orange Free State. Activity In Government Offices.

LONDON, Sept. 19.—The Cape Town correspondent of The Daily Mail said:

"The United States consul in Cape Town has gone to Bloemfontain at the request of the government of the Orange Free State to confer regarding the crisis. The Orange Free State executive is anxious to secure American intervention.

"Boer spies infest all the border towns. Ten thousand troops will be dipatched, to Kimberley within a week. Five hundred started and others will go forward today."

The members of the Afrikander bund in Cape Town intend to convene the bund in congress to consider the situation.

A Bloemfontain paper reports the dismissal of several Englishmen from the Bloemfontain police force because of their refusal to serve on the commando.

PRETORIA, Sept. 19.—The Transvaal state secretary, F. W. Reitz, in the course of an interview declared that the government, the volksraad and the people were unanimous regarding the attitude which the Transvaal had assumed, and that there was no foundation whatever for the reports of differences.

Mr. Reitz also asserted that the Transvaal's decision was arrived at in conjunction with the Grange Free State.

The volksraad readopted the mining article in the gold law, eliminated last year, empowering the government to confiscate the claims and mines belonging to people convicted of treason or conspiracy against the state, and empowering the government to order that the mines be worked and, if this instruction is disregarded, to work them through its own agents. The readopted article comes into force immediately.

LONDON, Sept. 19.—War risks on consignments to the Transvaal were quoted at a premium of 50 per cent yesterday, and all the markets were very sensitive and excited.

The Daily Chronicle points out this morning that the Orange Free State "would probably better serve the Transvaal by remaining neutral than by active assistance, because the easiest route for marching troops to Johannesburg and Pretoria lies between Orange river and Vaal river."

The Cape Town correspondent of The Daily Chronicle says:

"It is reported here that Conyngham Greene, British diplomatic agent at Pretoria, fears that an attempt will be made to dynamite the British agency."

Mr. Chamberlain came to London from Birmingham yesterday afternoon and spent the evening at the colonial office. While there he received a dispatch from Lord Salisbury, who is at Hatfield House and sent a special messenger, without dispatches, to the premier.

There has been a lively interchange of dispatches between the foreign, war and colonial offices, but no summons has yet been issued for a cabinet council.

Long dispatches were sent last evening to the viceroy of India, Lord Curzon, and to the British high commissioner in South Africa, Sir Alfred Milner.

General Lord Garnet Wolsley, field marshal and commander-in-chief, returned to London yesterday and immediately repaired to the war office, where he remained busily employed the greater part of the day.

Probably All Perished.

LONDON, Sept. 19.—A boat containing the captain and 11 men from the French steamer Dunrae, reported on Saturday to have foundered off the island of Elba, in the Mediterranean, is feared to have sunk with all on board.

Destitution Among Strikers.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Sept, 19.—Much destitution is said to exist among the families of the striking miners in Nanticoke. An appeal has been issued. Local merchants helped.

Actor McClennin Fell Dead.

A FLURRY IN STOCKS.

A Bear Raid Caused Great Fluctuations on the New York Market.

NEW YORK, Sept. 19.—There was a stock market of unusual volume, the dealings being in all over 1,000,000 shares. At the start it was swamped by selling orders, and the brokers whose customers ordered them to sell at the market offered them down to low points to tempt bidders, who were deterred by the condition of the money market, or, being in the confidence of the bear clique, knew at what point it was their opportunity to come into profitable dealings through shrinkage of values.

In the flurry some important declines occurred, but the market rallied. The transactions had to do with 155 stocks. Of these 135 declined net from 10½ points, in the case of Buffalo, Rochester and Pittsburg, preferred, to one-eighth of a point. The aggregate net decline of the 135 stocks was 170⅜ points, or more than 1¼ points each.

50,000 MEN FOR TEN YEARS.

Officer Said That Many Would Be Needed to Keep Peace In Luzon.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 19.—Major S. R. Jones, U. S. A., who has been quartermaster at Manila ever since that city was captured by the Americans, was a passenger on the Coptic, which arrived from Hongkong and Yokohama via Honolulu. He will report to Washington. When Major Jones left Manila a forward movement in the rain and mud was being made against the insurgents. He is of the opinion that 50,000 men will have to be kept on the island of Luzon for ten years in order to keep the peace, but that the actual fighting will not last six weeks when that number of Americans have landed at Manila.

PROTEST FOR SCHLEY.

Friends Oppose Assignment—Schley Said He Would Go Where Ordered. Department's Explanation.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19. — Governor Lowndes, Senator Wellington, Mayor Malster of Baltimore and General Felix Agnus called upon the president and formally protested against the assignment of Rear Admiral Schley to command the South Atlantic station on the ground that it was not commensurate with his dignity and the service he had rendered during the Spanish-American war.

The protest was made voluntarily and without Admiral Schley's knowledge. The president listened attentively to what the Maryland Republican leaders had to say, but gave no indication of what he would do. The delegation were with him about half an hour.

Admiral Schley arrived in the city from New York, and today will call upon the president to pay his respects and to announce his readiness to accept the command of the South Atlantic squadron, or any other duty to which the president may assign him. "I am a sailor," said Admiral Schley, "and will obey orders."

At the navy department it was stated that no order had yet been issued to Admiral Schley, but he had been advised to hold himself in readiness to perform that duty. It was expected, it was said, that if the assignment was distasteful to him, or he regarded it as beneath his dignity, he would inform the department of that fact, and it was not at all likely that he would be forced to accept.

It was also stated that if Admiral Schley would not accept the assignment there was nothing left to give him, as there were no ships available to form a European squadron and no shore command fitting for his rank.

TRUSTS SHOULD BE DESTROYED.

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 19.—Governor Joseph D. Sayers of Texas, the originator of the anti-trust conference between governors and attorneys general, which is to open here tomorrow, Attorney General Smith of Texas, Governor Jones and Attorney General Davis of Arkansas and Governor Stephens and Attorney General Crow of Missouri arrived in the city.

He asserts that the conference will be distinctly inimical to trusts. The only question in his mind is whether trusts should be regulated or abolished. This, he thinks, is the question that will be dwelt upon chiefly in the discussion. He favors their destruction.

Budke Was Nominated.

WASHINGTON, Pa., Sept. 19.—John F. Budke, the Canonsburg iron manufacturer, was nominated for state senator in the Forty-sixth district (Washington and Greene counties), by the Republican committee of Washington county. At the last moment it was announced that Ralph C. McConnell, the ex-district attorney of Washington, would be Budke's opponent, but he received only one vote. Another single vote went to Hon. George V. Lawrence of Monongahela, who was not a candidate. Budke received 74 votes.

Winslow Married Miss Havemeyer.

NEWPORT, R. I., Sept. 19.—Lieutenant Commander Cameron McR. Winslow, U. S. N., who distinguished himself at Cienfuegos during the war with Spain, and Miss Dora Havemeyer, daughter of Mrs. Theodore A. Havemeyer of New York, were married here in the presence of a large and fashionable assembly. The officiating clergyman was Rev. Father Farrell of New York, assisted by Rev. Father Meenan of St. Mary's church, this city.

INTERVENTION ASKED.

Orange Free State Asks United States to Act.

BOERS PLANT GUNS ON BORDER.

Transvaal State Secretary Declared That the Country's Decision Was In Conjunction With the Orange Free State. Activity In Government Offices.

LONDON, Sept. 19.—The Cape Town correspondent of The Daily Mail said:

"The United States consul in Cape Town has gone to Bloemfontain at the request of the government of the Orange Free State to confer regarding the crisis. The Orange Free State executive is anxious to secure American intervention.

"Boer spies infest all the border towns. Ten thousand troops will be dipatched to Kimberley within a week. Five hundred started and others will go forward today."

The members of the Afrikander bund in Cape Town intend to convene the bund in congress to consider the situation.

A Bloemfontain paper reports the dismissal of several Englishmen from the Bloemfontain police force because of their refusal to serve on the commando.

PRETORIA, Sept. 19.—The Transvaal state secretary, F. W. Reitz, in the course of an interview declared that the government, the volksraad and the people were unanimous regarding the attitude which the Transvaal had assumed, and that there was no foundation whatever for the reports of differences.

Mr. Reitz also asserted that the Transvaal's decision was arrived at in conjunction with the Grange Free State.

The volksraad readopted the mining article in the gold law, eliminated last year, empowering the government to confiscate the claims and mines belonging to people convicted of treason or conspiracy against the state, and empowering the government to order that the mines be worked and, if this instruction is disregarded, to work them through its own agents. The readopted article comes into force immediately.

LONDON, Sept. 19.—War risks on consignments to the Transvaal were quoted at a premium of 50 per cent yesterday, and all the markets were very sensitive and excited.

The Daily Chronicle points out this morning that the Orange Free State "would probably better serve the Transvaal by remaining neutral than by active assistance, because the easiest route for marching troops to Johannesburg and Pretoria lies between Orange river and Vaal river."

The Cape Town correspondent of The Daily Chronicle says:

"It is reported here that Conyngham Greene, British diplomatic agent at Pretoria, fears that an attempt will be made to dynamite the British agency."

Mr. Chamberlain came to London from Birmingham yesterday afternoon and spent the evening at the colonial office. While there he received a dispatch from Lord Salisbury, who is at Hatfield House and sent a special messenger, without dispatches, to the premier.

There has been a lively interchange of dispatches between the foreign, war and colonial offices, but no summons has yet been issued for a cabinet council.

Long dispatches were sent last evening to the viceroy of India, Lord Curzon, and to the British high commissioner in South Africa, Sir Alfred Milner.

General Lord Garnet Wolsley, field marshal and commander-in-chief, returned to London yesterday and immediately repaired to the war office, where he remained busily employed the greater part of the day.

EVENING NEWS REVIEW.

15TH YEAR. NO. 86. EAST LIVERPOOL, O., TUESDAY, SEPT. 19, 1899. TWO CENTS

PROTEST FROM CHINA.

Objects to General Otis' Chinese Exclusion Order.

DECLARED AN UNFRIENDLY ACT.

The Imperial Government Also Asserts That the Order Is Contrary to International Law—Declared a Violation of Existing Treaties.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19.—The imperial Chinese government, through its minister here, Mr. Wu Ting-Fang, has lodged with the state department an emphatic protest against the military order of General Otis, excluding Chinese from the Philippines, which he issued without first consulting the government.

Neither the state department nor the Chinese legation will give any information concerning the protest, but from entirely reliable quarters it is learned that it insists that General Otis' "action is contrary to international law, in violation of existing treaties, and in complete disregard of the friendly relations which have been so long maintained between the two countries."

CHASED BY GUNBOATS.

British Vessels, Suspected of Filibustering, Brought To and Identity Learned by U. S. Warships.

HONGKONG, Sept. 19.—The American gunboat Pampango chased the British steamer Yuen-Sang from Manila to Hongkong. The gunboat sighted the steamer during the night of Sept. 13, about 30 miles off the north coast of the island of Luzon, and suspected that she was a filibuster.

The Pampango fired three shots, which Yuen-Sang disregarded, until the third shell exploded near her. She then stopped and the commander of the gunboat boarded the Yuen-Sang, found he had made a mistake and apologized.

An American gunboat, name unknown, followed the British steamer Diamte, bound from Manila to Hongkong. The warship sighted the steamer near Subig bay during the night of Sept. 16 and whistled signals to stop. The signals were disregarded and the gunboat ran alongside the Diamte, getting so close that her guns tore away the Diamte's outrigging. Her passengers were thrown into a panic. The gunboat, on learning the identity of the steamer, sheered off.

Delivery of Prisoners Blocked.

LONDON, Sept. 19.—A dispatch to Reuter's Telegram company, from Hongkong, says advices from Manila announce that Aguinaldo is willing to release all sick and civilian Spanish prisoners, but, it is added, Major General Otis refuses to allow Spanish vessels to proceed to Filipino ports to receive them.

STATE DINNER FOR DEWEY.

President Has Partial Arrangements Made—Miles Selected Corbin at Chief-of-Staff.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19.—Partial arrangements have been made at the White House for the dinner which President McKinley will give Admiral Dewey. It will be held on the evening of Oct. 3 at 8 o'clock in the state dining room. The list of guests will be limited to 50 and will consist of prominent officers of the navy and army and high officials of the government.

Arrangements for the national reception to Admiral Dewey in this city Oct. 2 and 3 are being rapidly completed. General Nelson A. Miles, the marshal of the parade, has announced the selection of Adjutant General Corbin as his chief of staff and Major John A. Johnson, assistant adjutant general, chief aide-de-camp. The parade will consist of about 20,000 men, representing military and naval, civic, patriotic, labor and secret organizations.

The escort which will accompany Admiral Dewey to the Capitol at noon on Oct. 3, where he will be presented by Secretary Long the sword voted to him by congress, will be mounted and consist of the visiting governors of the states and their staffs, representatives of the army, the navy and the executive branches of the government and prominent citizens of the capital.

Dewey's Chinamen Can Land.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19. — Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Spalding has issued an order allowing the three unenlisted Chinamen aboard Admiral Dewey's flagship Olympia to land in New York.

ODD FELLOWS WELCOMED.

A Summary of the Condition of the Order by Secretary Grant.

DETROIT, Sept. 19.—Hard, persistent rain fell on opening day of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows' diamond jubilee. Public welcomes were extended at the Detroit Opera House by Mayor Maybury and Michigan Odd Fellow officials. Last night the visiting ladies were entertained in Light infantry armory by the Union Rebekah degree staff of this city.

Grand Secretary and Adjutant General Grant gave the following as the summary of the condition of the order December 31, 1898: Sovereign grand lodge, 1; independent grand lodges, (Australasia, Denmark, Germany, Sweden and Switzerland) 5; subordinate grand lodges, 65; subordinate grand encampments, 55; subordinate lodges, 11,796; subordinate encampments, 2,641; lodge members, 859,829; encampment members, 128,267; Rebekah lodges, 5,071; number of Rebekah members, 313,163.

The whole increase in all branches of order for the year was 30,225. The report showed the relief expenditures by lodges to be $3,126,050; relief by encampments, $249,786, by Rebekah lodges $47,149, making a total of $3,422,986. The total expenses of subordinate lodges figures $4,159,726. The revenue of subordinate lodges amounted to $7,752,283; subordinate encampments, $570,762; Rebekah lodges, $443,348; total, $8,766,393. The total invested funds aggregate $27,185,241.

JOHNSON AT THE HEAD.

To Have Charge of Preparations For Next Democratic National Campaign. Headquarters at Chicago.

CHICAGO, Sept. 19.—Chicago will be the working center of the Democratic national committee during the campaign in preparation for the next presidential election.

This was decided at a meeting of the executive committee held here, thus definitely settling rumors that the headquarters would be changed.

J. G. Johnson of Kansas, it was decided, will have charge of the work, remaining here in charge of the headquarters office. Those present at the conference were: Ex-Governor Stone, J. G. Johnson, J. M. Head of Tennessee, George Fred Williams of Massachusetts, J. M. Guffey of Pennsylvania and J. B. O'Brien of Minnesota.

"We discussed some plans for the organization of our forces for effective work," said ex-Governor Stone in speaking of the meeting. "But as yet they are so chaotic that an account of them would not enlighten the public. It was decided that the members of the executive committee meet in Chicago every 60 days to confer with Mr. Johnson and to aid him in carrying out our plans."

Mr. Johnson will take charge of the active work of the ways and means and press committees, and within two weeks will come to Chicago to open up headquarters. Senator Jones, chairman of the Democratic national committee, will arrive in New York Oct. 6, and two days later he will meet Mr. Johnson either in Chicago or St. Louis.

The national committee adopted a "harmony" call as follows:

The national committee of the Democratic party in session at Chicago to consider the work of party organization preparatory to the campaign of 1900, sends greeting to the Democracy of the nation, with the assurance that the prospect of Democratic success next year grows brighter every day, and we have every reason for confidence as to the outcome. The great need now is party unity and thorough organization. The committee appeals, therefore, to our party friends in all the states, and especially in the states where elections are to be held this year, to put aside all local differences wherever they exist and support the regular party tickets earnestly and enthusiastically, keeping always in view the great struggle of next year and remembering that in unity there is strength and in division weakness. Especially do we appeal to the Kentucky Democracy to give loyal support to the regular ticket in that state, headed by Mr. Goebel, and thereby make a sure Democratic victory in the state and the return of Senator Blackburn to the senate of the United States.

The executive committee, ways and means committee and press committee of the Democratic national committee were in session all day. Secretary Chas. A. Walsh was made a member ex-officio of all the committees and secretary of each. Nothing but organization work was discussed in the committees. It was determined to spread the ways and means system of collecting funds over more states. Samuel B. Cook, general manager of that committee, made his report and, although the details were not made public, it was learned that the committee has in the neighborhood of $100,000 pledged and about $20,000 on hand.

DISTURBED BY LABOR UNIONS.

Preparations For Chicago Cornerstone Laying Suspended.

CHICAGO, Sept. 19.—The difficulties between the labor unions and the committee of arrangements of the Chicago fall festival reached a climax when instructions were issued from festival headquarters suspending all preparations for the celebration until the difficulties with organized labor are definitely settled.

A letter was sent by Chairman Trunx to the various committee chairmen advising them to stop the further payment of funds until it is definitely known whether the labor unions will carry out their announced intention of declaring a strike on the federal building and on the festival arches unless the cornerstone to be used in the federal building is discarded and one cut out by union labor substituted.

At Christian Endeavorers' Behest.

SCRANTON, Pa., Sept. 19.—At the behest of Christian Endeavor City union the 20-round fight between Jimmy Judge and "Australian Paddy" Gorman did not take place, Sheriff Ryan serving notice on Gaiety theater people not to attempt to pull off the fight.

ON TRIAL FOR TREASON

French Senate Acts as a High Court.

DEROULEDE AND OTHERS ACCUSED.

The Plotting of the Royalists So Ridiculous That Points In the Bill of Indictment Caused Laughter—Trial Postponed For a Time.

PARIS, Sept. 19.—The senate met as a high court of justice for the purpose of trying 22 politicians, including Messrs. de Monicourt, Deroulede, Marcel Habert, Thiebaud, Baron de Vaux and Jules Guerin on the charge of conspiring against the government.

The procurator general, M. Bernard, read the long indictment, when the senate entered into secret session to discuss the indictment and determine the questions relating to the preliminary inquiry which is to be ordered.

The public and press galleries were crowded and the senators' places were filled. Not one of the accused were present or in the palace.

The indictment evoked frequent outbursts of derisive laughter and ironical comment at the expense of the royalists, and especially on the reading of the various telegrams exchanged and the failure of the plots.

At the conclusion of the reading of indictment M. Bernard and his colleagues left the senate and M. Fallieres ordered the senators to sit behind closed doors.

On the resumption of the public sitting, M. Fallieres announced that the senate had decided by a vote of 234 against 32 to allow prisoners to be represented by counsel during the preliminary inquiry, but that the question of the competence of the senate to sit as a high court to try the charges had been adjourned until after the conclusion of the preliminary inquiry.

This is tantamount to an adjournment of the high court for several weeks at least. Most of the senators were present when the announcement was made, but there were few persons in the public and press galleries.

The general comment in the senate lobbies was that the indictment displayed the ridiculous, but still criminal character of the royalists intrigues to overthrow the republic.

DIED IN PHILIPPINES.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19.—In a cablegram General Otis announced the following deaths since last report: Nephretis, acute, Sept. 9, James M. Leach, Company A, Seventeenth infantry; 13th, James J. Higgins, C, Twenty-first infantry; pneumonia, 3d, William B. Goldthwaite, recruit, Twenty-third infantry; 8th, Henry Beck, A, Nineteenth infantry; homicide, shot by comrade at Pasay, 10th, Charles F. Cumberland Man Has Been Given the Contract and Will Import Men to Do the Work—Laughlins to Employ East Enders as Far as Possible.

Not having a sufficient number of carpenters in this city, and the need of empty houses for those who desire to live in East End, parties have gone out of the city for carpenters.

Within the next ten days a force of carpenters from New Cumberland will arrive in the city and commence work in East End on 16 houses. These men are in the employ of John Dornan, of New Cumberland, who has been given the contract for the erection of the dwellings.

There has been a growing

Need of Houses

since work on the Laughlin pottery was commenced and the number of houses has not been equal to the demand. There are many families moving to East End at present, and whenever a house is vacated it is soon rented, no matter what the price be.

The dwellings that will be built will be of the latest design and of the most modern architecture. The majority of them will be built in the old Boyce orchard, and when completed will be occupied by workmen in the Laughlin pottery. The homes will cost in the neighborhood of from $1,200 to $1,500 each, including the lots on which they are built.

WANT MORE MEN.

Laughlins Want East End Workmen at Their New Plant.

A gentleman who is in a position to know stated yesterday that when Laughlin's new pottery was placed in operation they would give preference to workmen who resided in the East End. It is known that many of the workmen will be taken from the old plant, but still there are many new ones needed.

The new plant will be placed in operation as soon as possible. The machinists are the busiest set of men in the new plant. The engine and its parts will be joined, it is thought, before the first of the month.

THREE BEERS A DAY.

This Is How C. N. Howard Tells His Story—More to Follow.

Men of East Liverpool read this carefully and see how the beer drinkers are investing their money, and for what. We will have more to say along this line, securing ammunition from Rochester, New York, where great good is being accomplished in the name of the Master:

CHRISTMAS, 1898.

Good tidings of great joy to the people of Rochester--Christmas donation to 20,000 people—Three beers a day or—

1 barrel of flour,
50 pounds of sugar,
20 pounds of corn starch,
10 pounds of macaroni,
10 quarts of beans,
4 twelve-pound hams,
1 bushel sweet potatoes,
3 bushels Irish potatoes,
10 pounds of coffee,
10 pounds of raisins,
10 pounds of rice,
20 pounds of crackers,
100 bars of soap,
3 twelve-pound turkeys,
5 quarts of cranberries,
10 bunches of celery,
10 pounds of prunes,
4 dozen oranges,
10 pounds of mixed nuts,

FOUR BIG BARRELS HEAPED UP! and in the bottom of the last barrel, a purse with two pockets. In one pocket a five dollar gold piece marked "a dress for mother," in the other pocket a ten dollar bill, marked, "to buy shoes for the children."

THE PARK

Matter Will Come Before Council at Their Next Meeting. That Boulevard.

Prof. W. L. Thompson has a force of men at work on the land which he intends to present to the city for park purposes, and it is probable the matter will come before council at their next meeting. It is not necessary for the park to be taken into the city limits as the law provides that the city may own land outside the corporation for park purposes. It is also desired that the city make some provisions for maintaining this park. There is some question whether the gift of land from another party for a boulevard will be accepted as it is thought it would cost too much to improve the land and the city can get a good driveway to the park without expending so much money.

HE GOT HIS FILL OF BEAN SHOOTERS.

Frank Langley Hit the Corner of a House With a Shooter In His Mouth.

Frank Langley, a 15 year old boy who resides on Church alley, last evening met with a painful accident, the result of playing with a bean shooter. The boy had the bean shooter in his mouth and started to run around the corner of the house but he tripped and struck the house and the shooter was forced into the flesh and came near protruding at a point directly under the lower jaw. A physician was called and dressed his injuries.

[A Splendid Company at the Grand.

"In the Heart of the Storm" at the Grand last night by Himmelein's Ideals attracted one of the largest audiences ever assembled there. No attraction ever gave better satisfaction and more value for the money than this company of unusual talent. Such a production as last night's at popular prices cannot help but command attention. In addition to the splendid stage performance this company carries its own band and orchestra which is one of the finest ever in the city with a traveling company. The music on the street and in the theater was all the latest and well rendered. Tonight "The Irish Hero," one of the best plays in the repertoire, will be given. Wednesday evening, "The Ladder of Life."

The NEWS REVIEW for news.

Smashing the Quinine Monopoly.

According to official reports at the state department, steps have been taken to break down the quinine trust organized by German manufacturers. The Javanese planters have found the syndicate able to control the price of cinchona by manipulating the relative price of the bark and the quinine. Recently some of the largest and most influential planters in Java have organized to control the supply in such a way as to keep the raw material out of the hands of the syndicate and have begun to encourage direct trade with the United States. Factories have been established in Java, and since last January, when the new trade began, 265,900 ounces of sulphate of quinine have been shipped direct to this country, although there have been no exports of cinchona to the United States. Consular officers say there is no reason why the United States should not get both the cinchona bark and the sulphate of quinine direct from Java and thus avoid the excessive exactions of the German trust. It has been proposed to establish a regular market in Batavia, and it is believed the development of American enterprises in the Philippines will turn attention to Java and its capacity for supplying the ever increasing demands of the quinine trade.

Resuming Relations With Spain.

Arrangements have been made through the regular diplomatic channels for the resumption of commercial relations with Spain. To this end Minister Storer, at Madrid, has been instructed to take such steps as will lead to the usual commercial treaties between this country and Spain. He has reported that there is every indication of the speedy settlement of the various questions involved, and he expects to have no difficulty in arranging the treaties.

Retirement of Captain Haff.

Captain "Hank" Haff, the sailing master of some of the famous America's cup defenders, is living at Islip, N. Y. Advancing years caused him to be retired from the list of possible captains of the Columbia. The handling of the 90 foot sloops needs not only skill and experience, but nerves of steel. Captain Charles Barr was selected to sail the Columbia because he is a comparatively young man and has had a great deal of experience in sailing large sloops.

Acquittal Is Safe.

To convict him would be indeed to make the Dreyfus case perpetual, says the Memphis Commercial Appeal. There is nothing to do but acquit him. When Zola returned in peace to France, when Picquart was acquitted and when revision was granted, it was demonstrated that it was perfectly safe to acquit Dreyfus.

EXPORT EXPOSITION.

A Show In Keeping With Our National Growth.

SENTIMENT AS WELL AS TRADE.

An Enterprise Rivaling the Centennial Exhibition and the World's Fair—Chance to Kiss the Blarney Stone.

The National Export exposition will continue from Sept. 7 until Nov. 30, Sundays excepted. Less than five months ago the first spadeful of dirt was turned up for the foundation of the buildings, which have since been completed at a cost of more than $1,000,000. This exhibition of American enterprise and quickness is in itself an indication of the scope and character of the exposition. Although a magnificent music hall, with an amphitheater large enough to accommodate an audience of 6,000 people, it forms only a part of the main building of the exposition. The conception of the idea of an exhibition to illustrate the astonishing growth of the export trade of the United States in recent years was the outgrowth of the tour of the representatives of the various foreign governments who came here to study our industries in 1897 and grew specifically from their visit to the little fair held at Providence, R. I.

The idea was taken up by the Philadelphia Commercial museums and the Franklin institute. As a result of this movement the public will find on Thursday a presentation of American trade movements and mechanical and art enterprises of an exceedingly interesting character.

The display of manufactured products which have a present or contemplated foreign market is especially complete, and the methods of manufacture, showing the progress in the making and the completion of a needle or a cuff button or of a giant locomotive or a great bridge, will be everywhere before the eye in varied and almost endless succession. The beauty and extent of the buildings themselves, as now completed, compare with the best products of the Centennial exposition or the Chicago World's fair. The United States government, in addition to a large appropriation toward the buildings themselves, has expended $50,000 in the selection of samples from abroad of wares, business data and samples, which form an exhibit not only of value to the business men who visit the exposition, but are of absorbing interest to the merely curious of the general public. On the esplanade the public will find a great variety of amusements, similar in some respects to the midway of the Chicago fair. These include a Chinese village of 450 persons, an oriental theater and an Indian village, an old southern plantation, the Blarney stone and the blue Killarney lakes.

At the international commercial congress, which is to be opened in the Exposition auditorium about Oct. 10, under the supervision of Director Wilson, there will be represented, in addition to the presence of President Diaz of Mexico, 30 foreign governments and more than 125 foreign chambers of commerce, which have named delegates. The sessions of the congress will continue for about three weeks.

A Freak Ear of Corn.

An ear of green corn of a novel shape, found on the Rural farm at Hewletts, L. I., the other morning, has attracted much attention, according to the New York Sun. The butt of the ear is unusually large, and at about the middle of it five distinct ears, each one covered with kernals of good size, grow out like the branches of a tree. Nothing like it has ever been seen before around Hewletts.

Bronze For Dewey Souvenir Medals.

According to the Philadelphia Ledger, the bronze casing of a torpedo captured at Manila and now at the League Island navy yard is to be used for souvenir medals by the Washington committee in charge of the Dewey reception. Two hundred and fifty pounds of bronze, however, must be given in its place, and the other parts of the torpedo will remain at League Island as a trophy.

THREE BEERS A DAY.

This Is How C. N. Howard Tells His Story—More to Follow.

Men of East Liverpool read this carefully and see how the beer drinkers are investing their money, and for what. We will have more to say along this line, securing ammunition from Rochester, New York, where great good is being accomplished in the name of the Master:

CHRISTMAS, 1898.

Good tidings of great joy to the people of Rochester--Christmas donation to 20,000 people—Three beers a day or—

1 barrel of flour,
50 pounds of sugar,
20 pounds of corn starch,
10 pounds of macaroni,
10 quarts of beans,
4 twelve-pound hams,
1 bushel sweet potatoes,
3 bushels Irish potatoes,
10 pounds of coffee,
10 pounds of raisins,
10 pounds of rice,
20 pounds of crackers,
100 bars of soap,
3 twelve-pound turkeys,
5 quarts of cranberries,
10 bunches of celery,
10 pounds of prunes,
4 dozen oranges,
10 pounds of mixed nuts,

FOUR BIG BARRELS HEAPED UP! and in the bottom of the last barrel, a purse with two pockets. In one pocket a five dollar gold piece marked "a dress for mother," in the other pocket a ten dollar bill, marked, "to buy shoes for the children."

THE PARK

Matter Will Come Before Council at Their Next Meeting. That Boulevard.

Prof. W. L. Thompson has a force of men at work on the land which he intends to present to the city for park purposes, and it is probable the matter will come before council at their next meeting. It is not necessary for the park to be taken into the city limits as the law provides that the city may own land outside the corporation for park purposes. It is also desired that the city make some provisions for maintaining this park. There is some question whether the gift of land from another party for a boulevard will be accepted as it is thought it would cost too much to improve the land and the city can get a good driveway to the park without expending so much money.

HE GOT HIS FILL OF BEAN SHOOTERS.

Frank Langley Hit the Corner of a House With a Shooter In His Mouth.

Frank Langley, a 15 year old boy who resides on Church alley, last evening met with a painful accident, the result of playing with a bean shooter. The boy had the bean shooter in his mouth and started to run around the corner of the house but he tripped and struck the house and the shooter was forced into the flesh and came near protruding at a point directly under the lower jaw. A physician was called and dressed his injuries.

A Splendid Company at the Grand.

"In the Heart of the Storm" at the Grand last night by Himmelein's Ideals attracted one of the largest audiences ever assembled there. No attraction ever gave better satisfaction and more value for the money than this company of unusual talent. Such a production as last night's at popular prices cannot help but command attention. In addition to the splendid stage performance this company carries its own band and orchestra which is one of the finest ever in the city with a traveling company. The music on the street and in the theater was all the latest and well rendered. Tonight "The Irish Hero," one of the best plays in the repertoire, will be given. Wednesday evening, "The Ladder of Life."

The NEWS REVIEW for news.

Smashing the Quinine Monopoly.

According to official reports at the state department, steps have been taken to break down the quinine trust organized by German manufacturers. The Javanese planters have found the syndicate able to control the price of cinchona by manipulating the relative price of the bark and the quinine. Recently some of the largest and most influential planters in Java have organized to control the supply in such a way as to keep the raw material out of the hands of the syndicate and have begun to encourage direct trade with the United States. Factories have been established in Java, and since last January, when the new trade began, 265,900 ounces of sulphate of quinine have been shipped direct to this country, although there have been no exports of cinchona to the United States. Consular officers say there is no reason why the United States should not get both the cinchona bark and the sulphate of quinine direct from Java and thus avoid the excessive exactions of the German trust. It has been proposed to establish a regular market in Batavia, and it is believed the development of American enterprises in the Philippines will turn attention to Java and its capacity for supplying the ever increasing demands of the quinine trade.

Resuming Relations With Spain.

Arrangements have been made through the regular diplomatic channels for the resumption of commercial relations with Spain. To this end Minister Storer, at Madrid, has been instructed to take such steps as will lead to the usual commercial treaties between this country and Spain. He has reported that there is every indication of the speedy settlement of the various questions involved, and he expects to have no difficulty in arranging the treaties.

Retirement of Captain Haff.

Captain "Hank" Haff, the sailing master of some of the famous America's cup defenders, is living at Islip, N. Y. Advancing years caused him to be retired from the list of possible captains of the Columbia. The handling of the 90 foot sloops needs not only skill and experience, but nerves of steel. Captain Charles Barr was selected to sail the Columbia because he is a comparatively young man and has had a great deal of experience in sailing large sloops.

Acquittal Is Safe.

To convict him would be indeed to make the Dreyfus case perpetual, says the Memphis Commercial Appeal. There is nothing to do but acquit him. When Zola returned in peace to France, when Picquart was acquitted and when revision was granted, it was demonstrated that it was perfectly safe to acquit Dreyfus.

EXPORT EXPOSITION.

A Show In Keeping With Our National Growth.

SENTIMENT AS WELL AS TRADE.

An Enterprise Rivaling the Centennial Exhibition and the World's Fair—Chance to Kiss the Blarney Stone.

The National Export exposition will continue from Sept. 7 until Nov. 30, Sundays excepted. Less than five months ago the first spadeful of dirt was turned up for the foundation of the buildings, which have since been completed at a cost of more than $1,000,000. This exhibition of American enterprise and quickness is in itself an indication of the scope and character of the exposition. Although a magnificent music hall, with an amphitheater large enough to accommodate an audience of 6,000 people, it forms only a part of the main building of the exposition. The conception of the idea of an exhibition to illustrate the astonishing growth of the export trade of the United States in recent years was the outgrowth of the tour of the representatives of the various foreign governments who came here to study our industries in 1897 and grew specifically from their visit to the little fair held at Providence, R. I.

The idea was taken up by the Philadelphia Commercial museums and the Franklin institute. As a result of this movement the public will find on Thursday a presentation of American trade movements and mechanical and art enterprises of an exceedingly interesting character.

The display of manufactured products which have a present or contemplated foreign market is especially complete, and the methods of manufacture, showing the progress in the making and the completion of a needle or a cuff button or of a giant locomotive or a great bridge, will be everywhere before the eye in varied and almost endless succession. The beauty and extent of the buildings themselves, as now completed, compare with the best products of the Centennial exposition or the Chicago World's fair. The United States government, in addition to a large appropriation toward the buildings themselves, has expended $50,000 in the selection of samples from abroad of wares, business data and samples, which form an exhibit not only of value to the business men who visit the exposition, but are of absorbing interest to the merely curious of the general public. On the esplanade the public will find a great variety of amusements, similar in some respects to the midway of the Chicago fair. These include a Chinese village of 450 persons, an oriental theater and an Indian village, an old southern plantation, the Blarney stone and the blue Killarney lakes.

At the international commercial congress, which is to be opened in the Exposition auditorium about Oct. 10, under the supervision of Director Wilson, there will be represented, in addition to the presence of President Diaz of Mexico, 30 foreign governments and more than 125 foreign chambers of commerce, which have named delegates. The sessions of the congress will continue for about three weeks.

A Freak Ear of Corn.

An ear of green corn of a novel shape, found on the Rural farm at Hewletts, L. I., the other morning, has attracted much attention, according to the New York Sun. The butt of the ear is unusually large, and at about the middle of it five distinct ears, each one covered with kernals of good size, grow out like the branches of a tree. Nothing like it has ever been seen before around Hewletts.

Bronze For Dewey Souvenir Medals.

According to the Philadelphia Ledger, the bronze casing of a torpedo captured at Manila and now at the League Island navy yard is to be used for souvenir medals by the Washington committee in charge of the Dewey reception. Two hundred and fifty pounds of bronze, however, must be given in its place, and the other parts of the torpedo will remain at League Island as a trophy.

DANIEL M'BANE CUT ON HEAD

At the Mill This Morning--Workman on Lower Shovel Had His Arm Broken Yesterday Afternoon--Justice Finley Sends In His Resignation to the County Court.

McBane was employed as a laborer and was working in the pumphouse trench when some earth caved in, striking a loose plank. The plank fell on the head of McBane, causing a bad scalp wound. A physician was summoned and after the injuries were dressed he was removed to his home.

Broke His Arm.

A workman on the lower shovel yesterday afternoon accidentally caught his left arm in some of the machinery about the crane breaking it. It is thought it will have to be amputated.

RESIGNED THE OFFICE.

Justice Finley No Longer Desires to Fill That Office.

This morning Justice Finley sent to the court at Cumberland a letter resigning his position as justice of the peace. As court is now in session and has very little business to attend to it is thought the resignation will be acted upon today. Who will be appointed in his place no one can tell. Finley was elected at the election held in the spring of 1898.

TOO MANY MEN.

Some Working on the Grading Will be Discharged.

Contractor McNally said this morning that as the two steam shovels are being confined to the narrows, the force of men is too large, and within a few days a number of them will be cut off. The work of laying rails has been suspended, but it is thought that by the end of the month rails will be laid as far east as the lower ferry.

WILLIAM LUKE

Died Yesterday at His Home a Short Distance From Chester.

William Luke, aged 78 years, an old resident of Hancock county, died very suddenly last night at his home about one mile from Chester. He was working in a coal bank in Middle Run and came out late in the afternoon and said he was ill. A short time later he had a stroke from which he never recovered, dying in about three hours.

AN ACCIDENT.

Stanley Weaver Got Caught In a Drill Press.

Stanley Weaver, a nephew of Contractor McNally, yesterday while working around the drill press, had his sleeve caught and the giving away of his overall coat sleeve was all that saved him serious injury. As it was he had two arteries severed and a bone in his right arm splintered.

YOUNG-WILLIAMS.

Two Popular Young People Married Early This Morniug.

Miss Clara J. Williams, of Fourth street, and Thomas L. Young, were married this morning at the residence of the bride's mother, at No. 186 Fourth street, at 7 o'clock, by Rev. John Lloyd Lee. Immediately after the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served. Mr. and Mrs. Young left on the early accommodation train for the east and a trip through Canada. Upon their return they will make their home with the bride's mother.

Mr. Young is chief engineer at the plant of the Ceramic City Light company, while Mrs. Young before her marriage was one of the teachers in the Central school. They have the best wishes of a host of friends.

New $10 Counterfeit.

Chief Wilkie of the secret service has received from New York a new counterfeit $10 bill. The following circular describing the note has just been issued:

"New counterfeit $10 silver certificate, series of 1891, check letter D, plate number 14, B. K. Bruce, register, Ellis H. Roberts, treasurer, portrait of Hendricks. This note is a lithograph, printed on two sheets of Japanese tissue paper, between which very coarse red and blue silk fiber has been distributed. The lathe work in counters in face is creditably executed; lettering in border so blurred as to be illegible; color of ink is a reddish brown, instead of black; seal is of bright brick red, instead of carmine. The number of the note at hand is E20,394,345; color and formation of numbers is good, but alignment bad. The back of the note is more deceptive than the face. The number of the back plate is 36. Line 'Bureau of Engraving and Printing' is so blurred as to be illegal, and all of the ornamental work is so blurred that detail is lost. The note will not deceive any one familiar with money. The credit for the discovery of the note is due to the cashier of the National Park bank, New York."

German Prince the Poor Man's Priest.

Prince Maximilian of Saxony, who has renounced his title and been admitted to the priesthood in the Catholic church, preached last Sunday at the Church of the Sacred Heart in turbulent Paris, and, in spite of the French hatred for Germans, he was warmly received, and no disrespect was shown him in any way. Prince Max, who spent some years in work among the poor in the east end of London, where he is still remembered as "the poor man's priest," is now the priest of a church in the ancient and famous city of Nuremburg, Germany, which is said to have a Catholic population of 50,000. Emperor William is said to be anxious to secure the elevation of his pious kinsman to the archiepiscopal see of Cologne.

SOUTH SIDE ACCIDENTS

Wm. Luke Had a Stroke at the Mouth of Middle Run Mine.

DANIEL M'BANE CUT ON HEAD

At the Mill This Morning--Workman on Lower Shovel Had His Arm Broken Yesterday Afternoon--Justice Finley Sends In His Resignation to the County Court.

McBane was employed as a laborer and was working in the pumphouse trench when some earth caved in, striking a loose plank. The plank fell on the head of McBane, causing a bad scalp wound. A physician was summoned and after the injuries were dressed he was removed to his home.

Broke His Arm.

A workman on the lower shovel yesterday afternoon accidentally caught his left arm in some of the machinery about the crane breaking it. It is thought it will have to be amputated.

RESIGNED THE OFFICE.

Justice Finley No Longer Desires to Fill That Office.

This morning Justice Finley sent to the court at Cumberland a letter resigning his position as justice of the peace. As court is now in session and has very little business to attend to it is thought the resignation will be acted upon today. Who will be appointed in his place no one can tell. Finley was elected at the election held in the spring of 1898.

TOO MANY MEN.

Some Working on the Grading Will be Discharged.

Contractor McNally said this morning that as the two steam shovels are being confined to the narrows, the force of men is too large, and within a few days a number of them will be cut off. The work of laying rails has been suspended, but it is thought that by the end of the month rails will be laid as far east as the lower ferry.

WILLIAM LUKE

Died Yesterday at His Home a Short Distance From Chester.

William Luke, aged 78 years, an old resident of Hancock county, died very suddenly last night at his home about one mile from Chester. He was working in a coal bank in Middle Run and came out late in the afternoon and said he was ill. A short time later he had a stroke from which he never recovered, dying in about three hours.

AN ACCIDENT.

Stanley Weaver Got Caught In a Drill Press.

Stanley Weaver, a nephew of Contractor McNally, yesterday while working around the drill press, had his sleeve caught and the giving away of his overall coat sleeve was all that saved him serious injury. As it was he had two arteries severed and a bone in his right arm splintered.

SOUTHSIDE NEWS.

Interesting News Notes About People and Things Across the Ohio.

The Tri-State normal at Fairview opened yesterday. The enrollment of scholars is larger than last term.

YOUNG-WILLIAMS.

Two Popular Young People Married Early This Morning.

Miss Clara J. Williams, of Fourth street, and Thomas L. Young, were married this morning at the residence of the bride's mother, at No. 186 Fourth street, at 7 o'clock, by Rev. John Lloyd Lee. Immediately after the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served. Mr. and Mrs. Young left on the early accommodation train for the east and a trip through Canada. Upon their return they will make their home with the bride's mother.

Mr. Young is chief engineer at the plant of the Ceramic City Light company, while Mrs. Young before her marriage was one of the teachers in the Central school. They have the best wishes of a host of friends.

New $10 Counterfeit.

Chief Wilkie of the secret service has received from New York a new counterfeit $10 bill. The following circular describing the note has just been issued:

"New counterfeit $10 silver certificate, series of 1891, check letter D, plate number 14, B. K. Bruce, register, Ellis H. Roberts, treasurer, portrait of Hendricks. This note is a lithograph, printed on two sheets of Japanese tissue paper, between which very coarse red and blue silk fiber has been distributed. The lathe work in counters in face is creditably executed; lettering in border so blurred as to be illegible; color of ink is a reddish brown, instead of black; seal is of bright brick red, instead of carmine. The number of the note at hand is E20,394,345; color and formation of numbers is good, but alignment bad. The back of the note is more deceptive than the face. The number of the back plate is 36. Line 'Bureau of Engraving and Printing' is so blurred as to be illegal, and all of the ornamental work is so blurred that detail is lost. The note will not deceive any one familiar with money. The credit for the discovery of the note is due to the cashier of the National Park bank, New York."

German Prince the Poor Man's Priest.

Prince Maximilian of Saxony, who has renounced his title and been admitted to the priesthood in the Catholic church, preached last Sunday at the Church of the Sacred Heart in turbulent Paris, and, in spite of the French hatred for Germans, he was warmly received, and no disrespect was shown him in any way. Prince Max, who spent some years in work among the poor in the east end of London, where he is still remembered as "the poor man's priest," is now the priest of a church in the ancient and famous city of Nuremburg, Germany, which is said to have a Catholic population of 50,000. Emperor William is said to be anxious to secure the elevation of his pious kinsman to the archiepiscopal see of Cologne.

Not a Real Count.

Myrtle--Why do you think the count is a fraud?

Alice—Because of the way he acted when I showed him the paper containing an account of papa's failure.

Myrtle—What did he do? Break the engagement?

Alice—No. He threw his arms around me and said, "Never mind, darling; you and I can be happy as long as we are left to each other, no matter whether we have money or not."—Chicago Times-Herald.

THE TRUST CONFERENCE.

The conference called by the Civic Federation of Chicago, which has been lengthily discussing the growth of trusts, seems to have been called mainly for the purpose of giving Mr. Bryan an opportunity to get in the center of the stage. Just what else the conference can accomplish is difficult to imagine. It has no legislative power and its resolutions will be merely ornamental.

THE LIBRARY ELECTION.

The question of issuing $20,000 worth of bonds for the purchase of a site for the $50,000 public library offered the city by Andrew Carnegie, will be submitted to a vote of the people next Saturday. Judging from the unanimous expression of opinion which greeted Mr. Carnegie's gift and the desire of the community to secure such an institution, it is not believed that many, if any, votes will be cast against the issue. However, it would be most regrettable, if, through the negligence of those in favor of the project, a majority, no matter how small the vote polled, should be recorded against the issue. Everyone interested should make it a point to cast a vote. A good sized vote would at least show the donor that his gift was appreciated in East Liverpool.

REPUBLICAN OHIO.

There will be a political battle in Ohio. The Democratic nominee has money to burn and he will burn it freely. Money is a power. But there is a greater power than money, and that power rests in the hands of the Republicans of the Buckeye state. It is the power of using the ballot entrusted to their care. Every Republican voter in the state should be at the polls on election day. Judge Nash is a man in whom Republicans can take just pride; a statesman, an able financier and an honest man. Sound money and loyalty to the national administration are other features conducive to success in the coming contest. The outlook is for a brilliant victory. Self confidence and carelessness must not endanger this success. Turn out and vote, and see to it that all your Republican neighbors do the same.

PARDONED.

France has pardoned Dreyfus. Why? Simply because the military representatives of France committed an infamous outrage when they pronounced Dreyfus guilty and sentenced him to a term of 10 years' imprisonment. The civilized world cried out against this infamy, and gave expression to its indignation, and France heard the cry and recognized its power. By the verdict of guilty, the Generals saved what they saw fit to term their HONOR—God save the mark. And now they virtually declare Dreyfus an innocent man by pardoning him. The world at large laughs at the farce; but there is bitterness in the laughter, and France will yet recognize this fact. Dreyfus being pronounced guilty, means his dismissal from the army and bars him from obtaining any redress for the five years of horror, outrage and desolation imposed upon him—separation from wife and children and the awful degradation inflicted upon him from a military standpoint. France has sown the wind. She will reap the whirlwind. In the meantime, every genuine man and woman in all this broad land will rejoice in the joy which will come to Mrs. Dreyfus, that noble woman who has so heroically championed the cause of her beloved. God bless her for time and for eternity.

FOR THE LIBRARY SITE

The Bond Election Will Take Place Saturday.

THE SENTIMENT IS UNANIMOUS

That the Election Should Carry by a Handsome Majority--Interviews With J. J. Weisend, George Peach, Mayor Bough, Samuel Eardley, J. J. Purinton, Clerk Hanley and G. Y. Travis.

Next Saturday the people of the city will have a chance to decide by their ballots whether the splendid offer of Andrew Carnegie to build a $50,000 library here will be accepted, as on that day it will be settled whether the Bradshaw property will be secured as a site for the building.

The NEWS REVIEW today interviewed several prominent people upon the question and found the sentiment to be unanimous in favor of the library.

J. J. Weisend, president of the library directors, said: "I am afraid the people will not turn out and vote, as they do not seem to be paying much attention to it. If the vote is out there is no doubt the bond issue will carry. It is the duty of every citizen who has the welfare of the city at heart to go to the polls on Saturday and cast their ballot for the library, as the offer is one the city will probably never get again. A library like Mr. Carnegie proposes to build would enable everybody to read, and this city has a reading people. They would also find many books there they would probably not be able to buy."

Not an Every Day Offer.

George Peach, president of council, said: "I think the bond issue ought to carry, and I think it will carry. The city cannot afford to miss an opportunity of this kind, and if the bond issue don't carry it settles the library business. The city will never get another offer like this one, and if the site had been made to order it could not have been better than the one selected. The library will be a monument to the city, and the people should turn out and vote for it. Men are not giving away $50,000 every day in the week, and the city is fortunate in having received the gift from Carnegie."

Mayor Bough said: "It ought to carry, and it will carry overwhelmingly. When we get the library there is one thing we will have that the city has needed for many years, and that is an auditorium of good capacity. The library will always be a popular place, and the city needs it."

Samuel Eardley, president of Trades council, said: "I most assuredly think it ought to carry and will do all in my power to make it carry. It is too fine a thing to be thrown away and will be a great advantage to the city."

J. J. Purinton said: "Emphatically, I think it ought to carry and it will carry."

Clerk Hanley: "I am in favor of the bond issue and it will get my vote."

Attorney G. Y. Travis: "It would be a lasting disgrace for the city to turn down the proposition."

TROOPER TAYLOR

Writes an Interesting Letter to His Father From the Philippines.

Arthur Taylor, of 313 Fifth street, has received an interesting letter from his son, James E. Taylor, of Troop B, Fourth United States cavalry, stationed at Manila, P. I., dated August 1.

Trooper Taylor says: "I hope you do not blame me for re-enlisting in the army, as I think it is all for the best. We are just on the point of taking part in the battle with the insurgents and I may come out of it all right, or, again, I may be killed, but whatever happens, you will always know that your only son was one who never turned his back on his country's flag.

"It is raining very hard here at present. Within the past 18 days there has been a rainfall of 44 inches. The country we have to go through is all marshy land. We can hear the bullets singing in our ears all day long."

SUNDAY LABOR CASES

Figured Yesterday Before Mayor Bough.

OFFICER WHITE MADE COMPLAINT

That Philip Morley, George W. Meredith and Joseph Turnbull Violated the Law Sunday, Sept. 10, at the Ice Plant--George McNally Also Calls on the Mayor.

Philip Morley and George W. Meredith were before Mayor Bough yesterday, charged with violating the Sunday labor law on Sept. 10. The complaint was made by Officer White, and it is claimed the defendants were driving piles at the ice plant on that day. They claim it was a work of necessity, and pleaded not guilty to the charge. They waived a hearing and both gave bond in the sum of $100 for their appearance in court.

Complaint was also filed by Officer White against Joseph Turnbull, claiming that he violated the same law on the same day by unloading a car of beer at the cold storage house of the ice plant.

George McNally appeared in court last evening and plead not guilty to a charge of violating the Sunday labor law. He waived a hearing and was bound over to court in the sum of $100.

THE TRUST CONFERENCE.

The conference called by the Civic Federation of Chicago, which has been lengthily discussing the growth of trusts, seems to have been called mainly for the purpose of giving Mr. Bryan an opportunity to get in the center of the stage. Just what else the conference can accomplish is difficult to imagine. It has no legislative power and its resolutions will be merely ornamental.

THE LIBRARY ELECTION.

The question of issuing $20,000 worth of bonds for the purchase of a site for the $50,000 public library offered the city by Andrew Carnegie, will be submitted to a vote of the people next Saturday. Judging from the unanimous expression of opinion which greeted Mr. Carnegie's gift and the desire of the community to secure such an institution, it is not believed that many, if any, votes will be cast against the issue. However, it would be most regrettable, if, through the negligence of those in favor of the project, a majority, no matter how small the vote polled, should be recorded against the issue. Everyone interested should make it a point to cast a vote. A good sized vote would at least show the donor that his gift was appreciated in East Liverpool.

REPUBLICAN OHIO.

There will be a political battle in Ohio. The Democratic nominee has money to burn and he will burn it freely. Money is a power. But there is a greater power than money, and that power rests in the hands of the Republicans of the Buckeye state. It is the power of using the ballot entrusted to their care. Every Republican voter in the state should be at the polls on election day. Judge Nash is a man in whom Republicans can take just pride; a statesman, an able financier and an honest man. Sound money and loyalty to the national administration are other features conducive to success in the coming contest. The outlook is for a brilliant victory. Self confidence and carelessness must not endanger this success. Turn out and vote, and see to it that all your Republican neighbors do the same.

PARDONED.

France has pardoned Dreyfus. Why? Simply because the military representatives of France committed an infamous outrage when they pronounced Dreyfus guilty and sentenced him to a term of 10 years' imprisonment. The civilized world cried out against this infamy, and gave expression to its indignation, and France heard the cry and recognized its power. By the verdict of guilty, the Generals saved what they saw fit to term their HONOR—God save the mark. And now they virtually declare Dreyfus an innocent man by pardoning him. The world at large laughs at the farce; but there is bitterness in the laughter, and France will yet recognize this fact. Dreyfus being pronounced guilty, means his dismissal from the army and bars him from obtaining any redress for the five years of horror, outrage and desolation imposed upon him—separation from wife and children and the awful degradation inflicted upon him from a military standpoint. France has sown the wind. She will reap the whirlwind. In the meantime, every genuine man and woman in all this broad land will rejoice in the joy which will come to Mrs. Dreyfus, that noble woman who has so heroically championed the cause of her beloved. God bless her for time and for eternity.

FOR THE LIBRARY SITE

The Bond Election Will Take Place Saturday.

THE SENTIMENT IS UNANIMOUS

That the Election Should Carry by a Handsome Majority--Interviews With J. J. Weisend, George Peach, Mayor Bough, Samuel Eardley, J. J. Purinton, Clerk Hanley and G. Y. Travis.

Next Saturday the people of the city will have a chance to decide by their ballots whether the splendid offer of Andrew Carnegie to build a $50,000 library here will be accepted, as on that day it will be settled whether the Bradshaw property will be secured as a site for the building.

The NEWS REVIEW today interviewed several prominent people upon the question and found the sentiment to be unanimous in favor of the library.

J. J. Weisend, president of the library directors, said: "I am afraid the people will not turn out and vote, as they do not seem to be paying much attention to it. If the vote is out there is no doubt the bond issue will carry. It is the duty of every citizen who has the welfare of the city at heart to go to the polls on Saturday and cast their ballot for the library, as the offer is one the city will probably never get again. A library like Mr. Carnegie proposes to build would enable everybody to read, and this city has a reading people. They would also find many books there they would probably not be able to buy."

Not an Every Day Offer.

George Peach, president of council, said: "I think the bond issue ought to carry, and I think it will carry. The city cannot afford to miss an opportunity of this kind, and if the bond issue don't carry it settles the library business. The city will never get another offer like this one, and if the site had been made to order it could not have been better than the one selected. The library will be a monument to the city, and the people should turn out and vote for it. Men are not giving away $50,000 every day in the week, and the city is fortunate in having received the gift from Carnegie."

Mayor Bough said: "It ought to carry, and it will carry overwhelmingly. When we get the library there is one thing we will have that the city has needed for many years, and that is an auditorium of good capacity. The library will always be a popular place, and the city needs it."

Samuel Eardley, president of Trades council, said: "I most assuredly think it ought to carry and will do all in my power to make it carry. It is too fine a thing to be thrown away and will be a great advantage to the city."

J. J. Purinton said: "Emphatically, I think it ought to carry and it will carry."

Clerk Hanley: "I am in favor of the bond issue and it will get my vote."

Writes an Interesting Letter to His Father From the Philippines.

Arthur Taylor, of 313 Fifth street, has received an interesting letter from his son, James E. Taylor, of Troop B, Fourth United States cavalry, stationed at Manila, P. I., dated August 1.

Trooper Taylor says: "I hope you do not blame me for re-enlisting in the army, as I think it is all for the best. We are just on the point of taking part in the battle with the insurgents and I may come out of it all right, or, again, I may be killed, but whatever happens, you will always know that your only son was one who never turned his back on his country's flag.

"It is raining very hard here at present. Within the past 18 days there has been a rainfall of 44 inches. The country we have to go through is all marshy land. We can hear the bullets singing in our ears all day long."

OFFICER WHITE MADE COMPLAINT

That Philip Morley, George W. Meredith and Joseph Turnbull Violated the Law Sunday, Sept. 10, at the Ice Plant--George McNally Also Calls on the Mayor.

Philip Morley and George W. Meredith were before Mayor Bough yesterday, charged with violating the Sunday labor law on Sept. 10. The complaint was made by Officer White, and it is claimed the defendants were driving piles at the ice plant on that day. They claim it was a work of necessity, and pleaded not guilty to the charge. They waived a hearing and both gave bond in the sum of $100 for their appearance in court.

Complaint was also filed by Officer White against Joseph Turnbull, claiming that he violated the same law on the same day by unloading a car of beer at the cold storage house of the ice plant.

George McNally appeared in court last evening and plead not guilty to a charge of violating the Sunday labor law. He waived a hearing and was bound over to court in the sum of $100.

R. E. RAYMAN'S REPORT

The Superintendent of the Public Schools

MAKES HIS ANNUAL STATEMENT

To the Board of Education Last Evening Some Grades Are Overcrowded—He Makes Valuable Comments and Interesting Suggestions on the Year's School Work.

Superintendent Rayman's annual report to the board of education states that the primary and grammar grades were overcrowded a greater part of last year, some having 75 and 84 pupils. This condition, he says, should not exist, because no teacher can do efficient work with more than 50 pupils. It is difficult to keep the number per room reduced to 40 or 45 scholars, but to get satisfactory results from teachers conditions must be favorable. No child who applies himself need remain in one grade more than a year. A number of scholars lose time because teachers are given too many pupils, and when a child loses time in the lower grades, age is made an excuse for leaving school before the higher grades are reached.

High School.

In the high school they can prepare for life. The course of study is somewhat elastic and would be much more so if there was room for expansion and a larger teaching force. The course of study was carefully prepared to provide the very best education.

Seating Capacity.

A Growing City.

The growth of the city is shown by the following figures. The population in 1880 was 5,568, in 1890, 10,956. In 1880 the school enumeration was 1,850. in 1897, 4,682, in 1898, 4,937,in 1899, 5,134.

In business affairs there is no more progressive city in the state. Why not hold the same rank in education? With the progressive spirit that the board of education has manifested in the past two years East Liverpool can soon stand side by side with the best schools of the state.

Buildings.

Rapid growth has made it quite a task for the board to provide school rooms as fast as needed. The district is large and requires a larger number of buildings than a more compact city The buildings now in use are modern and in good condition. Few, if any, cities can boast of better buildings, a fact of which every citizen may be justly proud.

Cost of Schools.

The cost of teaching a scholar in this city in the several branches, figured on enrollment, is: elementary, $7.70; high school, $20.18; figured on daily attendance: elementary, $10.02; high school, $24. This is the lowest of any city of similar size in the state.

The Teachers.

The selection of good teachers is a difficulty all boards have. When applicants secure a teacher's certificate, through examination or otherwise, they think they are ready to teach school. It is often difficult to make such persons understand why they cannot be placed immediately in charge of 50 or more children, and put in their time and draw their pay. The good of the children should be the first and highest consideration.

About School Work.

There is no reason why the English and commercial branches should not be strengthened each year. An effort is being made to improve the common branches. Spelling and penmanship shows a marked improvement, the spelling contests being quite helpful. Arithmetic was improved by introducing a mental arithmetic. It is hoped to introduce formal drills in bookkeeping and the use of commercial papers, and the best in typewriting and stenography.

Manual Training.

Superintendent Rayman recommends manual training work proper be limited to the last year in the grammar grades and the entire high school course. This training cannot be regarded as an unnecessary expenditure of time and money, owing to its influence upon boys who would otherwise drop out of school.

The Music.

Music is becoming a potent factor in education. It is to be hoped Ohio will recognize it by law, as well as by custom. One writer says of the subject: "For educational purposes music is invaluable."

In conclusion the superintendent thanks the board, parents, teachers, children, janitors and truant officers for helpful co-operation.

PRINCIPAL'S REPORT OF THE HIGH SCHOOL.

Desirable That Teachers and Parents Work Together in Harmony.

The report of Miss Florence Updegraff, principal of the high school, shows that last year only two pupils chose the English course. In the majority of cases, when pupils fail, investigation proves that it is generally due to lack of home study. There are 55,000 pupils in the high schools of Ohio.

LECTURE COURSE.

What Was Done With Proceeds of the Winter's Entertainments.

The receipts from the high school lecture course were $1,640.85; the expenditures $1,231.32; balance $409 53. Of this amount $272.01 was spent in physical and chemical apparatus, including numerous additions to the laboratory. Additional books cost $118.07, pictures for high school room $19.45

TWO PROMOTED; ONE ELECTED.

Board of Education Makes Changes In Teachers at Last Night's Session.

In the absence of President Vodrey, Geo. C. Murphy called the board of education to order last evening.

Mr. Norris reported that two lots had been offered for a school site in Pleasant Heights for the nominal sum of $1. The lot near Lisbon road, 40x100, was recommended for purchase. Plans for the building were ordered.

Fire Extinguishers.

Clerk Hill reported the fire extinguishers in all buildings had been repaired and no new ones were needed immediately. At one building the extinguisher was found in the cellar and in another instance was lost entirely At next meeting action will be taken.

Not Up to Contract.

Clerk Hill, as chairman of the committee on supplies, reported that a portion of the order given O. C. Clark & Co., of Cleveland, was not up to contract. The contract must be lived up to.

A New Janitor.

John McDole has been secured as janitor of the Sheridan avenue school building at a salary of $15 a month.

Schools Are Crowded.

Superintendent Rayman reported that owing to crowding in the Central building, at least 26 scholars of the fifth grade will be transferred to Grant street. In high school there are 160 pupils and two are occupying one desk.

Recommended New Teachers.

Mr. Rayman suggested that Miss Manley be promoted to high school, Miss Edna Cook be placed in the Grant street, and Miss Margaret Becker, of Mundy, O., be engaged to succeed Miss Manley, which was done.

Miss Manley will receive $50 a month, Miss Cook, $30, and Miss Becker, $40.

A Slight Breeze.

Mr. Williams when told that Miss Becker was from Logan, O., said: "It seems to me we are getting a lot of foreign teachers and no person from the city is given a chance."

Mr. Murphy: "Do you know of any one who is capable of filling the position?"

Paid a Few Bills.

The following bills were ordered paid: J. Jones, $9; freight and hauling, $11.85; Butler, Sheldon & Co., $28.20; NEWS REVIEW, $22 50; Sheridan avenue, interest, $79.50; Charles Conkle, $24; Gim & Co., $1,412.95; George Dickey, $5; Champion Iron company, $7.20; Lewis Bros., $11.75; J. The President of France Has Acted at Last and

DREYFUS HAS BEEN PARDONED

The News Heartily Welcomed In This City, Although Regret Is Expressed That the Accused Should Have Had to Get His Freedom That Way--Local Interviews.

PARIS, Sept. 19. — [Special.]—It has just been officially announced that President Loubet has pardoned Dreyfus.

The news was received with more calmness than had been expected, the anticipation of the president's action having prepared the public mind for the actual news. Nevertheless, extraordinary precautions are being taken to prevent an outbreak.

THE NEWS HERE.

How East Liverpool Received the News of Dreyfus' Pardon.

The news was promptly bulletined at the NEWS REVIEW office and was heartily welcomed, although regrets were heard on every side that the accused had not been acquitted instead of pardoned.

William Erlanger said he was not surprised as it was just what he expected. In his opinion he said it was all a concocted scheme by the generals from beginning to the end, and, while he believed they were guilty, the standing of the army had to be maintained or it meant a revolution in France.

Adolph Joseph said he thougnt less of France than before as, if Dreyfus was innocent he should have been acquitted and if he was guilty he should not have been pardoned. He expressed himself as well pleased at the action for the sake of Dreyfus.

I wanted a drink myself, and while waiting my turn I said to some of the people standing by, 'Hurry up, I'm parched!' Somebody patted me on the back and said, 'Thank you, my man you have given me my text for tonight.' It was Mr. Spurgeon." R. E. RAYMAN'S REPORT

To the Board of Education Last Evening Some Grades Are Overcrowded—He Makes Valuable Comments and Interesting Suggestions on the Year's School Work.

Superintendent Rayman's annual report to the board of education states that the primary and grammar grades were overcrowded a greater part of last year, some having 75 and 84 pupils. This condition, he says, should not exist, because no teacher can do efficient work with more than 50 pupils. It is difficult to keep the number per room reduced to 40 or 45 scholars, but to get satisfactory results from teachers conditions must be favorable. No child who applies himself need remain in one grade more than a year. A number of scholars lose time because teachers are given too many pupils, and when a child loses time in the lower grades, age is made an excuse for leaving school before the higher grades are reached.

High School.

In the high school they can prepare for life. The course of study is somewhat elastic and would be much more so if there was room for expansion and a larger teaching force. The course of study was carefully prepared to provide the very best education.

Seating Capacity.

The number of seatings at present is as follows: Central, 876; Sixth street, 409; Third street, 208; East End, 275; West End, 193; Grant street, 205; Bradshaw, 108; Sheridan avenue, 114; Gardendale, 52; Trentvale, 46; Helana, 41.

A Growing City.

The growth of the city is shown by the following figures. The population in 1880 was 5,568, in 1890, 10,956. In 1880 the school enumeration was 1,850. in 1897, 4,682, in 1898, 4,937,in 1899, 5,134.

In business affairs there is no more progressive city in the state. Why not hold the same rank in education? With the progressive spirit that the board of education has manifested in the past two years East Liverpool can soon stand side by side with the best schools of the state.

Buildings.

Rapid growth has made it quite a task for the board to provide school rooms as fast as needed. The district is large and requires a larger number of buildings than a more compact city The buildings now in use are modern and in good condition. Few, if any, cities can boast of better buildings, a fact of which every citizen may be justly proud.

Cost of Schools.

The cost of teaching a scholar in this city in the several branches, figured on enrollment, is: elementary, $7.70; high school, $20.18; figured on daily attendance: elementary, $10.02; high school, $24. This is the lowest of any city of similar size in the state.

The Teachers.

The selection of good teachers is a difficulty all boards have. When applicants secure a teacher's certificate, through examination or otherwise, they think they are ready to teach school. It is often difficult to make such persons understand why they cannot be placed immediately in charge of 50 or more children, and put in their time and draw their pay. The good of the children should be the first and highest consideration.

About School Work.

There is no reason why the English and commercial branches should not be strengthened each year. An effort is being made to improve the common branches. Spelling and penmanship shows a marked improvement, the spelling contests being quite helpful. Arithmetic was improved by introducing a mental arithmetic. It is hoped to introduce formal drills in bookkeeping and the use of commercial papers, and the best in typewriting and stenography.

Music is becoming a potent factor in education. It is to be hoped Ohio will recognize it by law, as well as by custom. One writer says of the subject: "For educational purposes music is invaluable."

In conclusion the superintendent thanks the board, parents, teachers, children, janitors and truant officers for helpful co-operation.

Fire Extinguishers.

Clerk Hill reported the fire extinguishers in all buildings had been repaired and no new ones were needed immediately. At one building the extinguisher was found in the cellar and in another instance was lost entirely At next meeting action will be taken.

Not Up to Contract.

Clerk Hill, as chairman of the committee on supplies, reported that a portion of the order given O. C. Clark & Co., of Cleveland, was not up to contract. The contract must be lived up to.

A New Janitor.

John McDole has been secured as janitor of the Sheridan avenue school building at a salary of $15 a month.

Schools Are Crowded.

Superintendent Rayman reported that owing to crowding in the Central building, at least 26 scholars of the fifth grade will be transferred to Grant street. In high school there are 160 pupils and two are occupying one desk.

Recommended New Teachers.

Mr. Rayman suggested that Miss Manley be promoted to high school, Miss Edna Cook be placed in the Grant street, and Miss Margaret Becker, of Mundy, O., be engaged to succeed Miss Manley, which was done.

Miss Manley will receive $50 a month, Miss Cook, $30, and Miss Becker, $40.

A Slight Breeze.

Mr. Williams when told that Miss Becker was from Logan, O., said: "It seems to me we are getting a lot of foreign teachers and no person from the city is given a chance."

Mr. Murphy: "Do you know of any one who is capable of filling the position?"

Paid a Few Bills.

The following bills were ordered paid: J. Jones, $9; freight and hauling, $11.85; Butler, Sheldon & Co., $28.20; NEWS REVIEW, $22 50; Sheridan avenue, interest, $79.50; Charles Conkle, $24; Gim & Co., $1,412.95; George Dickey, $5; Champion Iron company, $7.20; Lewis Bros., $11.75; J. OFFICIALLY ANNOUNCED

The President of France Has Acted at Last and

DREYFUS HAS BEEN PARDONED

The News Heartily Welcomed In This City, Although Regret Is Expressed That the Accused Should Have Had to Get His Freedom That Way--Local Interviews.

PARIS, Sept. 19. — [Special.]—It has just been officially announced that President Loubet has pardoned Dreyfus.

The news was received with more calmness than had been expected, the anticipation of the president's action having prepared the public mind for the actual news. Nevertheless, extraordinary precautions are being taken to prevent an outbreak.

THE NEWS HERE.

How East Liverpool Received the News of Dreyfus' Pardon.

The news was promptly bulletined at the NEWS REVIEW office and was heartily welcomed, although regrets were heard on every side that the accused had not been acquitted instead of pardoned.

William Erlanger said he was not surprised as it was just what he expected. In his opinion he said it was all a concocted scheme by the generals from beginning to the end, and, while he believed they were guilty, the standing of the army had to be maintained or it meant a revolution in France.

Adolph Joseph said he thought less of France than before as, if Dreyfus was innocent he should have been acquitted and if he was guilty he should not have been pardoned. He expressed himself as well pleased at the action for the sake of Dreyfus.

A New Story About Spurgeon.

An old English railway guard tells this story about the late Dr. Spurgeon: "Near where Spurgeon's tabernacle stands half a dozen main streets all meet at one point. There is a drinking fountain there. It was one very hot summer's evening, and the drinking fountain was in strong demand. I wanted a drink myself, and while waiting my turn I said to some of the people standing by, 'Hurry up, I'm parched!' Somebody patted me on the back and said, 'Thank you, my man you have given me my text for tonight.' It was Mr. Spurgeon." The guard added that he was on his way to the tabernacle at the time, and Spurgeon preached one of the finest sermons he had ever heard on the words "Hurry up, I'm parched!"

FUTURE NAVAL DESIGNS

Combination of the Cruiser and the Battleship.

NEW FEATURES IN WAR VESSELS.

Admiral Melville Talks Entertainingly of America's Naval Progress. The Country Has Fifty-two Vessels Unsurpassed In Efficiency.

In one of the luxuriously appointed apartments of the Union League in Philadelphia the other night there was a feast of science and a flow of soul, the participants in which were men who have been conspicuous in quickening the mechanical and marine pulse of the world. The central figure was Rear Admiral George W. Melville, engineer in chief of the United States navy. His companions were Captain Jackson McElmell, Captain Andrade, Lieutenant Commander Mickley and William H. Levay, all prominent marine engineers, and General Mulholland, a hero of the civil war. These expert authorities of worldwide fame were making a few comparisons which led to some interesting comments by the engineer in chief, who said:

"To put it in a few words, in these days of mechanics everything begins at the coal pile. The whole world is on wheels, moved by steam or electricity; but, as I say, everything is done from the coal pile to the boiler, from the boiler to the engine, from the engine to the dynamo, from the dynamo to the electric motor. Whether getting up the anchor, propelling the ship, ventilating between decks, cooking food for the crew, hoisting the ammunition in action, moving the turrets or working the guns, the entire outfit starts from the coal pile. Electricity must have the steam engine back of it."

Referring to the future of marine design, armament and machinery, the admiral continued:

"The engines of the Kearsarge will go as high as we have gone in speed to date. These engines are triple expansion, 10,000 horsepower, and are rated at 18 knots.

"Our own next departure from former models, a practice which is also coming in vogue among English designers, is to create a composite class, incorporating the best defensive and offensive features of the battleship and the protected cruiser. They may be brought nearer alike by increasing the tonnage of the cruiser and increasing the armor protection and reducing the armor protection on the battleship and having more and lighter guns. Thus we bring the two classes under one and greatly simplify construction and administration.

"The ships Kearsarge and Kentucky, as I have said, are rated at 18 knots. The expectation of the future from ships of the combined battleship and cruiser characteristics mentioned is an increase of speed to 20 knots and more. Some of the modern British ships of this class are claiming 19 knots.

"I am confident in our new ships of doing even better than that. We have two big ships ordered by congress, but the contracts are not yet let. We have 52 vessels, from torpedo boats up to battleships, all of the latest designs and unsurpassed in the world for efficiency and speed. It is doubtful whether any more of the heavy class will be constructed. The designs of the future tend to higher speed and about 15,000 tons displacement.

"The French have ships going as high as 22 or 23 knots an hour. They have lighter batteries and lighter armor. That is the policy of naval construction for the future.

"We are also tending toward tubular boilers, permitting of higher pressure of steam, greater grades of expansion, giving us greater economy of fuel. Yet this is not an unmitigated gain, because it requires a higher grade of intelligence in supervision and in making repairs, which are becoming more and more numerous with the many modern appliances now crowding into all classes of ships and which ten years ago were not thought of.

"The great problem of the future is to have men who can properly direct and manipulate these great fighting machines. The handling of one of these costly constructions in these days is no longer a simple matter of navigation. The whole ship's company, officers and men, must now be educated and trained mechaniciens—to use a terse French word—and electricians."

The engineer in chief added: "I feel a measure of safety in following anything English, but not of the other constructive naval powers, as they are apt to incorporate 'gimcracks,' and these are not safe under the strain of actual war.

"The official reports of the war with Spain show most satisfactory results. There was not a 'sky rocket' engine or ship—that is, one which starts with a spurt and drops like a stick. All were durable and reliable. It is remarkable, but nothing gave out, and even repairs were down to a minimum, not exceeding the proper care of the same class of ships in time of peace. A few torpedo boats were struck and needed repairs, but their performances were splendid."

The admiral did not think much of French marine engineers, as they were disposed to radical steps not justified by achieved advancement and not sustained by thoroughly established results.

"The Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse and other German transatlantic liners," said he, 'show that the Germans are no small hands at marine steam engineering. The Russians are buyers, but they are becoming engineers. They put out some of the best abstract scientific work in the world.

"I often think what a mistake Senator Sumner made in defeating the annexation of Santo Domingo. Samana bay is the greatest harbor in the world. It is far superior to anything we secured in the Spanish war. General Grant always looked a long way ahead. St. Thomas was cheap. That was another place we should have taken. I believe in the Monroe doctrine. We can take care of everything on this side of the water."

Admiral Melville is well satisfied with the results of the builders' trial of the Alabama on Tuesday. He said the other day:

"The 17¼ knots reported from the preliminary trial at sea is 1¼ knots over contract speed. A 30 mile gale and a high sea were unfavorable to the highest results. The engines will do better possibly under average sea conditions. The results on Tuesday broke the previous speed record of our battleships. But that will not be the limit. It is only a step in advance. The new type of ship, merging the defensive qualities of the battleship and the speed of the cruiser, will beat that record approximately from 4 to 5¾ knots. The Alabama, however, advances the record. We will have the fleetest battleships afloat before we get through. That is our aim and expectation. We Americans never fail to reach the goal we drive at."

OUR TRADE IN TRANSVAAL.

News of Director General of Philadelphia Exposition.

Director General Wilson of the National Export exposition at Philadelphia has this to say about the trade of the United States with the Transvaal:

"Our trade is chiefly with Johannesburg, a city of about 30,000 people, almost all of whom are English, Scotch or German. Pretoria is smaller and the trade much less. What we ship there direct is but a small proportion of our trade with South Africa, so small as to be almost insignificant.

"But the reason for its being insignificant is that nearly all our trade is with British and Portuguese countries there, and these reship the supplies of the Dutch republic. Several American firms have branch houses there. The only branch which I know of from this city is that of an engineering company, which furnishes electrical supplies. A Chicago firm, manufacturing machinery, has a big trade there, which is supplied from a branch factory located in England.

"The only statistics available are those of our exports to the various South African countries. Two regular lines of steamers sail monthly from New York city to South African ports, a number of extra vessels being chartered at times. Mining tools, machinery and implements figure largely in the goods sent. All lumber is from Sweden, Norway or the United States, as timber does not grow in South Africa, and our proportion is about one-third of the whole amount. Petroleum and other oils come entirely from America, and paraffin also cuts a heavy figure.

"Ninety per cent of South Africa's imported carriages and vehicles come from America, and all wood for such, their manufacture and repair, is also from here. Every store in the country keeps American cotton duck. Chicago has an immense trade in canned goods.

"The extent of the demand for petroleum may be inferred when I say that only four cities in South Africa have gas plants. One of these is Johannesburg. The price is almost prohibitive, as it is $5 per thousand feet. There are a good many electric lighting plants. The common wooden beam plow made in America has been in use there for 50 years. He hold the market for small implements, the slight amount of heavy agricultural machinery usually coming from England."

Big Deficiency In the World's Harvest.

The Hungarian ministry of agriculture at Vienna has just issued its annual estimate of the world's harvest. This points to a considerable deficiency, says the New York Journal. While the stocks remaining from last year are much smaller than was generally supposed the wheat yield is 110,000,000 hectoliters below last year's yield and about 34,000,000 short of the entire world's demand. The estimated yield of rye is 50,000,000 less than that of last year, of barley 23,000,000 less and of oats 35,000,000 less. The total deficiency in all cereals is about 97,000,000 hectoliters.

SURPRISED THE NATIVES

Navajoes View the Kinetoscope With Awe and Wonder.

"THE WHITE MAN'S FIRE WAGON."

Arizona Indians See the Moving Pictures and Gasp With Amazement. Think the Resurrection Day Has Come—Characteristic of the Tribe.

The Navajo Indians of northeastern Arizona, says the Flagstaff (A. T.) correspondent of the New York Tribune, have been introduced to the vitascope, and their wonder has been as though the day of resurrection had come. The dead have been seen to walk, and out on the great red sandstone plain the white man's magic has brought the "fire wagon" and has arrayed armies of soldiers that came unseen and that vanished into the night.

August is a holiday time with the Navajoes. In this month are held many of the ceremonials of rejoicing, and much of the intertribal visiting with the Moquis, Yava-Supais and Apaches is done, visiting that is both for pleasure and for the barter of blankets and ponies for baskets and pottery and, with the Supais, for dried fruit and melons. The snake dance of the Moquis is attended yearly by hundreds of solemn Navajoes, who have no sneers for the mummeries of the hilltop people, but are willing to concede that the ceremonial is "good medicine" in the rainmaking line. In August the Indian traders usually give their "treats," great entertainments, combining the features of a Wild West show and a barbecue.

This year the most important of the "treats" was at Volz's store, at The Lakes, 17 miles north of Canyon Diablo station, on the Santa Fe railway. It was here that the untutored red man was introduced to one of the marvels of the century's closing decade. An enterprising Chicago photographer had brought his kinetoscope outfit to Wolpi to catch the details of the snake dance. He had been there the year before and, though he seemed to have had poor success in the Moqui villages, had caught the Navajoes at their sport at Volz's. This year, on the plain behind the store, on a canvas screen, he exhibited his moving pictures before an assemblage of 600 agitated aboriginals. As the Empire State express grew from a pin point in the distance until it filled the frame, seemingly rushing down upon the crowd, the Indians gasped in unison and would have fled had not the interpreter reassured them. The march past of soldiery was something that most of them had seen, but the exhibition drill of the Kansas City fire department was an uncanny mystery. But the climax came when the pictures taken on the same spot the preceding year were reproduced. Most of the Indians had been present when the pictures were taken. Many of them almost shrieked when they saw themselves in action as they were in the chicken pulling contest and in the races of last August. Last year a popular clerk, since gone away, had carelessly walked across the instrument's field. The Indians shouted as they saw him again on the canvas. Real enthusiasm was caused by the passage across the screen of the trader's well known little dog. Among the friends recognized a number had died in the winter in the smallpox epidemic. When the entertainment was over, the Indians crowded around the screen, feeling the canvas and rubbing their cheeks upon it, chattering noisily.

Those who believe that decadency is the heritage of the American Indian would do well to study this Navajo tribe. In 1868 it numbered 12,000 souls. Today, through natural increase and not through immigration, almost entirely without admixture of other blood, there are 22,000 Navajoes. Every individual tribesman appears prosperous. Many of the bucks are rich, even from the point of view of the white man. It is roughly though conservatively estimated that the tribe has 1,600,000 sheep, 60,000 head of cattle, 300,000 goats and horses in such number as almost to defy enumeration. Horseflesh, indeed, is one of the main food staples. The ponies, not necessarily of poor stock, are unsalable, even at $3 a head. Their flesh is esteemed fully equal to beef. A very large percentage of the wool crop is sold for shipment to Boston just as is the crop of the white wool grower. The Navajo blankets are still famous, though the better specimens are to be had only on payment of seemingly exorbitant prices. One of the main sources of the tribe's revenue is now from the sale of blankets that cost the purchaser little if any more than would blankets of ordinary mill manufacture. Most of this modern weaving is done, singular to relate, with ordinary Germantown yarn brought to Arizona for the Indians by the carload. If special colors are required by the Indian weavers, recourse is had to aniline dyes. Yet despite this strange admixture of aboriginal handicraft and modern convenience the Indian has never before so prospered.

FINE JOB WORK. The NEWS REVIEW job rooms are the best equipped in eastern Ohio, and we are consequently able to turn out large quantities of work on short notice.

UNION LABELS.

It should be a deep-rooted principle of all union workmen and union sympathizers, and particularly those members of the different organizations of East Liverpool, to buy nothing but Union Label goods, in preference to all others. And why not? If we ask fair wages for our labor, why should we buy goods made at unfair wages by others?

The Union Label in every industry is a guarantee of fair wages, decent working hours and union labor employed.

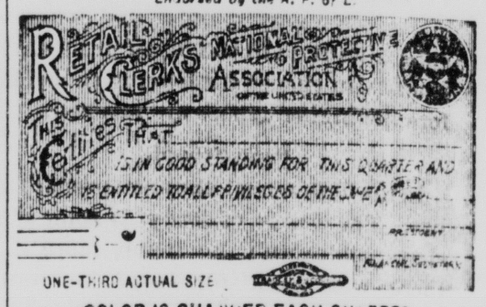

UNION PAPERS.

All Union papers of East Liverpool are known to the various craft and unions of the city by the printing of the above Union Labels at the head of their columns

PATRONIZE UNION CLERKS.

All members of the R. C. N. P. A. can show this card. Ask for it when making your purchases.

Endorsed by the A. F. of L.

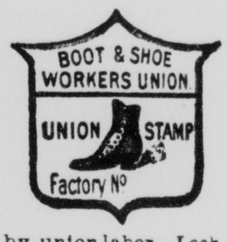

ONE-THIRD ACTUAL SIZE

COLOR IS CHANGED EACH QUARTER.

UNION MADE BOOTS AND SHOES.

The Boot and Shoe Workers' union is the national head of the trade, and is a new combination of all the branches of boot and shoe workers. The above trade-mark when found on the sole or lining of a boot or shoe, is a guarantee that the same is made by union labor. Look for the above design stamped on the sole of every pair of boots or shoes you buy.

CUSTOM TAILORS' LABEL.

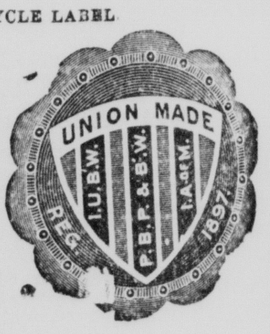

The Journeymen Tailor's Label is to be found in the inside breast pocket of the coat, on the under side of the buckle strap of the vest, and on the waistband lining of the pants. It is printed in black ink on white linen.

UNION MADE CLOTHES.

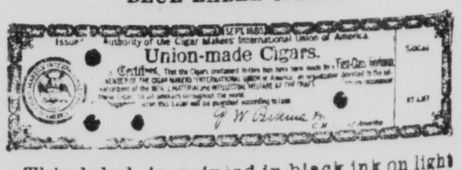

You will find the linen label attached by machine stitching to the inside breast pocket of the coat, on the inside of the buckle strap of the vest, and on the waistband lining of the pants.

BICYCLE LABEL

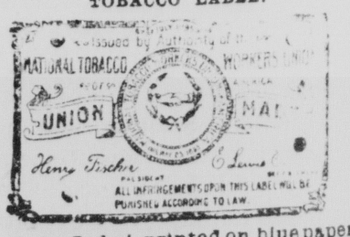

"Do unto others as ye would that others should do unto you." You will endorse the "Golden Rule" by buying and riding bicycles bearing this Label. The colors are as follows: The Union shield is in red, white and blue, on a background of pea green, bordered by gold. The Label will be placed on the upper front side of the tube that receives the seat post.

BLUE LABEL CIGARS.

This label is printed in black ink on light blue paper, and is pasted on the cigar-box. Don't mix it up with the U. S. revenue label on the box, as the latter is nearly of a similar color.

TOBACCO LABEL.

UNION BREAD AND CRACKERS.

This is a full size facsimile of the Label of the Bakers' and Confectioners' union. It is printed on fine white paper and is pasted on each loaf of union-made bread. It is an evidence that the bread is made under fair and wholesome conditions, and in clean and healthy bakeshops. Following is the confectioners' and cracker Label:

FUTURE NAVAL DESIGNS

Combination of the Cruiser and the Battleship.

NEW FEATURES IN WAR VESSELS.

Admiral Melville Talks Entertainingly of America's Naval Progress. The Country Has Fifty-two Vessels Unsurpassed In Efficiency.

In one of the luxuriously appointed apartments of the Union League in Philadelphia the other night there was a feast of science and a flow of soul, the participants in which were men who have been conspicuous in quickening the mechanical and marine pulse of the world. The central figure was Rear Admiral George W. Melville, engineer in chief of the United States navy. His companions were Captain Jackson McElmell, Captain Andrade, Lieutenant Commander Mickley and William H. Levay, all prominent marine engineers, and General Mulholland, a hero of the civil war. These expert authorities of worldwide fame were making a few comparisons which led to some interesting comments by the engineer in chief, who said:

"To put it in a few words, in these days of mechanics everything begins at the coal pile. The whole world is on wheels, moved by steam or electricity; but, as I say, everything is done from the coal pile to the boiler, from the boiler to the engine, from the engine to the dynamo, from the dynamo to the electric motor. Whether getting up the anchor, propelling the ship, ventilating between decks, cooking food for the crew, hoisting the ammunition in action, moving the turrets or working the guns, the entire outfit starts from the coal pile. Electricity must have the steam engine back of it."

Referring to the future of marine design, armament and machinery, the admiral continued:

"The engines of the Kearsarge will go as high as we have gone in speed to date. These engines are triple expansion, 10,000 horsepower, and are rated at 18 knots.

"Our own next departure from former models, a practice which is also coming in vogue among English designers, is to create a composite class, incorporating the best defensive and offensive features of the battleship and the protected cruiser. They may be brought nearer alike by increasing the tonnage of the cruiser and increasing the armor protection and reducing the armor protection on the battleship and having more and lighter guns. Thus we bring the two classes under one and greatly simplify construction and administration.

"The ships Kearsarge and Kentucky, as I have said, are rated at 18 knots. The expectation of the future from ships of the combined battleship and cruiser characteristics mentioned is an increase of speed to 20 knots and more. Some of the modern British ships of this class are claiming 19 knots.

"I am confident in our new ships of doing even better than that. We have two big ships ordered by congress, but the contracts are not yet let. We have 52 vessels, from torpedo boats up to battleships, all of the latest designs and unsurpassed in the world for efficiency and speed. It is doubtful whether any more of the heavy class will be constructed. The designs of the future tend to higher speed and about 15,000 tons displacement.

"The French have ships going as high as 22 or 23 knots an hour. They have lighter batteries and lighter armor. That is the policy of naval construction for the future.

"We are also tending toward tubular boilers, permitting of higher pressure of steam, greater grades of expansion, giving us greater economy of fuel. Yet this is not an unmitigated gain, because it requires a higher grade of intelligence in supervision and in making repairs, which are becoming more and more numerous with the many modern appliances now crowding into all classes of ships and which ten years ago were not thought of.

"The great problem of the future is to have men who can properly direct and manipulate these great fighting machines. The handling of one of these costly constructions in these days is no longer a simple matter of navigation. The whole ship's company, officers and men, must now be educated and trained mechaniciens—to use a terse French word—and electricians."

The engineer in chief added: "I feel a measure of safety in following anything English, but not of the other constructive naval powers, as they are apt to incorporate 'gimcracks,' and these are not safe under the strain of actual war.

"The official reports of the war with Spain show most satisfactory results. There was not a 'sky rocket' engine or ship—that is, one which starts with a spurt and drops like a stick. All were durable and reliable. It is remarkable, but nothing gave out, and even repairs were down to a minimum, not exceeding the proper care of the same class of ships in time of peace. A few torpedo boats were struck and needed repairs, but their performances were splendid."

The admiral did not think much of French marine engineers, as they were disposed to radical steps not justified by achieved advancement and not sustained by thoroughly established results.

"The Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse and other German transatlantic liners," said he, 'show that the Germans are no small hands at marine steam engineering. The Russians are buyers, but they are becoming engineers. They put out some of the best abstract scientific work in the world.

"I often think what a mistake Senator Sumner made in defeating the annexation of Santo Domingo. Samana bay is the greatest harbor in the world. It is far superior to anything we secured in the Spanish war. General Grant always looked a long way ahead. St. Thomas was cheap. That was another place we should have taken. I believe in the Monroe doctrine. We can take care of everything on this side of the water."

Admiral Melville is well satisfied with the results of the builders' trial of the Alabama on Tuesday. He said the other day:

"The 17¼ knots reported from the preliminary trial at sea is 1¼ knots over contract speed. A 30 mile gale and a high sea were unfavorable to the highest results. The engines will do better possibly under average sea conditions. The results on Tuesday broke the previous speed record of our battleships. But that will not be the limit. It is only a step in advance. The new type of ship, merging the defensive qualities of the battleship and the speed of the cruiser, will beat that record approximately from 4 to 5¾ knots. The Alabama, however, advances the record. We will have the fleetest battleships afloat before we get through. That is our aim and expectation. We Americans never fail to reach the goal we drive at."

OUR TRADE IN TRANSVAAL.

News of Director General of Philadelphia Exposition.

Director General Wilson of the National Export exposition at Philadelphia has this to say about the trade of the United States with the Transvaal:

"Our trade is chiefly with Johannesburg, a city of about 30,000 people, almost all of whom are English, Scotch or German. Pretoria is smaller and the trade much less. What we ship there direct is but a small proportion of our trade with South Africa, so small as to be almost insignificant.

"But the reason for its being insignificant is that nearly all our trade is with British and Portuguese countries there, and these reship the supplies of the Dutch republic. Several American firms have branch houses there. The only branch which I know of from this city is that of an engineering company, which furnishes electrical supplies. A Chicago firm, manufacturing machinery, has a big trade there, which is supplied from a branch factory located in England.

"The only statistics available are those of our exports to the various South African countries. Two regular lines of steamers sail monthly from New York city to South African ports, a number of extra vessels being chartered at times. Mining tools, machinery and implements figure largely in the goods sent. All lumber is from Sweden, Norway or the United States, as timber does not grow in South Africa, and our proportion is about one-third of the whole amount. Petroleum and other oils come entirely from America, and paraffin also cuts a heavy figure.

"Ninety per cent of South Africa's imported carriages and vehicles come from America, and all wood for such, their manufacture and repair, is also from here. Every store in the country keeps American cotton duck. Chicago has an immense trade in canned goods.

"The extent of the demand for petroleum may be inferred when I say that only four cities in South Africa have gas plants. One of these is Johannesburg. The price is almost prohibitive, as it is $5 per thousand feet. There are a good many electric lighting plants. The common wooden beam plow made in America has been in use there for 50 years. He hold the market for small implements, the slight amount of heavy agricultural machinery usually coming from England."

Big Deficiency In the World's Harvest.

The Hungarian ministry of agriculture at Vienna has just issued its annual estimate of the world's harvest. This points to a considerable deficiency, says the New York Journal. While the stocks remaining from last year are much smaller than was generally supposed the wheat yield is 110,000,000 hectoliters below last year's yield and about 34,000,000 short of the entire world's demand. The estimated yield of rye is 50,000,000 less than that of last year, of barley 23,000,000 less and of oats 35,000,000 less. The total deficiency in all cereals is about 97,000,000 hectoliters.

SURPRISED THE NATIVES

Navajoes View the Kinetoscope With Awe and Wonder.

"THE WHITE MAN'S FIRE WAGON."

Arizona Indians See the Moving Pictures and Gasp With Amazement. Think the Resurrection Day Has Come—Characteristic of the Tribe.

The Navajo Indians of northeastern Arizona, says the Flagstaff (A. T.) correspondent of the New York Tribune, have been introduced to the vitascope, and their wonder has been as though the day of resurrection had come. The dead have been seen to walk, and out on the great red sandstone plain the white man's magic has brought the "fire wagon" and has arrayed armies of soldiers that came unseen and that vanished into the night.

August is a holiday time with the Navajoes. In this month are held many of the ceremonials of rejoicing, and much of the intertribal visiting with the Moquis, Yava-Supais and Apaches is done, visiting that is both for pleasure and for the barter of blankets and ponies for baskets and pottery and, with the Supais, for dried fruit and melons. The snake dance of the Moquis is attended yearly by hundreds of solemn Navajoes, who have no sneers for the mummeries of the hilltop people, but are willing to concede that the ceremonial is "good medicine" in the rainmaking line. In August the Indian traders usually give their "treats," great entertainments, combining the features of a Wild West show and a barbecue.

This year the most important of the "treats" was at Volz's store, at The Lakes, 17 miles north of Canyon Diablo station, on the Santa Fe railway. It was here that the untutored red man was introduced to one of the marvels of the century's closing decade. An enterprising Chicago photographer had brought his kinetoscope outfit to Wolpi to catch the details of the snake dance. He had been there the year before and, though he seemed to have had poor success in the Moqui villages, had caught the Navajoes at their sport at Volz's. This year, on the plain behind the store, on a canvas screen, he exhibited his moving pictures before an assemblage of 600 agitated aboriginals. As the Empire State express grew from a pin point in the distance until it filled the frame, seemingly rushing down upon the crowd, the Indians gasped in unison and would have fled had not the interpreter reassured them. The march past of soldiery was something that most of them had seen, but the exhibition drill of the Kansas City fire department was an uncanny mystery. But the climax came when the pictures taken on the same spot the preceding year were reproduced. Most of the Indians had been present when the pictures were taken. Many of them almost shrieked when they saw themselves in action as they were in the chicken pulling contest and in the races of last August. Last year a popular clerk, since gone away, had carelessly walked across the instrument's field. The Indians shouted as they saw him again on the canvas. Real enthusiasm was caused by the passage across the screen of the trader's well known little dog. Among the friends recognized a number had died in the winter in the smallpox epidemic. When the entertainment was over, the Indians crowded around the screen, feeling the canvas and rubbing their cheeks upon it, chattering noisily.

Those who believe that decadency is the heritage of the American Indian would do well to study this Navajo tribe. In 1868 it numbered 12,000 souls. Today, through natural increase and not through immigration, almost entirely without admixture of other blood, there are 22,000 Navajoes. Every individual tribesman appears prosperous. Many of the bucks are rich, even from the point of view of the white man. It is roughly though conservatively estimated that the tribe has 1,600,000 sheep, 60,000 head of cattle, 300,000 goats and horses in such number as almost to defy enumeration. Horseflesh, indeed, is one of the main food staples. The ponies, not necessarily of poor stock, are unsalable, even at $3 a head. Their flesh is esteemed fully equal to beef. A very large percentage of the wool crop is sold for shipment to Boston just as is the crop of the white wool grower. The Navajo blankets are still famous, though the better specimens are to be had only on payment of seemingly exorbitant prices. One of the main sources of the tribe's revenue is now from the sale of blankets that cost the purchaser little if any more than would blankets of ordinary mill manufacture. Most of this modern weaving is done, singular to relate, with ordinary Germantown yarn brought to Arizona for the Indians by the carload. If special colors are required by the Indian weavers, recourse is had to aniline dyes. Yet despite this strange admixture of aboriginal handicraft and modern convenience the Indian has never before so prospered.

FINE JOB WORK. The NEWS REVIEW job rooms are the best equipped in eastern Ohio, and we are consequently able to turn out large quantities of work on short notice.

UNION LABELS.

It should be a deep-rooted principle of all union workmen and union sympathizers, and particularly those members of the different organizations of East Liverpool, to buy nothing but Union Label goods, in preference to all others. And why not? If we ask fair wages for our labor, why should we buy goods made at unfair wages by others?

The Union Label in every industry is a guarantee of fair wages, decent working hours and union labor employed.

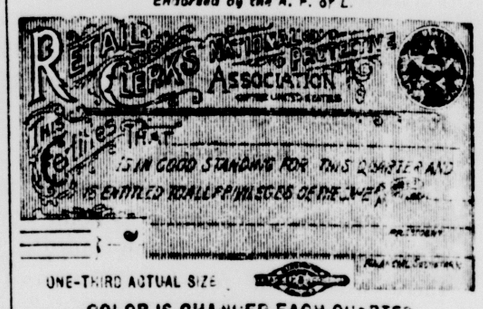

UNION PAPERS.

All Union papers of East Liverpool are known to the various craft and unions of the city by the printing of the above Union Labels at the head of their columns

ONE-THIRD ACTUAL SIZE

COLOR IS CHANGED EACH QUARTER.

UNION MADE BOOTS AND SHOES.

The Boot and Shoe Workers' union is the national head of the trade, and is a new combination of all the branches of boot and shoe workers. The above trade-mark when found on the sole or lining of a boot or shoe, is a guarantee that the same is made by union labor. Look for the above design stamped on the sole of every pair of boots or shoes you buy.

CUSTOM TAILORS' LABEL.

The Journeymen Tailor's Label is to be found in the inside breast pocket of the coat, on the under side of the buckle strap of the vest, and on the waistband lining of the pants. It is printed in black ink on white linen.

UNION MADE CLOTHES.

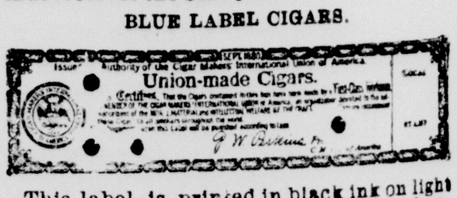

You will find the linen label attached by machine stitching to the inside breast pocket of the coat, on the inside of the buckle strap of the vest, and on the waistband lining of the pants.

BICYCLE LABEL

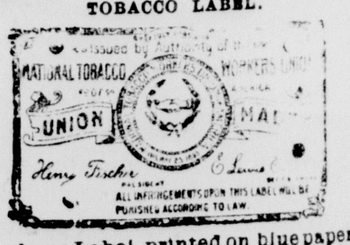

"Do unto others as ye would that others should do unto you." You will endorse the "Golden Rule" by buying and riding bicycles bearing this Label. The colors are as follows: The Union shield is in red, white and blue, on a background of pea green, bordered by gold. The Label will be placed on the upper front side of the tube that receives the seat post.

BLUE LABEL CIGARS.

This label is printed in black ink on light blue paper, and is pasted on the cigar-box. Don't mix it up with the U. S. revenue label on the box, as the latter is nearly of a similar color.

TOBACCO LABEL.

UNION BREAD AND CRACKERS.

This is a full size facsimile of the Label of the Bakers' and Confectioners' union. It is printed on fine white paper and is pasted on each loaf of union-made bread. It is an evidence that the bread is made under fair and wholesome conditions, and in clean and healthy bakeshops. Following is the confectioners' and cracker Label:

FUTURE NAVAL DESIGNS

NEW FEATURES IN WAR VESSELS.

Admiral Melville Talks Entertainingly of America's Naval Progress. The Country Has Fifty-two Vessels Unsurpassed In Efficiency.

In one of the luxuriously appointed apartments of the Union League in Philadelphia the other night there was a feast of science and a flow of soul, the participants in which were men who have been conspicuous in quickening the mechanical and marine pulse of the world. The central figure was Rear Admiral George W. Melville, engineer in chief of the United States navy. His companions were Captain Jackson McElmell, Captain Andrade, Lieutenant Commander Mickley and William H. Levay, all prominent marine engineers, and General Mulholland, a hero of the civil war. These expert authorities of worldwide fame were making a few comparisons which led to some interesting comments by the engineer in chief, who said:

"To put it in a few words, in these days of mechanics everything begins at the coal pile. The whole world is on wheels, moved by steam or electricity; but, as I say, everything is done from the coal pile to the boiler, from the boiler to the engine, from the engine to the dynamo, from the dynamo to the electric motor. Whether getting up the anchor, propelling the ship, ventilating between decks, cooking food for the crew, hoisting the ammunition in action, moving the turrets or working the guns, the entire outfit starts from the coal pile. Electricity must have the steam engine back of it."

Referring to the future of marine design, armament and machinery, the admiral continued:

"The engines of the Kearsarge will go as high as we have gone in speed to date. These engines are triple expansion, 10,000 horsepower, and are rated at 18 knots.

"Our own next departure from former models, a practice which is also coming in vogue among English designers, is to create a composite class, incorporating the best defensive and offensive features of the battleship and the protected cruiser. They may be brought nearer alike by increasing the tonnage of the cruiser and increasing the armor protection and reducing the armor protection on the battleship and having more and lighter guns. Thus we bring the two classes under one and greatly simplify construction and administration.

"The ships Kearsarge and Kentucky, as I have said, are rated at 18 knots. The expectation of the future from ships of the combined battleship and cruiser characteristics mentioned is an increase of speed to 20 knots and more. Some of the modern British ships of this class are claiming 19 knots.

"I am confident in our new ships of doing even better than that. We have two big ships ordered by congress, but the contracts are not yet let. We have 52 vessels, from torpedo boats up to battleships, all of the latest designs and unsurpassed in the world for efficiency and speed. It is doubtful whether any more of the heavy class will be constructed. The designs of the future tend to higher speed and about 15,000 tons displacement.

"The French have ships going as high as 22 or 23 knots an hour. They have lighter batteries and lighter armor. That is the policy of naval construction for the future.

"We are also tending toward tubular boilers, permitting of higher pressure of steam, greater grades of expansion, giving us greater economy of fuel. Yet this is not an unmitigated gain, because it requires a higher grade of intelligence in supervision and in making repairs, which are becoming more and more numerous with the many modern appliances now crowding into all classes of ships and which ten years ago were not thought of.

"The great problem of the future is to have men who can properly direct and manipulate these great fighting machines. The handling of one of these costly constructions in these days is no longer a simple matter of navigation. The whole ship's company, officers and men, must now be educated and trained mechaniciens—to use a terse French word—and electricians."

The engineer in chief added: "I feel a measure of safety in following anything English, but not of the other constructive naval powers, as they are apt to incorporate 'gimcracks,' and these are not safe under the strain of actual war.

"The official reports of the war with Spain show most satisfactory results. There was not a 'sky rocket' engine or ship—that is, one which starts with a spurt and drops like a stick. All were durable and reliable. It is remarkable, but nothing gave out, and even repairs were down to a minimum, not exceeding the proper care of the same class of ships in time of peace. A few torpedo boats were struck and needed repairs, but their performances were splendid."

The admiral did not think much of French marine engineers, as they were disposed to radical steps not justified by achieved advancement and not sustained by thoroughly established results.

"The Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse and other German transatlantic liners," said he, 'show that the Germans are no small hands at marine steam engineering. The Russians are buyers, but they are becoming engineers. They put out some of the best abstract scientific work in the world.

"I often think what a mistake Senator Sumner made in defeating the annexation of Santo Domingo. Samana bay is the greatest harbor in the world. It is far superior to anything we secured in the Spanish war. General Grant always looked a long way ahead. St. Thomas was cheap. That was another place we should have taken. I believe in the Monroe doctrine. We can take care of everything on this side of the water."

Admiral Melville is well satisfied with the results of the builders' trial of the Alabama on Tuesday. He said the other day:

"The 17¼ knots reported from the preliminary trial at sea is 1¼ knots over contract speed. A 30 mile gale and a high sea were unfavorable to the highest results. The engines will do better possibly under average sea conditions. The results on Tuesday broke the previous speed record of our battleships. But that will not be the limit. It is only a step in advance. The new type of ship, merging the defensive qualities of the battleship and the speed of the cruiser, will beat that record approximately from 4 to 5¾ knots. The Alabama, however, advances the record. We will have the fleetest battleships afloat before we get through. That is our aim and expectation. We Americans never fail to reach the goal we drive at."

OUR TRADE IN TRANSVAAL.

News of Director General of Philadelphia Exposition.

Director General Wilson of the National Export exposition at Philadelphia has this to say about the trade of the United States with the Transvaal:

"Our trade is chiefly with Johannesburg, a city of about 30,000 people, almost all of whom are English, Scotch or German. Pretoria is smaller and the trade much less. What we ship there direct is but a small proportion of our trade with South Africa, so small as to be almost insignificant.

"But the reason for its being insignificant is that nearly all our trade is with British and Portuguese countries there, and these reship the supplies of the Dutch republic. Several American firms have branch houses there. The only branch which I know of from this city is that of an engineering company, which furnishes electrical supplies. A Chicago firm, manufacturing machinery, has a big trade there, which is supplied from a branch factory located in England.

"The only statistics available are those of our exports to the various South African countries. Two regular lines of steamers sail monthly from New York city to South African ports, a number of extra vessels being chartered at times. Mining tools, machinery and implements figure largely in the goods sent. All lumber is from Sweden, Norway or the United States, as timber does not grow in South Africa, and our proportion is about one-third of the whole amount. Petroleum and other oils come entirely from America, and paraffin also cuts a heavy figure.

"Ninety per cent of South Africa's imported carriages and vehicles come from America, and all wood for such, their manufacture and repair, is also from here. Every store in the country keeps American cotton duck. Chicago has an immense trade in canned goods.

"The extent of the demand for petroleum may be inferred when I say that only four cities in South Africa have gas plants. One of these is Johannesburg. The price is almost prohibitive, as it is $5 per thousand feet. There are a good many electric lighting plants. The common wooden beam plow made in America has been in use there for 50 years. He hold the market for small implements, the slight amount of heavy agricultural machinery usually coming from England."

Big Deficiency In the World's Harvest.

The Hungarian ministry of agriculture at Vienna has just issued its annual estimate of the world's harvest. This points to a considerable deficiency, says the New York Journal. While the stocks remaining from last year are much smaller than was generally supposed the wheat yield is 110,000,000 hectoliters below last year's yield and about 34,000,000 short of the entire world's demand. The estimated yield of rye is 50,000,000 less than that of last year, of barley 23,000,000 less and of oats 35,000,000 less. The total deficiency in all cereals is about 97,000,000 hectoliters.

"THE WHITE MAN'S FIRE WAGON."

Arizona Indians See the Moving Pictures and Gasp With Amazement. Think the Resurrection Day Has Come—Characteristic of the Tribe.

The Navajo Indians of northeastern Arizona, says the Flagstaff (A. T.) correspondent of the New York Tribune, have been introduced to the vitascope, and their wonder has been as though the day of resurrection had come. The dead have been seen to walk, and out on the great red sandstone plain the white man's magic has brought the "fire wagon" and has arrayed armies of soldiers that came unseen and that vanished into the night.

August is a holiday time with the Navajoes. In this month are held many of the ceremonials of rejoicing, and much of the intertribal visiting with the Moquis, Yava-Supais and Apaches is done, visiting that is both for pleasure and for the barter of blankets and ponies for baskets and pottery and, with the Supais, for dried fruit and melons. The snake dance of the Moquis is attended yearly by hundreds of solemn Navajoes, who have no sneers for the mummeries of the hilltop people, but are willing to concede that the ceremonial is "good medicine" in the rainmaking line. In August the Indian traders usually give their "treats," great entertainments, combining the features of a Wild West show and a barbecue.

This year the most important of the "treats" was at Volz's store, at The Lakes, 17 miles north of Canyon Diablo station, on the Santa Fe railway. It was here that the untutored red man was introduced to one of the marvels of the century's closing decade. An enterprising Chicago photographer had brought his kinetoscope outfit to Wolpi to catch the details of the snake dance. He had been there the year before and, though he seemed to have had poor success in the Moqui villages, had caught the Navajoes at their sport at Volz's. This year, on the plain behind the store, on a canvas screen, he exhibited his moving pictures before an assemblage of 600 agitated aboriginals. As the Empire State express grew from a pin point in the distance until it filled the frame, seemingly rushing down upon the crowd, the Indians gasped in unison and would have fled had not the interpreter reassured them. The march past of soldiery was something that most of them had seen, but the exhibition drill of the Kansas City fire department was an uncanny mystery. But the climax came when the pictures taken on the same spot the preceding year were reproduced. Most of the Indians had been present when the pictures were taken. Many of them almost shrieked when they saw themselves in action as they were in the chicken pulling contest and in the races of last August. Last year a popular clerk, since gone away, had carelessly walked across the instrument's field. The Indians shouted as they saw him again on the canvas. Real enthusiasm was caused by the passage across the screen of the trader's well known little dog. Among the friends recognized a number had died in the winter in the smallpox epidemic. When the entertainment was over, the Indians crowded around the screen, feeling the canvas and rubbing their cheeks upon it, enattering noisily.

Those who believe that decadency is the heritage of the American Indian would do well to study this Navajo tribe. In 1868 it numbered 12,000 souls. Today, through natural increase and not through immigration, almost entirely without admixture of other blood, there are 22,000 Navajoes. Every individual tribesman appears prosperous. Many of the bucks are rich, even from the point of view of the white man. It is roughly though conservatively estimated that the tribe has 1,600,000 sheep, 60,000 head of cattle, 300,000 goats and horses in such number as almost to defy enumeration. Horseflesh, indeed, is one of the main food staples. The ponies, not necessarily of poor stock, are unsalable, even at $3 a head. Their flesh is esteemed fully equal to beef. A very large percentage of the wool crop is sold for shipment to Boston just as is the crop of the white wool grower. The Navajo blankets are still famous, though the better specimens are to be had only on payment of seemingly exorbitant prices. One of the main sources of the tribe's revenue is now from the sale of blankets that cost the purchaser little if any more than would blankets of ordinary mill manufacture. Most of this modern weaving is done, singular to relate, with ordinary Germantown yarn brought to Arizona for the Indians by the carload. If special colors are required by the Indian weavers, recourse is had to aniline dyes. Yet despite this strange admixture of aboriginal handicraft and modern convenience the Indian has never before so prospered.

M'LEAN'S ORGANIZATION

The Manner In Which He Hopes to Win.

IT WILL COST OVER $500,000,

But He Has Money to Burn and Proposes to Use It Without Limit — But It Isn't a Democratic Year This Time, and John R. and His Barrel Will Be Repudiated by the People.

The Democrats are shouting vociferously that John R. McLean is an "organizer," and predicting what the great "organizer" will do this year in Ohio.

The Republican state committee is in full possession of the general plan of organization which Mr. McLean proposes to pursue. They have it from the lips of a man to whom McLean intrusted it, and nobody would be surprised to be told that it calls for an expenditure of over half a million dollars on "organization." No wonder the Democratic heelers are chuckling over McLean's "great ability" as an organizer.

The entire plan is not disclosed by the Republican committee, but it contemplates the hiring of men outright in each precinct in the state to give all their time to McLean for the balance of the campaign and to receive the modest remuneration of $3 per day.

The McLean lieutenants, previous to the Zanesville convention, did not waste any time in telling about McLean's devotion to the principles of the Democratic party. Bernard, Norton, Reemelin, Cogan, Brady and Ike Hill did not urge McLean's candidacy because of his record as a high-minded Democrat. "McLean is an organizer!" they shouted, and the Zanesville delegates were convinced. McLean's work in organizing his forces for the convention was self-evident. After the convention, when he was denounced from all quarters, his lieutenants came back with the old cry, "He is an organizer!" That was their defense.

The whole McLean scheme of organization had been discussed and elaborated before his nomination. The McLeanites made no secret of the part money would play in organization. The delegates to the Zanesville convention were told that McLean would spend from half a million to a million dollars to be elected.

The McLean plans contemplate a "precinct organization." There are about 3,000 election precincts in Ohio, each precinct having about 300 voters. In the large cities a total vote exceeding 450 was cast in many precincts. When townships are divided into precincts the precinct vote usually falls short of 300. The McLean organization contemplates the appointment of one precinct supervisor in every precinct in the state.

Immediately after the Zanesville convention the congressional district supervisors were chosen, and as rapidly as possible since the county supervisors have been named. The congressional district supervisors are to have supervision over all the counties in their districts. A list of precinct supervisors is prepared by each county supervisor as soon after his appointment as possible and sent to Louie Bernard. These names are immediately placed on the McLean payroll and orders sent to the county supervisor to put the men to work.

The congressional and county supervisors will be recompensed in various ways. All will receive remuneration in cash, according to a sliding scale, based on the relative importance of the work in the various districts and counties. In addition to this there will be promises of personal appointment or state patronage, to be fulfilled in the event of McLean's election.

The precinct is the unit of the plan. Every McLean lieutenant is laying enormous stress on the precinct. The importance of naming only good men, who are hustlers and who will obey every order from headquarters without question, "just as a soldier would," has been strongly impressed on the county supervisors.

EVERY PRECINCT SUPERVISOR WILL RECEIVE $3 PER DAY FROM THE DAY OF HIS APPOINTMENT TO NOV. 8, 1899.

As the majority of the precinct supervisors have already been appointed it is fair to estimate the average time during which each supervisor is employed in the McLean campaign at eight weeks. The average pay of each supervisor is $21 per week, or $168 for eight weeks. On this basis, the pay of the 3,000 supervisors in Ohio will aggregate $504,000!

Each precinct supervisor will devote his entire time until election day to perfecting the organization of his precinct. He will personally visit every voter in the precinct. He will be furnished a fund to "treat the boys right." He will circulate every story, truth or lie, that he receives from headquarters, when ordered to do so. He will mingle in every gathering in his precinct and adapt himself to every crowd in which he finds himself, and all the time he will sound the praises of John R. McLean. He will ignore every local Democratic ticket, except when absolutely necessary, but it will be his duty to see that every candidate on his local ticket and the candidate's friends are hustling for McLean.

Taken altogether, the exposure of McLean's plan of campaign bears out McLean's statement made in a private conversation before he left his home in Washington, that he would put $500,000 into this campaign, and makes it certain that he has had assurances of an additional $250,000 from the Silver trust in the desperate effort to make a good showing this fall in Ohio.

Referring to the campaign of 1883, Allen O. Myers, in his book, "Bosses and Boodle," says, "Mr. McLean claimed to have expended $100,000 in helping carry Hamilton county and elect a legislature."

If McLean was willing to spend $100,000 in Hamilton county alone, simply to defeat Pendleton for senator, it is easy to believe that he will spend three-quarters of a million dollars in the effort to become governor of Ohio, and possibly the Democratic nominee for president.

This, however, is a different year from 1883 in every respect, and even the whole of Mr. McLean's enormous fortune, if it were poured out to secure success, would fail signally and ignominiously.

FACTS ON LYNCHINGS

DEMOCRATIC STATES SHOULD CONDEMN ATROCITIES.

A Detailed Statement Shows That Although Democrats Control Only 15 States, Yet They Have 140 Out of 166 Lynchings to Their Credit.

That great apostle of the colored people, the Hon. Frederick Douglass, frequently warned his brethren against supporting the Democratic party. He once wrote to a friend saying:

"Never let it be a fact that my brethren in this country have turned from the Republican party that has always befriended them, to give support to the Democratic party that has always been their foe. Let me warn them against this."

A detailed statement of the lynchings for 1897 emphasizes the warning of this magnificent leader, now passed to the great beyond.

Democratic States.

Alabama, 19; Arkansas, 11; Florida, 12; Georgia, 14; Kentucky, 7; Louisiana, 14; Mississippi, 16; Missouri, 4; South Carolina, 6; Tennessee, 7; Texas, 25; Virginia, 5; total, 140.

Republican States.

California, 1; Illinois, 1; Indiana, 5; Maryland, 1; North Dakota, 3; Ohio, 1; North Carolina, 1; total 13.

Silver or Populist States.

Territories, 7.

The Democrats control 15 states of the Union which have 140 lynchings to their account.

The Republicans control 32 states, which have 13 lynchings to answer for. Less than one-half as many Democratic states show over ten-fold the number of lynchings as the Republican states. In other words 20 lynchings occur in Democratic states to one in a Republican state.

In view of these facts it would seem to be in order for the Democrats of Ohio to call a convention of all the Democratic states of the union and formulate a plank denouncing these Democratic lynching parties. Until they do that the colored people of Ohio will be justified in accepting that Zanesville plank for what it is worth —the paper it is written on.

PENSION ATTORNEYS.

Why They Are Attacking Commissioner Evans.

It turns out that attacks upon Pension Commissioner Evans are largely due to the fact that he has dropped from the roll of claim agents and pension attorneys more than 30,000 men. When he came into office the names of more than 50,000 attorneys were on the record of the pension office, and today the number is 18,491. Many of these names have been dropped because of fraudulent practices. The amount paid to the claim agents last year was $476,900, compared with $730,000 in the preceding year, a saving of $253,100 to the veterans and a loss of that amount to the claim agents. Hence, the dissatisfaction of the agents and the vigor of the fight which they have waged against Mr. Evans.

A Hen Hunt.

An English paper says that the hat of a certain shortsighted master at Eton blew off one day, and as he started in pursuit a black hen dashed out of the gateway. There is no greater irony than a recommendation of change of climate to those whose circumstances make change of climate impossible. How many a sufferer in such a case has wistfully watched the flight of the south-seeking birds, and cried with the Psalmist, "Oh that I had wings." "I am a railroad agent, and four years ago my work keeping me in a warm room and stepping out frequently into the cold air gave me bronchitis, which became chronic and deep seated. Doctors failed to reach my case and advised me to try a higher air, but, fortunately for me, a friend also advised me to try Dr. Pierce's medicines. I commenced taking your 'Golden Medical Discovery,' and by the time I had taken the first bottle I was better, and after taking about four bottles my cough was entirely gone. THE ANTIS' MASK.

It is a signicant fact that the ardent advocates of free silver are most effusive in expressing sympathy for Aguinaldo, the cunning Filipino, who incited the unprovoked assault upon our gallant soldiers and the stars and stripes in the Philippines. They know that they dare not again go before the American people with their ruinous financial policy of free silver. They therefore attempt to slip into power under cover of a false sentimentalism in favor of semi-barbaric rebels. If successful they will bring disaster to the Philippine islands by turning them over to the self-seeking, treacherous young Tagal chief, and financial and industrial ruin to our own country will come by their efforts to make the silver mine owners rich by the free coinage of silver.

Eternal vigilance is the price of prosperity, as well as of liberty. Unmask the Democratic anti-expansionist and you are face to face with the free silver fanatic.

Our Flag the Same Everywhere.

The patriotic utterance of President McKinley at Ocean Grove, N. J., has found enthusiastic endorsement in the heart of every loyal American. He said:

"Our flag does not mean one thing in the United States and another thing in Porto Rico and the Philippines."

Those who appear to be fearful lest the stars and stripes shall be the emblem of despotism in the Philippines will do well to consider these weighty words of the president.

The Stars and Stripes stands for peace, law and order today in the Philippines. When those first requisites of government are won, it will reflect the honest and honorable intentions of the American people to give the Filipinos the best government possible with the fullest measure of self-government the natives are capable of. Every star on the glorious old banner shines brighter for the duty it is performing toward the civilization of the Orient.

Our workingmen are not only kept busy earning money, but every dollar they earn is worth 100 cents in purchasing power in gold standard countries, and 200 cents in silver standard countries.

In view of these facts it would seem to be in order for the Democrats of Ohio to call a convention of all the Democratic states of the union and formulate a plank denouncing these Democratic lynching parties. Each precinct supervisor will devote his entire time until election day to perfecting the organization of his precinct. He will personally visit every voter in the precinct. He will be furnished a fund to "treat the boys right." He will circulate every story, truth or lie, that he receives from headquarters when ordered to do so. He will mingle in every gathering in his precinct and adapt himself to every crowd in which he finds himself, and all the time he will sound the praises of John R. McLean. He will ignore every local Democratic ticket, except when absolutely necessary, but it will be his duty to see that every candidate on his local ticket and the candidate's friends are hustling for McLean.

Taken altogether, the exposure of McLean's plan of campaign bears out McLean's statement made in a private conversation before he left his home in Washington, that he would put $500,000 into this campaign, and makes it certain that he has had assurances of an additional $250,000 from the Silver trust in the desperate effort to make a good showing this fall in Ohio.

Referring to the campaign of 1883, Allen O. Myers, in his book, "Bosses and Boodle," says, "Mr. McLean claimed to have expended $100,000 in helping carry Hamilton county and elect a legislature."

If McLean was willing to spend $100,000 in Hamilton county alone, simply to defeat Pendleton for senator, it is easy to believe that he will spend three-quarters of a million dollars in the effort to become governor of Ohio, and possibly the Democratic nominee for president.

This, however, is a different year from 1883 in every respect, and even the whole of Mr. McLean's enormous fortune, if it were poured out to secure success, would fail signally and ignominiously.

FACTS ON LYNCHINGS

A Detailed Statement Shows That Although Democrats Control Only 15 States, Yet They Have 140 Out of 166 Lynchings to Their Credit.

That great apostle of the colored people, the Hon. Frederick Douglass, frequently warned his brethren against supporting the Democratic party. He once wrote to a friend saying:

"Never let it be a fact that my brethren in this country have turned from the Republican party that has always befriended them, to give support to the Democratic party that has always been their foe. Let me warn them against this."

A detailed statement of the lynchings for 1897 emphasizes the warning of this magnificent leader, now passed to the great beyond.

Democratic States.

Alabama, 19; Arkansas, 11; Florida, 12; Georgia, 14; Kentucky, 7; Louisiana, 14; Mississippi, 16; Missouri, 4; South Carolina, 6; Tennessee, 7; Texas, 25; Virginia, 5; total, 140.

Republican States.

Silver or Populist States.

Territories, 7.

The Democrats control 15 states of the Union which have 140 lynchings to their account.

The Republicans control 32 states, which have 13 lynchings to answer for. Less than one-half as many Democratic states show over ten-fold the number of lynchings as the Republican states. In other words 20 lynchings occur in Democratic states to one in a Republican state.

In view of these facts it would seem to be in order for the Democrats of Ohio to call a convention of all the Democratic states of the union and formulate a plank denouncing these Democratic lynching parties. Until they do that the colored people of Ohio will be justified in accepting that Zanesville plank for what it is worth —the paper it is written on.

PENSION ATTORNEYS.

Why They Are Attacking Commissioner Evans.

It turns out that attacks upon Pension Commissioner Evans are largely due to the fact that he has dropped from the roll of claim agents and pension attorneys more than 30,000 men. When he came into office the names of more than 50,000 attorneys were on the record of the pension office, and today the number is 18,491. Many of these names have been dropped because of fraudulent practices. The amount paid to the claim agents last year was $476,900, compared with $730,000 in the preceding year, a saving of $253,100 to the veterans and a loss of that amount to the claim agents. Hence, the dissatisfaction of the agents and the vigor of the fight which they have waged against Mr. Evans.

A Hen Hunt.

An English paper says that the hat of a certain shortsighted master at Eton blew off one day, and as he started in pursuit a black hen dashed out of the gateway. The schoolmaster saw the hen and thought it was his hat and all Eton was electrified by the spectacle of a hatless and breathless reverend man hunting a black hen from one end of the street to the other

"Doctors failed to reach my case and advised me to try a higher air."

There is no greater irony than a recommendation of change of climate to those whose circumstances make change of climate impossible. How many a sufferer in such a case has wistfully watched the flight of the south-seeking birds, and cried with the Psalmist, "Oh that I had wings." But suppose you can fit the lungs to the climate instead of fitting the climate to the lungs. That is what has been found possible by those who have used Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It so purifies the blood, removing the clogged and poisonous conditions favorable to disease, that the whole body is strengthened. With new strength comes new power, and disease is resisted and thrown off.

There is no alcohol, whisky or other intoxicant contained in

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery.

"I feel that I owe a debt of gratitude to you for preparing such grand remedies, for chronic diseases especially, which the doctors failed to reach," writes I. B. Staples, Esq., of Barclay, Osage Co., Kans. "I am a railroad agent, and four years ago my work keeping me in a warm room and stepping out frequently into the cold air gave me bronchitis, which became chronic and deep seated. Doctors failed to reach my case and advised me to try a higher air, but, fortunately for me, a friend also advised me to try Dr. Pierce's medicines. I commenced taking your 'Golden Medical Discovery,' and by the time I had taken the first bottle I was better, and after taking about four bottles my cough was entirely gone. This was a year ago last winter; and again last winter I took about three bottles to prevent a return of the trouble. I have found no necessity for seeking another climate."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are powerful aids to the cleansing of the clogged system. By all dealers in medicine.

THE ANTIS' MASK.

It is a signicant fact that the ardent advocates of free silver are most effusive in expressing sympathy for Aguinaldo, the cunning Filipino, who incited the unprovoked assault upon our gallant soldiers and the stars and stripes in the Philippines. They know that they dare not again go before the American people with their ruinous financial policy of free silver. They therefore attempt to slip into power under cover of a false sentimentalism in favor of semi-barbaric rebels. If successful they will bring disaster to the Philippine islands by turning them over to the self-seeking, treacherous young Tagal chief, and financial and industrial ruin to our own country will come by their efforts to make the silver mine owners rich by the free coinage of silver.

Eternal vigilance is the price of prosperity, as well as of liberty. Unmask the Democratic anti-expansionist and you are face to face with the free silver fanatic.

Our Flag the Same Everywhere.

The patriotic utterance of President McKinley at Ocean Grove, N. J., has found enthusiastic endorsement in the heart of every loyal American. He said:

"Our flag does not mean one thing in the United States and another thing in Porto Rico and the Philippines."

Those who appear to be fearful lest the stars and stripes shall be the emblem of despotism in the Philippines will do well to consider these weighty words of the president.

The Stars and Stripes stands for peace, law and order today in the Philippines. When those first requisites of government are won, it will reflect the honest and honorable intentions of the American people to give the Filipinos the best government possible with the fullest measure of self-government the natives are capable of. Every star on the glorious old banner shines brighter for the duty it is performing toward the civilization of the Orient.

Our workingmen are not only kept busy earning money, but every dollar they earn is worth 100 cents in purchasing power in gold standard countries, and 200 cents in silver standard countries.

Wants a Copy of the New Expansion Atlas, Published by Rand McNally, and Now Being Given Away by the NEWS REVIEW---Read What It Is Like---Call and See It.

The NEWS REVIEW has just closed a contract with Rand, McNally & Co., of Chicago, the famous map publishers, for the EXCLUSIVE sale and distribution of the new Rand McNally

Expansion Atlas

In this city and vicinity.

This is the revised edition and is right up to date. It contains general maps covering every part of the world, complete and accurate, but its special interest is found in the new maps and descriptive matter pertaining to the

New American Colonies,

The Phliippines, Hawaii, Porto Rico, Cuba, Manila and vicinity, including a chronology of all the important events of the Spanish-American war.

The Dewey Souvenir,

A handsomely engraved colored plate, containing excellent portraits of Admirals Dewey and Farragut and the American naval commanders in the Orient, forms the frontispiece of the book. In the center is a beautiful picture in colors of the Battle of Manila Bay, showing the position of each of the American and Spanish vessels and the scenery of the bay, drawn from official descriptions

Photographs

Of the leading American war ships and portraits of all the presidents are also shown. All the maps are fully and completely indexed so that it is possible in a moment to find any place desired. Population, area and other interesting information is given briefly and accurately up to date.

The map showing how the United States have expanded since the foundation of this government is one of the most valuable features of the book, as it shows

The NEWS REVIEW proposes to GIVE AWAY one copy of the Expansion Atlas to each new subscriber who pays in advance

Good Convention For Editors.

Editors were considerably favored at the Ohio Democratic state convention in Zanesville. An editor was nominated for governor, a former editor was nominated for lieutenant governor, an editor was nominated for treasurer. More than this, the [illegible] of a Coshocton Democratic paper was sergeant-at-arms of the convention.

Anthracite Production In August.

The production of anthracite coal in August, according to the official estimate, was 4,257,000 tons, against 3,783,000 tons in August, 1898, 4,086,900 in 1897, and 3,949,000 in 1896.

Threat of Strike Stopped Them.

CLEVELAND, Sept. 19.—The Cleveland and Pittsburg and New York, Pennsylvania and Ohio ore docks are in operation again after having been tied up two days by the picnic of the ore handlers. The men had heard that the dock managers intended to put new handlers in their places. A strike on all the ore docks on the lake was threatened, so the matter was dropped.

TROOPS PRESERVE PEACE.

Arrests Made of Suspected Rioters In Illinois—Five, Instead of Seven, Dead Negroes.

SPRINGFIELD, Ills., Sept. 19.—Governor Tanner had a message from Carterville from Colonel Bennett, in charge of the troops there. He reported all quiet and said he feared no other outbreak.

A message from Sheriff Gray stated that 27 of the men supposed to have been implicated in the riot had been arrested, charged with murder, and had been locked up in the county jail at Marion. He asked the governor for a detail of soldiers to guard the jail. The governor sent an order for them.

CARTERVILLE, Ills., Sept. 19.—Five negroes instead of seven were killed in the fight between white and colored miners here. Four more were seriously wounded, but are expected to recover.

Company F of Mt. Vernon, 40 strong, arrived. Company B of Newton was expected to arrive. No further trouble may be expected as long as the militia is here.

ALGER ANNOUNCED WITHDRAWAL.

DETROIT, Sept. 19.—General R. A. Alger gave out a letter written by himself in New York Sept. 8, in which he announces his withdrawal from candidacy for United States senator. The letter is as follows:

THE WALDORF-ASTORIA,
NEW YORK, Sept. 8.

MY DEAR MR. JUDSON—After careful consideration I have decided not to be a candidate for the United States senate. My reasons for this determination are personal and of a business nature.

I fully appreciate and thank you and my many other friends for offered support, and hope to be able in the future to show my gratitude for all that has been done for me by the people of our state. I am, my dear sir, sincerely yours, R. A. ALGER.

Hon. William Judson, Ann Arbor, Mich.

Dragged to Death by a Cow.

PITTSBURG, Sept. 19.—Jacob Smith, aged 14 years, was dragged to death by a cow at McKeesport. A rope was attached to the horns of the cow and he tied the end of the rope around his waist. When near the schoolhouse the cow became frightened and began to run. The boy could not control her nor free himself from the rope. He was soon thrown and dragged along the street. When the cow was cornered the boy was dead.

Deaths From Plague.

HONGKONG, Sept. 19.—Twenty deaths from the bubonic plague took place here last week. Eighteen new cases have been officially represented.

Reappointed Dr. Rothrock.

Arrests Made of Suspected Rioters In Illinois—Five, Instead of Seven, Dead Negroes.

SPRINGFIELD, Ills., Sept. 19.—Governor Tanner had a message from Carterville from Colonel Bennett, in charge of the troops there. He reported all quiet and said he feared no other outbreak.

A message from Sheriff Gray stated that 27 of the men supposed to have been implicated in the riot had been arrested, charged with murder, and had been locked up in the county jail at Marion. He asked the governor for a detail of soldiers to guard the jail. The governor sent an order for them.

CARTERVILLE, Ills., Sept. 19.—Five negroes instead of seven were killed in the fight between white and colored miners here. Four more were seriously wounded, but are expected to recover.

Company F of Mt. Vernon, 40 strong, arrived. Company B of Newton was expected to arrive. No further trouble may be expected as long as the militia is here.

ALGER ANNOUNCED WITHDRAWAL.

DETROIT, Sept. 19.—General R. A. Alger gave out a letter written by himself in New York Sept. 8, in which he announces his withdrawal from candidacy for United States senator. The letter is as follows:

THE WALDORF-ASTORIA,
NEW YORK, Sept. 8.

MY DEAR MR. JUDSON—After careful consideration I have decided not to be a candidate for the United States senate. My reasons for this determination are personal and of a business nature.

I fully appreciate and thank you and my many other friends for offered support, and hope to be able in the future to show my gratitude for all that has been done for me by the people of our state. I am, my dear sir, sincerely yours, R. A. ALGER.

Hon. William Judson, Ann Arbor, Mich.

Dragged to Death by a Cow.

PITTSBURG, Sept. 19.—Jacob Smith, aged 14 years, was dragged to death by a cow at McKeesport. A rope was attached to the horns of the cow and he tied the end of the rope around his waist. When near the schoolhouse the cow became frightened and began to run. The boy could not control her nor free himself from the rope. He was soon thrown and dragged along the street. When the cow was cornered the boy was dead.

Threat of Strike Stopped Them.

CLEVELAND, Sept. 19.—The Cleveland and Pittsburg and New York, Pennsylvania and Ohio ore docks are in operation again after having been tied up two days by the picnic of the ore handlers. The men had heard that the dock managers intended to put new handlers in their places. A strike on all the ore docks on the lake was threatened, so the matter was dropped.

TROOPS PRESERVE PEACE.

Arrests Made of Suspected Rioters In Illinois—Five, Instead of Seven, Dead Negroes.

SPRINGFIELD, Ills., Sept. 19.—Governor Tanner had a message from Carterville from Colonel Bennett, in charge of the troops there. He reported all quiet and said he feared no other outbreak.

A message from Sheriff Gray stated that 27 of the men supposed to have been implicated in the riot had been arrested, charged with murder, and had been locked up in the county jail at Marion. He asked the governor for a detail of soldiers to guard the jail. The governor sent an order for them.

CARTERVILLE, Ills., Sept. 19.—Five negroes instead of seven were killed in the fight between white and colored miners here. Four more were seriously wounded, but are expected to recover.

Company F of Mt. Vernon, 40 strong, arrived. Company B of Newton was expected to arrive. No further trouble may be expected as long as the militia is here.

ALGER ANNOUNCED WITHDRAWAL.

DETROIT, Sept. 19.—General R. A. Alger gave out a letter written by himself in New York Sept. 8, in which he announces his withdrawal from candidacy for United States senator. The letter is as follows:

THE WALDORF-ASTORIA,
NEW YORK, Sept. 8.

MY DEAR MR. JUDSON—After careful consideration I have decided not to be a candidate for the United States senate. My reasons for this determination are personal and of a business nature.

I fully appreciate and thank you and my many other friends for offered support, and hope to be able in the future to show my gratitude for all that has been done for me by the people of our state. I am, my dear sir, sincerely yours, R. A. ALGER.

Hon. William Judson, Ann Arbor, Mich.

Dragged to Death by a Cow.

PITTSBURG, Sept. 19.—Jacob Smith, aged 14 years, was dragged to death by a cow at McKeesport. A rope was attached to the horns of the cow and he tied the end of the rope around his waist. When near the schoolhouse the cow became frightened and began to run. The boy could not control her nor free himself from the rope. He was soon thrown and dragged along the street. When the cow was cornered the boy was dead.

Deaths From Plague.

HONGKONG, Sept. 19.—Twenty deaths from the bubonic plague took place here last week. Eighteen new cases have been officially represented.

EVENING NEWS REVIEW.

15TH YEAR. NO. 86. EAST LIVERPOOL, O., TUESDAY, SEPT. 19, 1899. TWO CENTS

PROTEST FROM CHINA.

Objects to General Otis' Chinese Exclusion Order.

DECLARED AN UNFRIENDLY ACT.

The Imperial Government Also Asserts That the Order Is Contrary to International Law—Declared a Violation of Existing Treaties.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19.—The imperial Chinese government, through its minister here, Mr. Wu Ting-Fang, has lodged with the state department an emphatic protest against the military order of General Otis, excluding Chinese from the Philippines, which he issued without first consulting the government.

Neither the state department nor the Chinese legation will give any information concerning the protest, but from entirely reliable quarters it is learned that it insists that General Otis' "action is contrary to international law, in violation of existing treaties, and in complete disregard of the friendly relations which have been so long maintained between the two countries."

CHASED BY GUNBOATS.

British Vessels, Suspected of Filibustering, Brought To and Identity Learned by U. S. Warships.

HONGKONG, Sept. 19.—The American gunboat Pampango chased the British steamer Yuen-Sang from Manila to Hongkong. The gunboat sighted the steamer during the night of Sept. 13, about 30 miles off the north coast of the island of Luzon, and suspected that she was a filibuster.

The Pampango fired three shots, which Yuen-Sang disregarded, until the third shell exploded near her. She then stopped and the commander of the gunboat boarded the Yuen-Sang, found he had made a mistake and apologized.

An American gunboat, name unknown, followed the British steamer Diamte, bound from Manila to Hongkong. The warship sighted the steamer near Subig bay during the night of Sept. 16 and whistled signals to stop. The signals were disregarded and the gunboat ran alongside the Diamte, getting so close that her guns tore away the Diamte's outrigging. Her passengers were thrown into a panic. The gunboat, on learning the identity of the steamer, sheered off.

Delivery of Prisoners Blocked.

LONDON, Sept. 19.—A dispatch to Reuter's Telegram company, from Hongkong, says advices from Manila announce that Aguinaldo is willing to release all sick and civilian Spanish prisoners, but, it is added, Major General Otis refuses to allow Spanish vessels to proceed to Filipino ports to receive them.

STATE DINNER FOR DEWEY.

President Has Partial Arrangements Made—Miles Selected Corbin at Chief-of-Staff.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19.—Partial arrangements have been made at the White House for the dinner which President McKinley will give Admiral Dewey. It will be held on the evening of Oct. 3 at 8 o'clock in the state dining room. The list of guests will be limited to 50 and will consist of prominent officers of the navy and army and high officials of the government.

Arrangements for the national reception to Admiral Dewey in this city Oct. 2 and 3 are being rapidly completed. General Nelson A. Miles, the marshal of the parade, has announced the selection of Adjutant General Corbin as his chief of staff and Major John A. Johnson, assistant adjutant general, chief aide-de-camp. The parade will consist of about 20,000 men, representing military and naval, civic, patriotic, labor and secret organizations.

The escort which will accompany Admiral Dewey to the Capitol at noon on Oct. 3, where he will be presented by Secretary Long the sword voted to him by congress, will be mounted and consist of the visiting governors of the states and their staffs, representatives of the army, the navy and the executive branches of the government and prominent citizens of the capital.

Dewey's Chinamen Can Land.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19. — Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Spalding has issued an order allowing the three unenlisted Chinamen aboard Admiral Dewey's flagship Olympia to land in New York.

ODD FELLOWS WELCOMED.

A Summary of the Condition of the Order by Secretary Grant.

DETROIT, Sept. 19.—Hard, persistent rain fell on opening day of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows' diamond jubilee. Public welcomes were extended at the Detroit Opera House by Mayor Maybury and Michigan Odd Fellow officials. Last night the visiting ladies were entertained in Light infantry armory by the Union Rebekah degree staff of this city.

Grand Secretary and Adjutant General Grant gave the following as the summary of the condition of the order December 31, 1898: Sovereign grand lodge, 1; independent grand lodges, (Australasia, Denmark, Germany, Sweden and Switzerland) 5; subordinate grand lodges, 65; subordinate grand encampments, 55; subordinate lodges, 11,796; subordinate encampments, 2,641; lodge members, 859,829; encampment members, 128,267; Rebekah lodges, 5,071; number of Rebekah members, 313,163.

The whole increase in all branches of order for the year was 30,225. The report showed the relief expenditures by lodges to be $3,126,050; relief by encampments, $249,786, by Rebekah lodges $47,149, making a total of $3,422,986. The total expenses of subordinate lodges figures $4,159,726. The revenue of subordinate lodges amounted to $7,752,283; subordinate encampments, $570,762; Rebekah lodges, $443,348; total, $8,766,393. The total invested funds aggregate $27,185,241.

JOHNSON AT THE HEAD.

To Have Charge of Preparations For Next Democratic National Campaign. Headquarters at Chicago.

CHICAGO, Sept. 19.—Chicago will be the working center of the Democratic national committee during the campaign in preparation for the next presidential election.

This was decided at a meeting of the executive committee held here, thus definitely settling rumors that the headquarters would be changed.

J. G. Johnson of Kansas, it was decided, will have charge of the work, remaining here in charge of the headquarters office. Those present at the conference were: Ex-Governor Stone, J. G. Johnson, J. M. Head of Tennessee, George Fred Williams of Massachusetts, J. M. Guffey of Pennsylvania and J. B. O'Brien of Minnesota.

"We discussed some plans for the organization of our forces for effective work," said ex-Governor Stone in speaking of the meeting. "But as yet they are so chaotic that an account of them would not enlighten the public. It was decided that the members of the executive committee meet in Chicago every 60 days to confer with Mr. Johnson and to aid him in carrying out our plans."

Mr. Johnson will take charge of the active work of the ways and means and press committees, and within two weeks will come to Chicago to open up headquarters. Senator Jones, chairman of the Democratic national committee, will arrive in New York Oct. 6, and two days later he will meet Mr. Johnson either in Chicago or St. Louis.

The national committee adopted a "harmony" call as follows:

The national committee of the Democratic party in session at Chicago to consider the work of party organization preparatory to the campaign of 1900, sends greeting to the Democracy of the nation, with the assurance that the prospect of Democratic success next year grows brighter every day, and we have every reason for confidence as to the outcome. The great need now is party unity and thorough organization. The committee appeals, therefore, to our party friends in all the states, and especially in the states where elections are to be held this year, to put aside all local differences wherever they exist and support the regular party tickets earnestly and enthusiastically, keeping always in view the great struggle of next year and remembering that in unity there is strength and in division weakness. Especially do we appeal to the Kentucky Democracy to give loyal support to the regular ticket in that state, headed by Mr. Goebel, and thereby make a sure Democratic victory in the state and the return of Senator Blackburn to the senate of the United States.

The executive committee, ways and means committee and press committee of the Democratic national committee were in session all day. Secretary Chas. A. Walsh was made a member ex-officio of all the committees and secretary of each. Nothing but organization work was discussed in the committees. It was determined to spread the ways and means system of collecting funds over more states. Samuel B. Cook, general manager of that committee, made his report and, although the details were not made public, it was learned that the committee has in the neighborhood of $100,000 pledged and about $20,000 on hand.

DISTURBED BY LABOR UNIONS.

Preparations For Chicago Cornerstone Laying Suspended.

CHICAGO, Sept. 19.—The difficulties between the labor unions and the committee of arrangements of the Chicago fall festival reached a climax when instructions were issued from festival headquarters suspending all preparations for the celebration until the difficulties with organized labor are definitely settled.

A letter was sent by Chairman Trunx to the various committee chairmen advising them to stop the further payment of funds until it is definitely known whether the labor unions will carry out their announced intention of declaring a strike on the federal building and on the festival arches unless the cornerstone to be used in the federal building is discarded and one cut out by union labor substituted.

At Christian Endeavorers' Behest.

SCRANTON, Pa., Sept. 19.—At the behest of Christian Endeavor City union the 20-round fight between Jimmy Judge and "Australian Paddy" Gorman did not take place, Sheriff Ryan serving notice on Gaiety theater people not to attempt to pull off the fight.

ON TRIAL FOR TREASON

French Senate Acts as a High Court.

DEROULEDE AND OTHERS ACCUSED.

The Plotting of the Royalists So Ridiculous That Points In the Bill of Indictment Caused Laughter—Trial Postponed For a Time.

PARIS, Sept. 19.—The senate met as a high court of justice for the purpose of trying 22 politicians, including Messrs. de Monicourt, Deroulede, Marcel Habert, Thiebaud, Baron de Vaux and Jules Guerin on the charge of conspiring against the government.

The procurator general, M. Bernard, read the long indictment, when the senate entered into secret session to discuss the indictment and determine the questions relating to the preliminary inquiry which is to be ordered.

The public and press galleries were crowded and the senators' places were filled. Not one of the accused were present or in the palace.

The indictment evoked frequent outbursts of derisive laughter and ironical comment at the expense of the royalists, and especially on the reading of the various telegrams exchanged and the failure of the plots.

At the conclusion of the reading of indictment M. Bernard and his colleagues left the senate and M. Fallieres ordered the senators to sit behind closed doors.

On the resumption of the public sitting, M. Fallieres announced that the senate had decided by a vote of 234 against 32 to allow prisoners to be represented by counsel during the preliminary inquiry, but that the question of the competence of the senate to sit as a high court to try the charges had been adjourned until after the conclusion of the preliminary inquiry.

This is tantamount to an adjournment of the high court for several weeks at least. Most of the senators were present when the announcement was made, but there were few persons in the public and press galleries.

The general comment in the senate lobbies was that the indictment displayed the ridiculous, but still criminal character of the royalists intrigues to overthrow the republic.

DIED IN PHILIPPINES.

A List of Victims of Various Diseases Reported by Cable by General Otis.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19.—In a cablegram General Otis announced the following deaths since last report: Nephretis, acute, Sept. 9, James M. Leach, Company A, Seventeenth infantry; 13th, James J. A FLURRY IN STOCKS.

A Bear Raid Caused Great Fluctuations on the New York Market.

NEW YORK, Sept. 19.—There was a stock market of unusual volume, the dealings being in all over 1,000,000 shares. At the start it was swamped by selling orders, and the brokers whose customers ordered them to sell at the market offered them down to low points to tempt bidders, who were deterred by the condition of the money market, or, being in the confidence of the bear clique, knew at what point it was their opportunity to come into profitable dealings through shrinkage of values.

In the flurry some important declines occurred, but the market rallied. The transactions had to do with 155 stocks. Of these 135 declined net from 10½ points, in the case of Buffalo, Rochester and Pittsburg, preferred, to one-eighth of a point. The aggregate net decline of the 135 stocks was 170⅜ points, or more than 1¼ points each.

50,000 MEN FOR TEN YEARS.

Officer Said That Many Would Be Needed to Keep Peace In Luzon.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 19.—Major S. R. Jones, U. S. A., who has been quartermaster at Manila ever since that city was captured by the Americans, was a passenger on the Coptic, which arrived from Hongkong and Yokohama via Honolulu. He will report to Washington. When Major Jones left Manila a forward movement in the rain and mud was being made against the insurgents. He is of the opinion that 50,000 men will have to be kept on the island of Luzon for ten years in order to keep the peace, but that the actual fighting will not last six weeks when that number of Americans have landed at Manila.

PROTEST FOR SCHLEY.

Friends Oppose Assignment—Schley Said He Would Go Where Ordered. Department's Explanation.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19. — Governor Lowndes, Senator Wellington, Mayor Malster of Baltimore and General Felix Agnus called upon the president and formally protested against the assignment of Rear Admiral Schley to command the South Atlantic station on the ground that it was not commensurate with his dignity and the service he had rendered during the Spanish-American war.

The protest was made voluntarily and without Admiral Schley's knowledge. The president listened attentively to what the Maryland Republican leaders had to say, but gave no indication of what he would do. The delegation were with him about half an hour.

Admiral Schley arrived in the city from New York, and today will call upon the president to pay his respects and to announce his readiness to accept the command of the South Atlantic squadron, or any other duty to which the president may assign him. "I am a sailor," said Admiral Schley, "and will obey orders."

At the navy department it was stated that no order had yet been issued to Admiral Schley, but he had been advised to hold himself in readiness to perform that duty. It was expected, it was said, that if the assignment was distasteful to him, or he regarded it as beneath his dignity, he would inform the department of that fact, and it was not at all likely that he would be forced to accept.

It was also stated that if Admiral Schley would not accept the assignment there was nothing left to give him, as there were no ships available to form a European squadron and no shore command fitting for his rank.

TRUSTS SHOULD BE DESTROYED.

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 19.—Governor Joseph D. Sayers of Texas, the originator of the anti-trust conference between governors and attorneys general, which is to open here tomorrow, Attorney General Smith of Texas, Governor Jones and Attorney General Davis of Arkansas and Governor Stephens and Attorney General Crow of Missouri arrived in the city.

He asserts that the conference will be distinctly inimical to trusts. The only question in his mind is whether trusts should be regulated or abolished. This, he thinks, is the question that will be dwelt upon chiefly in the discussion. He favors their destruction.

Budke Was Nominated.

WASHINGTON, Pa., Sept. 19.—John F. Budke, the Canonsburg iron manufacturer, was nominated for state senator in the Forty-sixth district (Washington and Greene counties), by the Republican committee of Washington county. At the last moment it was announced that Ralph C. McConnell, the ex-district attorney of Washington, would be Budke's opponent, but he received only one vote. Another single vote went to Hon. George V. Lawrence of Monongahela, who was not a candidate. Budke received 74 votes.

Winslow Married Miss Havemeyer.

NEWPORT, R. I., Sept. 19.—Lieutenant Commander Cameron McR. Winslow, U. S. N., who distinguished himself at Cienfuegos during the war with Spain, and Miss Dora Havemeyer, daughter of Mrs. Theodore A. Havemeyer of New York, were married here in the presence of a large and fashionable assembly. The officiating clergyman was Rev. Father Farrell of New York, assisted by Rev. Father Meenan of St. Mary's church, this city.

Officers Slated For Coal Combine.

CLEVELAND, Sept. 19.—A "slate" was prepared for the election of officers of the Pittsburg Coal company, the rail coal mine combination by, directors to meet today or tomorrow, as follows: President, F. Elias Hatfield Was Convicted.

WILLIAMSON, W. Va., Sept. 19.—After being out about five hours the jury in the case against Elias Hatfield, Jr., for killing H. E. Ellis at Gray on July 3, returned a verdict of guilty of murder in the second degree. Under the laws of West Virginia the sentence will be from 5 to 18 years' imprisonment in the state penitentiary.

Dreyfus May Live In England.

LONDON, Sept. 19.—It was reported that Maitre Labori and Madame Dreyfus visited Folkestone, five miles from Dover, Saturday and engaged apartments, where Madame Dreyfus and her children will dwell in the event of her husband's pardon.

INTERVENTION ASKED.

Orange Free State Asks United States to Act.

BOERS PLANT GUNS ON BORDER.

Transvaal State Secretary Declared That the Country's Decision Was In Conjunction With the Orange Free State. Activity In Government Offices.

LONDON, Sept. 19.—The Cape Town correspondent of The Daily Mail said:

"The United States consul in Cape Town has gone to Bloemfontain at the request of the government of the Orange Free State to confer regarding the crisis. The Orange Free State executive is anxious to secure American intervention.

"Boer spies infest all the border towns. Ten thousand troops will be dipatched to Kimberley within a week. Five hundred started and others will go forward today."

The members of the Afrikander bund in Cape Town intend to convene the bund in congress to consider the situation.

A Bloemfontain paper reports the dismissal of several Englishmen from the Bloemfontain police force because of their refusal to serve on the commando.

PRETORIA, Sept. 19.—The Transvaal state secretary, F. W. Reitz, in the course of an interview declared that the government, the volksraad and the people were unanimous regarding the attitude which the Transvaal had assumed, and that there was no foundation whatever for the reports of differences.

Mr. Reitz also asserted that the Transvaal's decision was arrived at in conjunction with the Grange Free State.

The volksraad readopted the mining article in the gold law, eliminated last year, empowering the government to confiscate the claims and mines belonging to people convicted of treason or conspiracy against the state, and empowering the government to order that the mines be worked and, if this instruction is disregarded, to work them through its own agents. The readopted article comes into force immediately.

LONDON, Sept. 19.—War risks on consignments to the Transvaal were quoted at a premium of 50 per cent yesterday, and all the markets were very sensitive and excited.

The Daily Chronicle points out this morning that the Orange Free State "would probably better serve the Transvaal by remaining neutral than by active assistance, because the easiest route for marching troops to Johannesburg and Pretoria lies between Orange river and Vaal river."

The Cape Town correspondent of The Daily Chronicle says:

"It is reported here that Conyngham Greene, British diplomatic agent at Pretoria, fears that an attempt will be made to dynamite the British agency."

Mr. Chamberlain came to London from Birmingham yesterday afternoon and spent the evening at the colonial office. While there he received a dispatch from Lord Salisbury, who is at Hatfield House and sent a special messenger, without dispatches, to the premier.

There has been a lively interchange of dispatches between the foreign, war and colonial offices, but no summons has yet been issued for a cabinet council.

Long dispatches were sent last evening to the viceroy of India, Lord Curzon, and to the British high commissioner in South Africa, Sir Alfred Milner.

General Lord Garnet Wolsley, field marshal and commander-in-chief, returned to London yesterday and immediately repaired to the war office, where he remained busily employed the greater part of the day.

Probably All Perished.

LONDON, Sept. 19.—A boat containing the captain and 11 men from the French steamer Dunrae, reported on Saturday to have foundered off the island of Elba, in the Mediterranean, is feared to have sunk with all on board.

Destitution Among Strikers.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Sept. 19.—Much destitution is said to exist among the families of the striking miners in Nanticoke. An appeal has been issued. Local merchants helped.

Actor McClennin Fell Dead.

SIXTEEN NEW HOUSES

EACH ONE TO COST ABOUT $1,500

Cumberland Man Has Been Given the Contract and Will Import Men to Do the Work—Laughlins to Employ East Enders as Far as Possible.

Not having a sufficient number of carpenters in this city, and the need of empty houses for those who desire to live in East End, parties have gone out of the city for carpenters.

Within the next ten days a force of carpenters from New Cumberland will arrive in the city and commence work in East End on 16 houses. These men are in the employ of John Dornan, of New Cumberland, who has been given the contract for the erection of the dwellings.

There has been a growing

since work on the Laughlin pottery was commenced and the number of houses has not been equal to the demand. There are many families moving to East End at present, and whenever a house is vacated it is soon rented, no matter what the price be.

The dwellings that will be built will be of the latest design and of the most modern architecture. The majority of them will be built in the old Boyce orchard, and when completed will be occupied by workmen in the Laughlin pottery. The homes will cost in the neighborhood of from $1,200 to $1,500 each, including the lots on which they are built.

WANT MORE MEN.

A gentleman who is in a position to know stated yesterday that when Laughlin's new pottery was placed in operation they would give preference to workmen who resided in the East End. It is known that many of the workmen will be taken from the old plant, but still there are many new ones needed.

The new plant will be placed in operation as soon as possible. The machinists are the busiest set of men in the new plant. The engine and its parts will be joined, it is thought, before the first of the month.

STOLEN SWEETS.

Sunday evening several boys entered the yard of James Elliott and commenced picking grapes from the vines. Officer Terrence discovered them and gave chase, capturing one. He started to city hall with the boy, but he did not go far, as the captive gave the officer the names of his chums. The names of all are now in the hands of the authorities.

WANTS STREET PAVED.

Doctor Calhoun said yesterday: "You see this street is traveled as much as Mulberry street and possibly more so. Here is a thoroughfare that is nothing more than the bed of a run and you can plainly see that it is a disgrace to a town the size of Liverpool. When we have our streets paved and graded and one or more additional arc lights, I assure you that we will not ask for anything more."

Among the Sick.

Mrs. George Goddard, of Pennsylvania avenue, who has been very ill for several days, is recovering.

Trustees Meeting.

THREE BEERS A DAY.

This Is How C. N. Howard Tells His Story—More to Follow.

Men of East Liverpool read this carefully and see how the beer drinkers are investing their money, and for what. We will have more to say along this line, securing ammunition from Rochester, New York, where great good is being accomplished in the name of the Master:

CHRISTMAS, 1898.

Good tidings of great joy to the people of Rochester--Christmas donation to 20,000 people—Three beers a day or—

1 barrel of flour,
50 pounds of sugar,
20 pounds of corn starch,
10 pounds of macaroni,
10 quarts of beans,
4 twelve-pound hams,
1 bushel sweet potatoes,
3 bushels Irish potatoes,
10 pounds of coffee,
10 pounds of raisins,
10 pounds of rice,
20 pounds of crackers,
100 bars of soap,
3 twelve-pound turkeys,
5 quarts of cranberries,
10 bunches of celery,
10 pounds of prunes,
4 dozen oranges,
10 pounds of mixed nuts,

FOUR BIG BARRELS HEAPED UP! and in the bottom of the last barrel, a purse with two pockets. In one pocket a five dollar gold piece marked "a dress for mother," in the other pocket a ten dollar bill, marked, "to buy shoes for the children."

THE PARK

Matter Will Come Before Council at Their Next Meeting. That Boulevard.

Prof. W. L. Thompson has a force of men at work on the land which he intends to present to the city for park purposes, and it is probable the matter will come before council at their next meeting. It is not necessary for the park to be taken into the city limits as the law provides that the city may own land outside the corporation for park purposes. It is also desired that the city make some provisions for maintaining this park. There is some question whether the gift of land from another party for a boulevard will be accepted as it is thought it would cost too much to improve the land and the city can get a good driveway to the park without expending so much money.

HE GOT HIS FILL OF BEAN SHOOTERS.

Frank Langley, a 15 year old boy who resides on Church alley, last evening met with a painful accident, the result of playing with a bean shooter. The boy had the bean shooter in his mouth and started to run around the corner of the house but he tripped and struck the house and the shooter was forced into the flesh and came near protruding at a point directly under the lower jaw. A physician was called and dressed his injuries.

COMMISSION ISSUED

To Take Testimony of Canton Witnesses to an East Liverpool Will.

LISBON, Sept. 19.—[Special]—The will of Lucinda J. Demuth, late of Liverpool township, was offered for probate and, the subscribing witnesses residing in Canton, a commission was issued to Ralph Ambler to take their depositions

[A Splendid Company at the Grand.

"In the Heart of the Storm" at the Grand last night by Himmelein's Ideals attracted one of the largest audiences ever assembled there. No attraction ever gave better satisfaction and more value for the money than this company of unusual talent. Such a production as last night's at popular prices cannot help but command attention. In addition to the splendid stage performance this company carries its own band and orchestra which is one of the finest ever in the city with a traveling company. The music on the street and in the theater was all the latest and well rendered. Tonight "The Irish Hero," one of the best plays in the repertoire, will be given. Wednesday evening, "The Ladder of Life."

The NEWS REVIEW for news.

Smashing the Quinine Monopoly.

According to official reports at the state department, steps have been taken to break down the quinine trust organized by German manufacturers. The Javanese planters have found the syndicate able to control the price of cinchona by manipulating the relative price of the bark and the quinine. Recently some of the largest and most influential planters in Java have organized to control the supply in such a way as to keep the raw material out of the hands of the syndicate and have begun to encourage direct trade with the United States. Factories have been established in Java, and since last January, when the new trade began, 265,900 ounces of sulphate of quinine have been shipped direct to this country, although there have been no exports of cinchona to the United States. Consular officers say there is no reason why the United States should not get both the cinchona bark and the sulphate of quinine direct from Java and thus avoid the excessive exactions of the German trust. It has been proposed to establish a regular market in Batavia, and it is believed the development of American enterprises in the Philippines will turn attention to Java and its capacity for supplying the ever increasing demands of the quinine trade.

Resuming Relations With Spain.

Arrangements have been made through the regular diplomatic channels for the resumption of commercial relations with Spain. To this end Minister Storer, at Madrid, has been instructed to take such steps as will lead to the usual commercial treaties between this country and Spain. He has reported that there is every indication of the speedy settlement of the various questions involved, and he expects to have no difficulty in arranging the treaties.

Retirement of Captain Haff.

Captain "Hank" Haff, the sailing master of some of the famous America's cup defenders, is living at Islip, N. Y. Advancing years caused him to be retired from the list of possible captains of the Columbia. The handling of the 90 foot sloops needs not only skill and experience, but nerves of steel. Captain Charles Barr was selected to sail the Columbia because he is a comparatively young man and has had a great deal of experience in sailing large sloops.

Acquittal Is Safe.

To convict him would be indeed to make the Dreyfus case perpetual, says the Memphis Commercial Appeal. There is nothing to do but acquit him. When Zola returned in peace to France, when Picquart was acquitted and when revision was granted, it was demonstrated that it was perfectly safe to acquit Dreyfus.

EXPORT EXPOSITION.

SENTIMENT AS WELL AS TRADE.

An Enterprise Rivaling the Centennial Exhibition and the World's Fair—Chance to Kiss the Blarney Stone.

The National Export exposition will continue from Sept. 7 until Nov. 30, Sundays excepted. Less than five months ago the first spadeful of dirt was turned up for the foundation of the buildings, which have since been completed at a cost of more than $1,000,000. This exhibition of American enterprise and quickness is in itself an indication of the scope and character of the exposition. Although a magnificent music hall, with an amphitheater large enough to accommodate an audience of 6,000 people, it forms only a part of the main building of the exposition. The conception of the idea of an exhibition to illustrate the astonishing growth of the export trade of the United States in recent years was the outgrowth of the tour of the representatives of the various foreign governments who came here to study our industries in 1897 and grew specifically from their visit to the little fair held at Providence, R. I.

The idea was taken up by the Philadelphia Commercial museums and the Franklin institute. As a result of this movement the public will find on Thursday a presentation of American trade movements and mechanical and art enterprises of an exceedingly interesting character.

The display of manufactured products which have a present or contemplated foreign market is especially complete, and the methods of manufacture, showing the progress in the making and the completion of a needle or a cuff button or of a giant locomotive or a great bridge, will be everywhere before the eye in varied and almost endless succession. The beauty and extent of the buildings themselves, as now completed, compare with the best products of the Centennial exposition or the Chicago World's fair. The United States government, in addition to a large appropriation toward the buildings themselves, has expended $50,000 in the selection of samples from abroad of wares, business data and samples, which form an exhibit not only of value to the business men who visit the exposition, but are of absorbing interest to the merely curious of the general public. On the esplanade the public will find a great variety of amusements, similar in some respects to the midway of the Chicago fair. These include a Chinese village of 450 persons, an oriental theater and an Indian village, an old southern plantation, the Blarney stone and the blue Killarney lakes.

At the international commercial congress, which is to be opened in the Exposition auditorium about Oct. 10, under the supervision of Director Wilson, there will be represented, in addition to the presence of President Diaz of Mexico, 30 foreign governments and more than 125 foreign chambers of commerce, which have named delegates. The sessions of the congress will continue for about three weeks.

A Freak Ear of Corn.

An ear of green corn of a novel shape, found on the Rural farm at Hewletts, L. I., the other morning, has attracted much attention, according to the New York Sun. The butt of the ear is unusually large, and at about the middle of it five distinct ears, each one covered with kernals of good size, grow out like the branches of a tree. Nothing like it has ever been seen before around Hewletts.

Bronze For Dewey Souvenir Medals.

According to the Philadelphia Ledger, the bronze casing of a torpedo captured at Manila and now at the League Island navy yard is to be used for souvenir medals by the Washington committee in charge of the Dewey reception. Two hundred and fifty pounds of bronze, however, must be given in its place, and the other parts of the torpedo will remain at League Island as a trophy.

SOUTH SIDE ACCIDENTS

Wm. Luke Had a Stroke at the Mouth of Middle Run Mine.

DANIEL M'BANE CUT ON HEAD

At the Mill This Morning--Workman on Lower Shovel Had His Arm Broken Yesterday Afternoon--Justice Finley Sends In His Resignation to the County Court.

McBane was employed as a laborer and was working in the pumphouse trench when some earth caved in, striking a loose plank. The plank fell on the head of McBane, causing a bad scalp wound. A physician was summoned and after the injuries were dressed he was removed to his home.

Broke His Arm.

A workman on the lower shovel yesterday afternoon accidentally caught his left arm in some of the machinery about the crane breaking it. It is thought it will have to be amputated.

RESIGNED THE OFFICE.

Justice Finley No Longer Desires to Fill That Office.

This morning Justice Finley sent to the court at Cumberland a letter resigning his position as justice of the peace. As court is now in session and has very little business to attend to it is thought the resignation will be acted upon today. Who will be appointed in his place no one can tell. Finley was elected at the election held in the spring of 1898.

TOO MANY MEN.

Some Working on the Grading Will be Discharged.

Contractor McNally said this morning that as the two steam shovels are being confined to the narrows, the force of men is too large, and within a few days a number of them will be cut off. The work of laying rails has been suspended, but it is thought that by the end of the month rails will be laid as far east as the lower ferry.

WILLIAM LUKE

William Luke, aged 78 years, an old resident of Hancock county, died very suddenly last night at his home about one mile from Chester. He was working in a coal bank in Middle Run and came out late in the afternoon and said he was ill. A short time later he had a stroke from which he never recovered, dying in about three hours.

AN ACCIDENT.

Stanley Weaver Got Caught In a Drill Press.

Stanley Weaver, a nephew of Contractor McNally, yesterday while working around the drill press, had his sleeve caught and the giving away of his overall coat sleeve was all that saved him serious injury. As it was he had two arteries severed and a bone in his right arm splintered.

YOUNG-WILLIAMS.

Two Popular Young People Married Early This Morning.

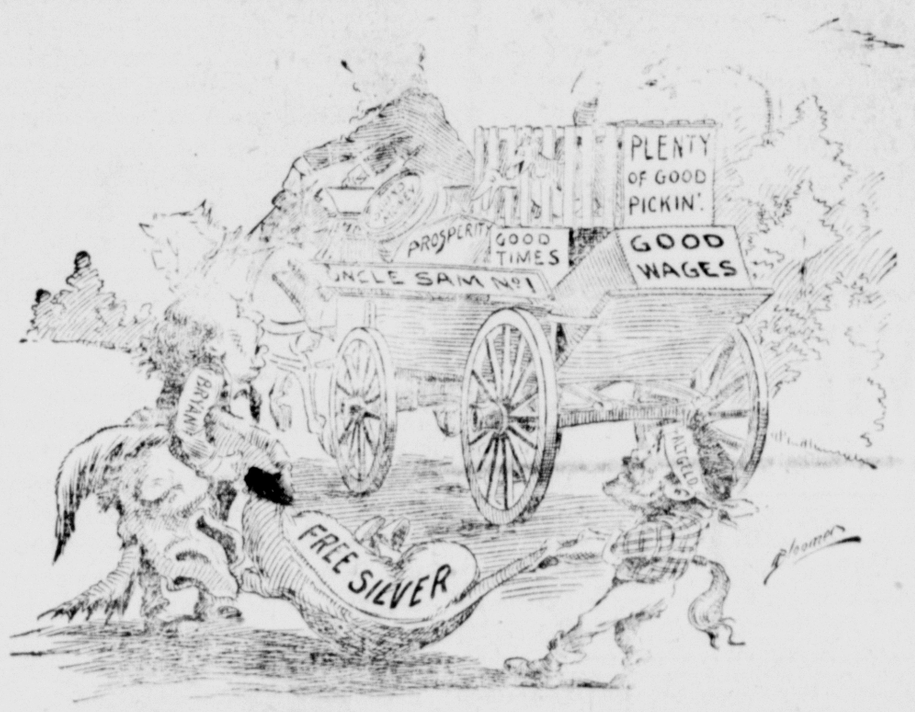

Miss Clara J. Williams, of Fourth street, and Thomas L. Young, were married this morning at the residence of the bride's mother, at No. 186 Fourth street, at 7 o'clock, by Rev. John Lloyd Lee. Immediately after the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served. Mr. and Mrs. Young left on the early accommodation train for the east and a trip through Canada. Upon their return they will make their home with the bride's mother.

Mr. Young is chief engineer at the plant of the Ceramic City Light company, while Mrs. Young before her marriage was one of the teachers in the Central school. They have the best wishes of a host of friends.

New $10 Counterfeit.

Chief Wilkie of the secret service has received from New York a new counterfeit $10 bill. The following circular describing the note has just been issued:

"New counterfeit $10 silver certificate, series of 1891, check letter D, plate number 14, B. K. Bruce, register, Ellis H. Roberts, treasurer, portrait of Hendricks. This note is a lithograph, printed on two sheets of Japanese tissue paper, between which very coarse red and blue silk fiber has been distributed. The lathe work in counters in face is creditably executed; lettering in border so blurred as to be illegible; color of ink is a reddish brown, instead of black; seal is of bright brick red, instead of carmine. The number of the note at hand is E20,394,345; color and formation of numbers is good, but alignment bad. The back of the note is more deceptive than the face. The number of the back plate is 36. Line 'Bureau of Engraving and Printing' is so blurred as to be illegal, and all of the ornamental work is so blurred that detail is lost. The note will not deceive any one familiar with money. The credit for the discovery of the note is due to the cashier of the National Park bank, New York."

German Prince the Poor Man's Priest.

Prince Maximilian of Saxony, who has renounced his title and been admitted to the priesthood in the Catholic church, preached last Sunday at the Church of the Sacred Heart in turbulent Paris, and, in spite of the French hatred for Germans, he was warmly received, and no disrespect was shown him in any way. Prince Max, who spent some years in work among the poor in the east end of London, where he is still remembered as "the poor man's priest," is now the priest of a church in the ancient and famous city of Nuremburg, Germany, which is said to have a Catholic population of 50,000. Emperor William is said to be anxious to secure the elevation of his pious kinsman to the archiepiscopal see of Cologne.

Not a Real Count.

Myrtle--Why do you think the count is a fraud?

Alice—Because of the way he acted when I showed him the paper containing an account of papa's failure.

Myrtle—What did he do? Break the engagement?

Alice—No. He threw his arms around me and said, "Never mind, darling; you and I can be happy as long as we are left to each other, no matter whether we have money or not."—Chicago Times-Herald.

THE TRUST CONFERENCE.

The conference called by the Civic Federation of Chicago, which has been lengthily discussing the growth of trusts, seems to have been called mainly for the purpose of giving Mr. Bryan an opportunity to get in the center of the stage. Just what else the conference can accomplish is difficult to imagine. It has no legislative power and its resolutions will be merely ornamental.

THE LIBRARY ELECTION.

The question of issuing $20,000 worth of bonds for the purchase of a site for the $50,000 public library offered the city by Andrew Carnegie, will be submitted to a vote of the people next Saturday. Judging from the unanimous expression of opinion which greeted Mr. Carnegie's gift and the desire of the community to secure such an institution, it is not believed that many, if any, votes will be cast against the issue. However, it would be most regrettable, if, through the negligence of those in favor of the project, a majority, no matter how small the vote polled, should be recorded against the issue. Everyone interested should make it a point to cast a vote. A good sized vote would at least show the donor that his gift was appreciated in East Liverpool.

REPUBLICAN OHIO.

There will be a political battle in Ohio. The Democratic nominee has money to burn and he will burn it freely. Money is a power. But there is a greater power than money, and that power rests in the hands of the Republicans of the Buckeye state. It is the power of using the ballot entrusted to their care. Every Republican voter in the state should be at the polls on election day. Judge Nash is a man in whom Republicans can take just pride; a statesman, an able financier and an honest man. Sound money and loyalty to the national administration are other features conducive to success in the coming contest. The outlook is for a brilliant victory. Self confidence and carelessness must not endanger this success. Turn out and vote, and see to it that all your Republican neighbors do the same.

PARDONED.

France has pardoned Dreyfus. Why? Simply because the military representatives of France committed an infamous outrage when they pronounced Dreyfus guilty and sentenced him to a term of 10 years' imprisonment. The civilized world cried out against this infamy, and gave expression to its indignation, and France heard the cry and recognized its power. By the verdict of guilty, the Generals saved what they saw fit to term their HONOR—God save the mark. And now they virtually declare Dreyfus an innocent man by pardoning him. The world at large laughs at the farce; but there is bitterness in the laughter, and France will yet recognize this fact. Dreyfus being pronounced guilty, means his dismissal from the army and bars him from obtaining any redress for the five years of horror, outrage and desolation imposed upon him—separation from wife and children and the awful degradation inflicted upon him from a military standpoint. France has sown the wind. She will reap the whirlwind. In the meantime, every genuine man and woman in all this broad land will rejoice in the joy which will come to Mrs. Dreyfus, that noble woman who has so heroically championed the cause of her beloved. God bless her for time and for eternity.

FOR THE LIBRARY SITE

The Bond Election Will Take Place Saturday.

THE SENTIMENT IS UNANIMOUS

That the Election Should Carry by a Handsome Majority--Interviews With J. J. Weisend, George Peach, Mayor Bough, Samuel Eardley, J. J. Purinton, Clerk Hanley and G. Y. Travis.

Next Saturday the people of the city will have a chance to decide by their ballots whether the splendid offer of Andrew Carnegie to build a $50,000 library here will be accepted, as on that day it will be settled whether the Bradshaw property will be secured as a site for the building.

The NEWS REVIEW today interviewed several prominent people upon the question and found the sentiment to be unanimous in favor of the library.

J. J. Weisend, president of the library directors, said: "I am afraid the people will not turn out and vote, as they do not seem to be paying much attention to it. If the vote is out there is no doubt the bond issue will carry. It is the duty of every citizen who has the welfare of the city at heart to go to the polls on Saturday and cast their ballot for the library, as the offer is one the city will probably never get again. A library like Mr. Carnegie proposes to build would enable everybody to read, and this city has a reading people. They would also find many books there they would probably not be able to buy."

Not an Every Day Offer.

George Peach, president of council, said: "I think the bond issue ought to carry, and I think it will carry. The city cannot afford to miss an opportunity of this kind, and if the bond issue don't carry it settles the library business. The city will never get another offer like this one, and if the site had been made to order it could not have been better than the one selected. The library will be a monument to the city, and the people should turn out and vote for it. Men are not giving away $50,000 every day in the week, and the city is fortunate in having received the gift from Carnegie."

Mayor Bough said: "It ought to carry, and it will carry overwhelmingly. When we get the library there is one thing we will have that the city has needed for many years, and that is an auditorium of good capacity. The library will always be a popular place, and the city needs it."

Samuel Eardley, president of Trades council, said: "I most assuredly think it ought to carry and will do all in my power to make it carry. It is too fine a thing to be thrown away and will be a great advantage to the city."

J. J. Purinton said: "Emphatically, I think it ought to carry and it will carry."

Clerk Hanley: "I am in favor of the bond issue and it will get my vote."

Attorney G. Y. Travis: "It would be a lasting disgrace for the city to turn down the proposition."

OFFICER WHITE MADE COMPLAINT

That Philip Morley, George W. Meredith and Joseph Turnbull Violated the Law Sunday, Sept. 10, at the Ice Plant--George McNally Also Calls on the Mayor.

Philip Morley and George W. Meredith were before Mayor Bough yesterday, charged with violating the Sunday labor law on Sept. 10. The complaint was made by Officer White, and it is claimed the defendants were driving piles at the ice plant on that day. They claim it was a work of necessity, and pleaded not guilty to the charge. They waived a hearing and both gave bond in the sum of $100 for their appearance in court.

Complaint was also filed by Officer White against Joseph Turnbull, claiming that he violated the same law on the same day by unloading a car of beer at the cold storage house of the ice plant.

George McNally appeared in court last evening and plead not guilty to a charge of violating the Sunday labor law. He waived a hearing and was bound over to court in the sum of $100.

R. E. RAYMAN'S REPORT

To the Board of Education Last Evening Some Grades Are Overcrowded—He Makes Valuable Comments and Interesting Suggestions on the Year's School Work.

Superintendent Rayman's annual report to the board of education states that the primary and grammar grades were overcrowded a greater part of last year, some having 75 and 84 pupils. This condition, he says, should not exist, because no teacher can do efficient work with more than 50 pupils. It is difficult to keep the number per room reduced to 40 or 45 scholars, but to get satisfactory results from teachers conditions must be favorable. No child who applies himself need remain in one grade more than a year. A number of scholars lose time because teachers are given too many pupils, and when a child loses time in the lower grades, age is made an excuse for leaving school before the higher grades are reached.

High School.

In the high school they can prepare for life. The course of study is somewhat elastic and would be much more so if there was room for expansion and a larger teaching force. The course of study was carefully prepared to provide the very best education.

Seating Capacity.

A Growing City.

The growth of the city is shown by the following figures. The population in 1880 was 5,568, in 1890, 10,956. In 1880 the school enumeration was 1,850, in 1897, 4,682, in 1898, 4,937, in 1899, 5,134.

In business affairs there is no more progressive city in the state. Why not hold the same rank in education? With the progressive spirit that the board of education has manifested in the past two years East Liverpool can soon stand side by side with the best schools of the state.

Buildings.

Rapid growth has made it quite a task for the board to provide school rooms as fast as needed. The district is large and requires a larger number of buildings than a more compact city. The buildings now in use are modern and in good condition. Few, if any, cities can boast of better buildings, a fact of which every citizen may be justly proud.

Cost of Schools.

The cost of teaching a scholar in this city in the several branches, figured on enrollment, is: elementary, $7.70; high school, $20.18; figured on daily attendance: elementary, $10.02; high school, $24. This is the lowest of any city of similar size in the state.

The Teachers.

The selection of good teachers is a difficulty all boards have. When applicants secure a teacher's certificate, through examination or otherwise, they think they are ready to teach school. It is often difficult to make such persons understand why they cannot be placed immediately in charge of 50 or more children, and put in their time and draw their pay. The good of the children should be the first and highest consideration.

About School Work.

There is no reason why the English and commercial branches should not be strengthened each year. An effort is being made to improve the common branches. Spelling and penmanship shows a marked improvement, the spelling contests being quite helpful. Arithmetic was improved by introducing a mental arithmetic. It is hoped to introduce formal drills in bookkeeping and the use of commercial papers, and the best in typewriting and stenography.

Manual Training.

Superintendent Rayman recommends manual training work proper be limited to the last year in the grammar grades and the entire high school course. This training cannot be regarded as an unnecessary expenditure of time and money, owing to its influence upon boys who would otherwise drop out of school.

The Music.

Music is becoming a potent factor in education. It is to be hoped Ohio will recognize it by law, as well as by custom. One writer says of the subject: "For educational purposes music is invaluable."

In conclusion the superintendent thanks the board, parents, teachers, children, janitors and truant officers for helpful co-operation.

PRINCIPAL'S REPORT OF THE HIGH SCHOOL.

Desirable That Teachers and Parents Work Together in Harmony.

The report of Miss Florence Updegraff, principal of the high school, shows that last year only two pupils chose the English course. In the majority of cases, when pupils fail, investigation proves that it is generally due to lack of home study. There are 55,000 pupils in the high schools of Ohio.

LECTURE COURSE.

What Was Done With Proceeds of the Winter's Entertainments.

The receipts from the high school lecture course were $1,640.85; the expenditures $1,231.32; balance $409 53. Of this amount $272.01 was spent in physical and chemical apparatus, including numerous additions to the laboratory. Additional books cost $118.07, pictures for high school room $19.45.

TWO PROMOTED; ONE ELECTED.

In the absence of President Vodrey, Geo. C. Murphy called the board of education to order last evening.

Mr. Norris reported that two lots had been offered for a school site in Pleasant Heights for the nominal sum of $1. The lot near Lisbon road, 40x100, was recommended for purchase. Plans for the building were ordered.

Fire Extinguishers.

Clerk Hill reported the fire extinguishers in all buildings had been repaired and no new ones were needed immediately. At one building the extinguisher was found in the cellar and in another instance was lost entirely. At next meeting action will be taken.

Not Up to Contract.

Clerk Hill, as chairman of the committee on supplies, reported that a portion of the order given O. C. Clark & Co., of Cleveland, was not up to contract. The contract must be lived up to.

A New Janitor.

Schools Are Crowded.

Superintendent Rayman reported that owing to crowding in the Central building, at least 26 scholars of the fifth grade will be transferred to Grant street. In high school there are 160 pupils and two are occupying one desk.

Recommended New Teachers.

Mr. Rayman suggested that Miss Manley be promoted to high school, Miss Edna Cook be placed in the Grant street, and Miss Margaret Becker, of Mundy, O., be engaged to succeed Miss Manley, which was done.

Miss Manley will receive $50 a month, Miss Cook, $30, and Miss Becker, $40.

A Slight Breeze.

Mr. Williams when told that Miss Becker was from Logan, O., said: "It seems to me we are getting a lot of foreign teachers and no person from the city is given a chance."

Mr. Murphy: "Do you know of any one who is capable of filling the position?"

Paid a Few Bills.

The following bills were ordered paid: J. Jones, $9; freight and hauling, $11.85; Butler, Sheldon & Co., $28.20; NEWS REVIEW, $22 50; Sheridan avenue, interest, $79.50; Charles Conkle, $24; Gim & Co., $1,412.95; George Dickey, $5; Champion Iron company, $7.20; Lewis Bros., $11.75; J. H. Simms, $11.70; James M. McDole, $340.98; W. H. Travis, $1.45; Diamond Hardware company, $20.98; A. Rattray, $11.29; A. Chamberlain, $5.20.

OFFICIALLY ANNOUNCED

The President of France Has Acted at Last and

DREYFUS HAS BEEN PARDONED

The News Heartily Welcomed In This City, Although Regret Is Expressed That the Accused Should Have Had to Get His Freedom That Way--Local Interviews.

PARIS, Sept. 19. — [Special.]—It has just been officially announced that President Loubet has pardoned Dreyfus.

The news was received with more calmness than had been expected, the anticipation of the president's action having prepared the public mind for the actual news. Nevertheless, extraordinary precautions are being taken to prevent an outbreak.

THE NEWS HERE.

How East Liverpool Received the News of Dreyfus' Pardon.

The news was promptly bulletined at the NEWS REVIEW office and was heartily welcomed, although regrets were heard on every side that the accused had not been acquitted instead of pardoned.

William Erlanger said he was not surprised as it was just what he expected. In his opinion he said it was all a concocted scheme by the generals from beginning to the end, and, while he believed they were guilty, the standing of the army had to be maintained or it meant a revolution in France.

Adolph Joseph said he thought less of France than before as, if Dreyfus was innocent he should have been acquitted and if he was guilty he should not have been pardoned. He expressed himself as well pleased at the action for the sake of Dreyfus.

GRAY'S FAST RACE.

He, Weaver and Stevens Found Not Guilty In Mayor's Court Last Evening.

Carl Weaver, Frank Stevens and Frank Gray last evening had a hearing before Mayor Bough upon a charge of disorderly conduct and were found not guilty.

In the testimony it was developed that Gray ran from the freight depot to the pump house, went up over the hill to Pennsylvania avenue and came back to College street in just 20 minutes.

A New Story About Spurgeon.

An old English railway guard tells this story about the late Dr. Spurgeon: "Near where Spurgeon's tabernacle stands half a dozen main streets all meet at one point. There is a drinking fountain there. It was one very hot summer's evening, and the drinking fountain was in strong demand. I wanted a drink myself, and while waiting my turn I said to some of the people standing by, 'Hurry up, I'm parched!' Somebody patted me on the back and said, 'Thank you, my man you have given me my text for tonight.' It was Mr. Spurgeon." The guard added that he was on his way to the tabernacle at the time, and Spurgeon preached one of the finest sermons he had ever heard on the words "Hurry up, I'm parched!"

FUTURE NAVAL DESIGNS

Combination of the Cruiser and the Battleship.

NEW FEATURES IN WAR VESSELS.

Admiral Melville Talks Entertainingly of America's Naval Progress. The Country Has Fifty-two Vessels Unsurpassed In Efficiency.

In one of the luxuriously appointed apartments of the Union League in Philadelphia the other night there was a feast of science and a flow of soul, the participants in which were men who have been conspicuous in quickening the mechanical and marine pulse of the world. The central figure was Rear Admiral George W. Melville, engineer in chief of the United States navy. His companions were Captain Jackson McElmell, Captain Andrade, Lieutenant Commander Mickley and William H. Levay, all prominent marine engineers, and General Mulholland, a hero of the civil war. These expert authorities of worldwide fame were making a few comparisons which led to some interesting comments by the engineer in chief, who said:

"To put it in a few words, in these days of mechanics everything begins at the coal pile. The whole world is on wheels, moved by steam or electricity; but, as I say, everything is done from the coal pile to the boiler, from the boiler to the engine, from the engine to the dynamo, from the dynamo to the electric motor. Whether getting up the anchor, propelling the ship, ventilating between decks, cooking food for the crew, hoisting the ammunition in action, moving the turrets or working the guns, the entire outfit starts from the coal pile. Electricity must have the steam engine back of it."

Referring to the future of marine design, armament and machinery, the admiral continued:

"The engines of the Kearsarge will go as high as we have gone in speed to date. These engines are triple expansion, 10,000 horsepower, and are rated at 18 knots.

"Our own next departure from former models, a practice which is also coming in vogue among English designers, is to create a composite class, incorporating the best defensive and offensive features of the battleship and the protected cruiser. They may be brought nearer alike by increasing the tonnage of the cruiser and increasing the armor protection and reducing the armor protection on the battleship and having more and lighter guns. Thus we bring the two classes under one and greatly simplify construction and administration.

"The ships Kearsarge and Kentucky, as I have said, are rated at 18 knots. The expectation of the future from ships of the combined battleship and cruiser characteristics mentioned is an increase of speed to 20 knots and more. Some of the modern British ships of this class are claiming 19 knots.

"I am confident in our new ships of doing even better than that. We have two big ships ordered by congress, but the contracts are not yet let. We have 52 vessels, from torpedo boats up to battleships, all of the latest designs and unsurpassed in the world for efficiency and speed. It is doubtful whether any more of the heavy class will be constructed. The designs of the future tend to higher speed and about 15,000 tons displacement.

"The French have ships going as high as 22 or 23 knots an hour. They have lighter batteries and lighter armor. That is the policy of naval construction for the future.

"We are also tending toward tubular boilers, permitting of higher pressure of steam, greater grades of expansion, giving us greater economy of fuel. Yet this is not an unmitigated gain, because it requires a higher grade of intelligence in supervision and in making repairs, which are becoming more and more numerous with the many modern appliances now crowding into all classes of ships and which ten years ago were not thought of.

"The great problem of the future is to have men who can properly direct and manipulate these great fighting machines. The handling of one of these costly constructions in these days is no longer a simple matter of navigation. The whole ship's company, officers and men, must now be educated and trained mechaniciens—to use a terse French word—and electricians."

The engineer in chief added: "I feel a measure of safety in following anything English, but not of the other constructive naval powers, as they are apt to incorporate 'gimcracks,' and these are not safe under the strain of actual war.

"The official reports of the war with Spain show most satisfactory results. There was not a 'sky rocket' engine or ship—that is, one which starts with a spurt and drops like a stick. All were durable and reliable. It is remarkable, but nothing gave out, and even repairs were down to a minimum, not exceeding the proper care of the same class of ships in time of peace. A few torpedo boats were struck and needed repairs, but their performances were splendid."

The admiral did not think much of French marine engineers, as they were disposed to radical steps not justified by achieved advancement and not sustained by thoroughly established results.

"The Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse and other German transatlantic liners," said he, 'show that the Germans are no small hands at marine steam engineering. The Russians are buyers, but they are becoming engineers. They put out some of the best abstract scientific work in the world.

"I often think what a mistake Senator Sumner made in defeating the annexation of Santo Domingo. Samana bay is the greatest harbor in the world. It is far superior to anything we secured in the Spanish war. General Grant always looked a long way ahead. St. Thomas was cheap. That was another place we should have taken. I believe in the Monroe doctrine. We can take care of everything on this side of the water."

Admiral Melville is well satisfied with the results of the builders' trial of the Alabama on Tuesday. He said the other day:

"The 17¼ knots reported from the preliminary trial at sea is 1¼ knots over contract speed. A 30 mile gale and a high sea were unfavorable to the highest results. The engines will do better possibly under average sea conditions. The results on Tuesday broke the previous speed record of our battleships. But that will not be the limit. It is only a step in advance. The new type of ship, merging the defensive qualities of the battleship and the speed of the cruiser, will beat that record approximately from 4 to 5¾ knots. The Alabama, however, advances the record. We will have the fleetest battleships afloat before we get through. That is our aim and expectation. We Americans never fail to reach the goal we drive at."

OUR TRADE IN TRANSVAAL.

News of Director General of Philadelphia Exposition.

Director General Wilson of the National Export exposition at Philadelphia has this to say about the trade of the United States with the Transvaal:

"Our trade is chiefly with Johannesburg, a city of about 30,000 people, almost all of whom are English, Scotch or German. Pretoria is smaller and the trade much less. What we ship there direct is but a small proportion of our trade with South Africa, so small as to be almost insignificant.

"But the reason for its being insignificant is that nearly all our trade is with British and Portuguese countries there, and these reship the supplies of the Dutch republic. Several American firms have branch houses there. The only branch which I know of from this city is that of an engineering company, which furnishes electrical supplies. A Chicago firm, manufacturing machinery, has a big trade there, which is supplied from a branch factory located in England.

"The only statistics available are those of our exports to the various South African countries. Two regular lines of steamers sail monthly from New York city to South African ports, a number of extra vessels being chartered at times. Mining tools, machinery and implements figure largely in the goods sent. All lumber is from Sweden, Norway or the United States, as timber does not grow in South Africa, and our proportion is about one-third of the whole amount. Petroleum and other oils come entirely from America, and paraffin also cuts a heavy figure.

"Ninety per cent of South Africa's imported carriages and vehicles come from America, and all wood for such, their manufacture and repair, is also from here. Every store in the country keeps American cotton duck. Chicago has an immense trade in canned goods.

"The extent of the demand for petroleum may be inferred when I say that only four cities in South Africa have gas plants. One of these is Johannesburg. The price is almost prohibitive, as it is $5 per thousand feet. There are a good many electric lighting plants. The common wooden beam plow made in America has been in use there for 50 years. He hold the market for small implements, the slight amount of heavy agricultural machinery usually coming from England."

Big Deficiency In the World's Harvest.

The Hungarian ministry of agriculture at Vienna has just issued its annual estimate of the world's harvest. This points to a considerable deficiency, says the New York Journal. While the stocks remaining from last year are much smaller than was generally supposed the wheat yield is 110,000,000 hectoliters below last year's yield and about 34,000,000 short of the entire world's demand. The estimated yield of rye is 50,000,000 less than that of last year, of barley 23,000,000 less and of oats 35,000,000 less. The total deficiency in all cereals is about 97,000,000 hectoliters.

"THE WHITE MAN'S FIRE WAGON."

Arizona Indians See the Moving Pictures and Gasp With Amazement. Think the Resurrection Day Has Come—Characteristic of the Tribe.

The Navajo Indians of northeastern Arizona, says the Flagstaff (A. T.) correspondent of the New York Tribune, have been introduced to the vitascope, and their wonder has been as though the day of resurrection had come. The dead have been seen to walk, and out on the great red sandstone plain the white man's magic has brought the "fire wagon" and has arrayed armies of soldiers that came unseen and that vanished into the night.

August is a holiday time with the Navajoes. In this month are held many of the ceremonials of rejoicing, and much of the intertribal visiting with the Moquis, Yava-Supais and Apaches is done, visiting that is both for pleasure and for the barter of blankets and ponies for baskets and pottery and, with the Supais, for dried fruit and melons. The snake dance of the Moquis is attended yearly by hundreds of solemn Navajoes, who have no sneers for the mummeries of the hilltop people, but are willing to concede that the ceremonial is "good medicine" in the rainmaking line. In August the Indian traders usually give their "treats," great entertainments, combining the features of a Wild West show and a barbecue.

This year the most important of the "treats" was at Volz's store, at The Lakes, 17 miles north of Canyon Diablo station, on the Santa Fe railway. It was here that the untutored red man was introduced to one of the marvels of the century's closing decade. An enterprising Chicago photographer had brought his kinetoscope outfit to Wolpi to catch the details of the snake dance. He had been there the year before and, though he seemed to have had poor success in the Moqui villages, had caught the Navajoes at their sport at Volz's. This year, on the plain behind the store, on a canvas screen, he exhibited his moving pictures before an assemblage of 600 agitated aboriginals. As the Empire State express grew from a pin point in the distance until it filled the frame, seemingly rushing down upon the crowd, the Indians gasped in unison and would have fled had not the interpreter reassured them. The march past of soldiery was something that most of them had seen, but the exhibition drill of the Kansas City fire department was an uncanny mystery. But the climax came when the pictures taken on the same spot the preceding year were reproduced. Most of the Indians had been present when the pictures were taken. Many of them almost shrieked when they saw themselves in action as they were in the chicken pulling contest and in the races of last August. Last year a popular clerk, since gone away, had carelessly walked across the instrument's field. The Indians shouted as they saw him again on the canvas. Real enthusiasm was caused by the passage across the screen of the trader's well known little dog. Among the friends recognized a number had died in the winter in the smallpox epidemic. When the entertainment was over, the Indians crowded around the screen, feeling the canvas and rubbing their cheeks upon it, chattering noisily.

Those who believe that decadency is the heritage of the American Indian would do well to study this Navajo tribe. In 1868 it numbered 12,000 souls. Today, through natural increase and not through immigration, almost entirely without admixture of other blood, there are 22,000 Navajoes. Every individual tribesman appears prosperous. Many of the bucks are rich, even from the point of view of the white man. It is roughly though conservatively estimated that the tribe has 1,600,000 sheep, 60,000 head of cattle, 300,000 goats and horses in such number as almost to defy enumeration. Horseflesh, indeed, is one of the main food staples. The ponies, not necessarily of poor stock, are unsalable, even at $3 a head. Their flesh is esteemed fully equal to beef. A very large percentage of the wool crop is sold for shipment to Boston just as is the crop of the white wool grower. The Navajo blankets are still famous, though the better specimens are to be had only on payment of seemingly exorbitant prices. One of the main sources of the tribe's revenue is now from the sale of blankets that cost the purchaser little if any more than would blankets of ordinary mill manufacture. Most of this modern weaving is done, singular to relate, with ordinary Germantown yarn brought to Arizona for the Indians by the carload. If special colors are required by the Indian weavers, recourse is had to aniline dyes. Yet despite this strange admixture of aboriginal handicraft and modern convenience the Indian has never before so prospered.

FINE JOB WORK. The NEWS REVIEW job rooms are the best equipped in eastern Ohio, and we are consequently able to turn out large quantities of work on short notice.

UNION LABELS.

It should be a deep-rooted principle of all union workmen and union sympathizers, and particularly those members of the different organizations of East Liverpool, to buy nothing but Union Label goods, in preference to all others. And why not? If we ask fair wages for our labor, why should we buy goods made at unfair wages by others?

The Union Label in every industry is a guarantee of fair wages, decent working hours and union labor employed.

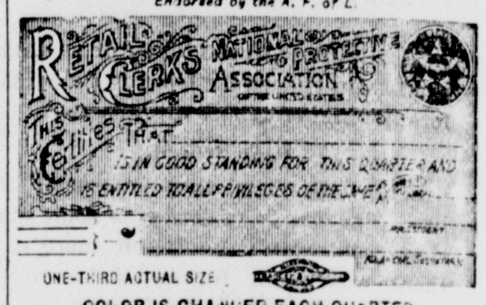

UNION PAPERS.

All Union papers of East Liverpool are known to the various craft and unions of the city by the printing of the above Union Labels at the head of their columns

PATRONIZE UNION CLERKS.

All members of the R. C. N. P. A. can show this card. Ask for it when making your purchases.

Endorsed by the A. F. of L.

COLOR IS CHANGED EACH QUARTER.

UNION MADE BOOTS AND SHOES.

The Boot and Shoe Workers' union is the national head of the trade, and is a new combination of all the branches of boot and shoe workers. The above trade-mark when found on the sole or lining of a boot or shoe, is a guarantee that the same is made by union labor. Look for the above design stamped on the sole of every pair of boots or shoes you buy.

CUSTOM TAILORS' LABEL.

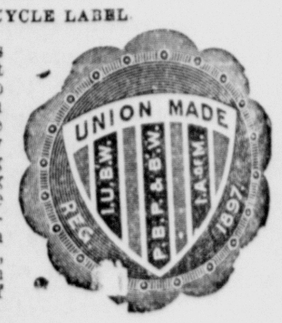

The Journeymen Tailor's Label is to be found in the inside breast pocket of the coat, on the under side of the buckle strap of the vest, and on the waistband lining of the pants. It is printed in black ink on white linen.

UNION MADE CLOTHES.

You will find the linen label attached by machine stitching to the inside breast pocket of the coat, on the inside of the buckle strap of the vest, and on the waistband lining of the pants

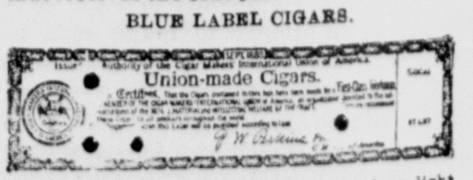

BICYCLE LABEL

"Do unto others as ye would that others should do unto you." You will endorse the "Golden Rule" by buying and riding bicycles bearing this Label. The colors are as follows: The Union shield is in red, white and blue, on a background of pea green, bordered by gold

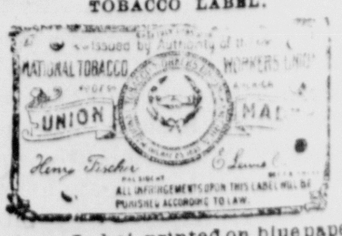

The Label will be placed on the upper front side of the tube that receives the seat post.

BLUE LABEL CIGARS.

This label is printed in black ink on light blue paper, and is pasted on the cigar-box. Don't mix it up with the U. S. revenue label on the box, as the latter is nearly of a similar color.

TOBACCO LABEL.

UNION BREAD AND CRACKERS.

This is a full size facsimile of the Label of the Bakers' and Confectioners' union. It is printed on fine white paper and is pasted on each loaf of union-made bread. It is an evidence that the bread is made under fair and wholesome conditions, and in clean and healthy bakeshops. Following is the confectioners' and cracker Label:

M'LEAN'S ORGANIZATION

IT WILL COST OVER $500,000,

But He Has Money to Burn and Proposes to Use It Without Limit — But It Isn't a Democratic Year This Time, and John R. and His Barrel Will Be Repudiated by the People.

The Republican state committee is in full possession of the general plan of organization which Mr. McLean proposes to pursue. They have it from the lips of a man to whom McLean intrusted it, and nobody would be surprised to be told that it calls for an expenditure of over half a million dollars on "organization." No wonder the Democratic heelers are chuckling over McLean's "great ability" as an organizer.

The entire plan is not disclosed by the Republican committee, but it contemplates the hiring of men outright in each precinct in the state to give all their time to McLean for the balance of the campaign and to receive the modest remuneration of $3 per day.

The McLean lieutenants, previous to the Zanesville convention, did not waste any time in telling about McLean's devotion to the principles of the Democratic party. Bernard, Norton, Reemelin, Cogan, Brady and Ike Hill did not urge McLean's candidacy because of his record as a high-minded Democrat. "McLean is an organizer!" they shouted, and the Zanesville delegates were convinced. McLean's work in organizing his forces for the convention was self-evident. After the convention, when he was denounced from all quarters, his lieutenants came back with the old cry, "He is an organizer!" That was their defense.

The whole McLean scheme of organization had been discussed and elaborated before his nomination. The McLeanites made no secret of the part money would play in organization. The delegates to the Zanesville convention were told that McLean would spend from half a million to a million dollars to be elected.

The McLean plans contemplate a "precinct organization." There are about 3,000 election precincts in Ohio, each precinct having about 300 voters. In the large cities a total vote exceeding 450 was cast in many precincts. When townships are divided into precincts the precinct vote usually falls short of 300. The McLean organization contemplates the appointment of one precinct supervisor in every precinct in the state.

Immediately after the Zanesville convention the congressional district supervisors were chosen, and as rapidly as possible since the county supervisors have been named. The congressional district supervisors are to have supervision over all the counties in their districts. A list of precinct supervisors is prepared by each county supervisor as soon after his appointment as possible and sent to Louie Bernard. These names are immediately placed on the McLean payroll and orders sent to the county supervisor to put the men to work.

The congressional and county supervisors will be recompensed in various ways. All will receive remuneration in cash, according to a sliding scale, based on the relative importance of the work in the various districts and counties. In addition to this there will be promises of personal appointment or state patronage, to be fulfilled in the event of McLean's election.

The precinct is the unit of the plan. Every McLean lieutenant is laying enormous stress on the precinct. The importance of naming only good men, who are hustlers and who will obey every order from headquarters without question, "just as a soldier would," has been strongly impressed on the county supervisors.

EVERY PRECINCT SUPERVISOR WILL RECEIVE $3 PER DAY FROM THE DAY OF HIS APPOINTMENT TO NOV. 8, 1899.

As the majority of the precinct supervisors have already been appointed it is fair to estimate the average time during which each supervisor is employed in the McLean campaign at eight weeks. The average pay of each supervisor is $21 per week, or $168 for eight weeks. On this basis, the pay of the 3,000 supervisors in Ohio will aggregate $504,000!

Each precinct supervisor will devote his entire time until election day to perfecting the organization of his precinct. He will personally visit every voter in the precinct. He will be furnished a fund to "treat the boys right." He will circulate every story, truth or lie, that he receives from headquarters. when ordered to do so. He will mingle in every gathering in his precinct and adapt himself to every crowd in which he finds himself, and all the time he will sound the praises of John R. McLean. He will ignore every local Democratic ticket, except when absolutely necessary, but it will be his duty to see that every candidate on his local ticket and the candidate's friends are hustling for McLean.

Taken altogether, the exposure of McLean's plan of campaign bears out McLean's statement made in a private conversation before he left his home in Washington, that he would put $500,000 into this campaign, and makes it certain that he has had assurances of an additional $250,000 from the Silver trust in the desperate effort to make a good showing this fall in Ohio.

Referring to the campaign of 1883, Allen O. Myers, in his book, "Bosses and Boodle," says, "Mr. McLean claimed to have expended $100,000 in helping carry Hamilton county and elect a legislature."

If McLean was willing to spend $100,000 in Hamilton county alone, simply to defeat Pendleton for senator, it is easy to believe that he will spend three-quarters of a million dollars in the effort to become governor of Ohio, and possibly the Democratic nominee for president.

This, however, is a different year from 1883 in every respect, and even the whole of Mr. McLean's enormous fortune, if it were poured out to secure success, would fail signally and ignominiously.

FACTS ON LYNCHINGS

A Detailed Statement Shows That Although Democrats Control Only 15 States, Yet They Have 140 Out of 166 Lynchings to Their Credit.

That great apostle of the colored people, the Hon. Frederick Douglass, frequently warned his brethren against supporting the Democratic party. He once wrote to a friend saying:

"Never let it be a fact that my brethren in this country have turned from the Republican party that has always befriended them, to give support to the Democratic party that has always been their foe. Let me warn them against this."

A detailed statement of the lynchings for 1897 emphasizes the warning of this magnificent leader, now passed to the great beyond.

Democratic States.

Alabama, 19; Arkansas, 11; Florida, 12; Georgia, 14; Kentucky, 7; Louisiana, 14; Mississippi, 16; Missouri, 4; South Carolina, 6; Tennessee, 7; Texas, 25; Virginia, 5; total, 140.

Republican States.

Silver or Populist States.

Territories, 7.

The Democrats control 15 states of the Union which have 140 lynchings to their account.

The Republicans control 32 states, which have 13 lynchings to answer for. Less than one-half as many Democratic states show over ten-fold the number of lynchings as the Republican states. In other words 20 lynchings occur in Democratic states to one in a Republican state.

In view of these facts it would seem to be in order for the Democrats of Ohio to call a convention of all the Democratic states of the union and formulate a plank denouncing these Democratic lynching parties. Until they do that the colored people of Ohio will be justified in accepting that Zanesville plank for what it is worth —the paper it is written on.

PENSION ATTORNEYS.

Why They Are Attacking Commissioner Evans.

It turns out that attacks upon Pension Commissioner Evans are largely due to the fact that he has dropped from the roll of claim agents and pension attorneys more than 30,000 men. When he came into office the names of more than 50,000 attorneys were on the record of the pension office, and today the number is 18,491. Many of these names have been dropped because of fraudulent practices. The amount paid to the claim agents last year was $476,900, compared with $730,000 in the preceding year, a saving of $253,100 to the veterans and a loss of that amount to the claim agents. Hence, the dissatisfaction of the agents and the vigor of the fight which they have waged against Mr. Evans.

A Hen Hunt.

An English paper says that the hat of a certain shortsighted master at Eton blew off one day, and as he started in pursuit a black hen dashed out of the gateway. The schoolmaster saw the hen and thought it was his hat and all Eton was electrified by the spectacle of a hatless and breathless reverend man hunting a black hen from one end of the street to the other

"Doctors failed to reach my case and advised me to try a higher air."

There is no greater irony than a recommendation of change of climate to those whose circumstances make change of climate impossible. How many a sufferer in such a case has wistfully watched the flight of the south-seeking birds, and cried with the Psalmist, "Oh that I had wings." But suppose you can fit the lungs to the climate instead of fitting the climate to the lungs. That is what has been found possible by those who have used Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It so purifies the blood, removing the clogged and poisonous conditions favorable to disease, that the whole body is strengthened. With new strength comes new power, and disease is resisted and thrown off.

There is no alcohol, whisky or other intoxicant contained in

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery.

"I feel that I owe a debt of gratitude to you for preparing such grand remedies, for chronic diseases especially, which the doctors failed to reach," writes I. B. Staples, Esq., of Barclay, Osage Co., Kans. "I am a railroad agent, and four years ago my work keeping me in a warm room and stepping out frequently into the cold air gave me bronchitis, which became chronic and deep seated. Doctors failed to reach my case and advised me to try a higher air, but, fortunately for me, a friend also advised me to try Dr. Pierce's medicines. I commenced taking your 'Golden Medical Discovery,' and by the time I had taken the first bottle I was better, and after taking about four bottles my cough was entirely gone. This was a year ago last winter; and again last winter I took about three bottles to prevent a return of the trouble. I have found no necessity for seeking another climate."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are powerful aids to the cleansing of the clogged system. By all dealers in medicine.

THE ANTIS' MASK.

It is a signicant fact that the ardent advocates of free silver are most effusive in expressing sympathy for Aguinaldo, the cunning Filipino, who incited the unprovoked assault upon our gallant soldiers and the stars and stripes in the Philippines. They know that they dare not again go before the American people with their ruinous financial policy of free silver. They therefore attempt to slip into power under cover of a false sentimentalism in favor of semi-barbaric rebels. If successful they will bring disaster to the Philippine islands by turning them over to the self-seeking, treacherous young Tagal chief, and financial and industrial ruin to our own country will come by their efforts to make the silver mine owners rich by the free coinage of silver.

Eternal vigilance is the price of prosperity, as well as of liberty. Unmask the Democratic anti-expansionist and you are face to face with the free silver fanatic.

Our Flag the Same Everywhere.

The patriotic utterance of President McKinley at Ocean Grove, N. J., has found enthusiastic endorsement in the heart of every loyal American. He said:

"Our flag does not mean one thing in the United States and another thing in Porto Rico and the Philippines."

Those who appear to be fearful lest the stars and stripes shall be the emblem of despotism in the Philippines will do well to consider these weighty words of the president.

The Stars and Stripes stands for peace, law and order today in the Philippines. When those first requisites of government are won, it will reflect the honest and honorable intentions of the American people to give the Filipinos the best government possible with the fullest measure of self-government the natives are capable of. Every star on the glorious old banner shines brighter for the duty it is performing toward the civilization of the Orient.

Our workingmen are not only kept busy earning money, but every dollar they earn is worth 100 cents in purchasing power in gold standard countries, and 200 cents in silver standard countries.

Wants a Copy of the New Expansion Atlas, Published by Rand McNally, and Now Being Given Away by the News Review---Read What It Is Like---Call and See It.

The News Review has just closed a contract with Rand, McNally & Co., of Chicago, the famous map publishers, for the exclusive sale and distribution of the new Rand McNally

Expansion Atlas

In this city and vicinity.

This is the revised edition and is right up to date. It contains general maps covering every part of the world, complete and accurate, but its special interest is found in the new maps and descriptive matter pertaining to the

New American Colonies,

The Phliippines, Hawaii, Porto Rico, Cuba, Manila and vicinity, including a chronology of all the important events of the Spanish-American war.

The Dewey Souvenir,

A handsomely engraved colored plate, containing excellent portraits of Admirals Dewey and Farragut and the American naval commanders in the Orient, forms the frontispiece of the book. In the center is a beautiful picture in colors of the Battle of Manila Bay, showing the position of each of the American and Spanish vessels and the scenery of the bay, drawn from official descriptions

Photographs

Of the leading American war ships and portraits of all the presidents are also shown. All the maps are fully and completely indexed so that it is possible in a moment to find any place desired. Population, area and other interesting information is given briefly and accurately up to date.

The map showing how the United States have expanded since the foundation of this government is one of the most valuable features of the book, as it shows

The News Review proposes to GIVE AWAY one copy of the Expansion Atlas to each new subscriber who pays in advance

Good Convention For Editors.

Editors were considerably favored at the Ohio Democratic state convention in Zanesville. An editor was nominated for governor, a former editor nominated for lieutenant governor, an editor was nominated for treasurer. More than this, the son of a Coshocton Democratic paper was sergeant-at-arms of the convention.

Anthracite Production In August.

The production of anthracite coal in August, according to the official estimate, was 4,257,000 tons, against 3,783,000 tons in August, 1898, 4,086,900 in 1897, and 3,949,000 in 1896.

Threat of Strike Stopped Them.

CLEVELAND, Sept. 19.—The Cleveland and Pittsburg and New York, Pennsylvania and Ohio ore docks are in operation again after having been tied up two days by the picnic of the ore handlers. The men had heard that the dock managers intended to put new handlers in their places. A strike on all the ore docks on the lake was threatened, so the matter was dropped.

TROOPS PRESERVE PEACE.

Arrests Made of Suspected Rioters In Illinois—Five, Instead of Seven, Dead Negroes.

SPRINGFIELD, Ills., Sept. 19.—Governor Tanner had a message from Carterville from Colonel Bennett, in charge of the troops there. He reported all quiet and said he feared no other outbreak.

A message from Sheriff Gray stated that 27 of the men supposed to have been implicated in the riot had been arrested, charged with murder, and had been locked up in the county jail at Marion. He asked the governor for a detail of soldiers to guard the jail. The governor sent an order for them.

CARTERVILLE, Ills., Sept. 19.—Five negroes instead of seven were killed in the fight between white and colored miners here. Four more were seriously wounded, but are expected to recover.

Company F of Mt. Vernon, 40 strong, arrived. Company B of Newton was expected to arrive. No further trouble may be expected as long as the militia is here.

ALGER ANNOUNCED WITHDRAWAL.

DETROIT, Sept. 19.—General R. A. Alger gave out a letter written by himself in New York Sept. 8, in which he announces his withdrawal from candidacy for United States senator. The letter is as follows:

THE WALDORF-ASTORIA,
NEW YORK, Sept. 8.

MY DEAR MR. JUDSON—After careful consideration I have decided not to be a candidate for the United States senate. My reasons for this determination are personal and of a business nature.

I fully appreciate and thank you and my many other friends for offered support, and hope to be able in the future to show my gratitude for all that has been done for me by the people of our state. I am, my dear sir, sincerely yours, R. A. ALGER.

Hon. William Judson, Ann Arbor, Mich.

PITTSBURG, Sept. 19.—Jacob Smith, aged 14 years, was dragged to death by a cow at McKeesport. A rope was attached to the horns of the cow and he tied the end of the rope around his waist. When near the schoolhouse the cow became frightened and began to run. The boy could not control her nor free himself from the rope. He was soon thrown and dragged along the street. When the cow was cornered the boy was dead.

Deaths From Plague.

Reappointed Dr. Rothrock.
